DREW PLANS PEACE DAY

Program For National Peace Demonstration

Friday, April 12 is the eighteenth anniversary of the entrance of the United States into the World War. That devastating slaughter blotted out 10,000,000 lives and destroyed billions of dollars worth of property. Yet, present tendencies in the life of nations seem to indicate that they have not yet learned their lesson. There are some people, however, who believe that war can be stopped and must be stopped.

On the morning of April 12, at eleven o'clock, 100,000 young people in colleges and secondary schools throughout the United States will show the world that they abhor war. The students of Drew University are planning to take a part in this nation-wide demonstration.

At a preliminary meeting on March 28, student opinion favored a sane consideration of the problem of war, and determination of some constructive action which we at Drew might take in helping to influence our own nation, and so, the world in abolishing this terror of mankind. The committee appointed by the chairman of that meeting has prepared a program with these aims in view.

We expect that at 7:45 on the evening of April 11, Charles Rand Kennedy's play, "The Terrible Meek" will be presented in the Methodist Episcopal Church of Madison. This promises to be

Class Elections

Officers Chosen for Classes '36, '37, '38

Along with the first signs of spring, election of next year's class officers invaded the quietude of the campus. It brought along the usual number of upsets and "heart rending" defeats.

For next year's Sophomore class the following men were elected:

President Dudley Ingerson
Vice President Richard Palmer
Secretary William Simpson
Treasurer Paul Corson
Student Council Representative Ernest Arthur

For next year's Junior class the officers are:

President Charles Sutton
Vice President Emil Knust
Secretary Leighton Pitkin
Treasurer William McKinley
Student Council Representative Fred Weihe

The Seniors elected the following:

Debaters Win Another

Attack Dickinson and Allegheny

The Drew Team defeated the Union County Junior College last Friday night at Roselle. Mr. Stone, Debate Coach of Roselle High School acted as critic-judge and gave the decision to Drew by a score of 7-3. Drew was represented by McCracken, Burrell, and Arthur who defended the affirmative of the question: Resolved, that the nations should agree to prevent the international shipment of arms and munitions. Sidney Gottlieb, Arthur Smith, and Harold Hennig upheld the negative for Union with the contention that under the plan proposed, the smaller nations would be at a disadvantage and further that munitions must be defined as all the raw materials needed for the carrying on of a war-time economy.

Drew had previously lost to Ursinus on the same side of the same question. In this debate, held at Drew, Burdett and Arthur got considerably the worst of it.

Next week Lewis, Leinthal and Burdett will travel to Carlisle, Pa., to debate Dickinson on the same question. This debate will be held Monday night and Tuesday the team will travel to Meadville to meet our old rivals, Allegheny. At Allegheny the debate will be held on the Oregon style with Drew upholding the affirmative of

THE NEW BALLOT AND HOW TO USE IT

This year there will be instituted the Optional Preferential Ballot for the student body elections next Tuesday. This ballot provides the voter with one of two methods of voting. It may be used as a straight ballot, in which case you merely mark your one choice from among the candidates for each office; or it may be used as a preferential ballot on which you vote for all the candidates listed in order of your own preference. Full directions are printed on every ballot.

While either the straight vote or the preferential vote is acceptable as an official ballot, there are very decided advantages in the preferential system of marking your own ballot. If you mark your ballot simply with your one choice for office, that man will re-

STUDENT BODY ELECTIONS TUESDAY, APRIL 9TH

Poles Open 9:00 A. M.-
3:30 P. M.

According to the newly amended Constitution the elections should be held on the second Monday of April, but as that day has been set aside as a field trip day and many students would be so barred from voting, the day of voting has been automatically changed this year to the following Tuesday. The spirit of high competition in the air bids fair for a record high percentage of voters, and early voters. This is accepted by many older students as a very encouraging sign.

Mr. Clarence Harrison has been appointed Chairman of the board of Election. At date of going to press the names of his assistants could not be ascertained, but notice will be made before the day of election. This also applies to the place of the poles which is left to the decision of the chairman of elections. Everything indicates a fair election and with the new type of ballot, and a better understanding of its working a very satisfactory election is expected. For your protection we advise each one of our reader-voters to review carefully the special ballot article on the front page of this Acorn. Perhaps it may eventually save your ballot from being discarded uncounted.

Iatesta And Williams Head List of Candidates

The interest shown this year in the coming elections has exceeded that of any other year in the memory of present students, as demonstrated by the excitement which started even before last Monday's Nomination Convention. By action of the student council referendum to amend the constitution of the student body were drawn up and their sanction by the student body at a automatically amended the constitution in the matter of student elections and the date for voting was officially advanced one month in the year's calendar. From that time on Caucuses, minor conventions, party gatherings, and the like have been in evidence.

At the Nomination Convention last Monday the following men were nominated for student offices. Mahlon Smith, Jr., present Editor-in-chief of the Acorn announced the following men as those eligible according to the constitution for his office next year: Philip Burdett, this year's News Editor; Robert Williams, this year's Business Manager; Julien Campbell, William Russo, Herman Estrin, and Anthony Di Benedetto, all assistants on the present year's staff. These men were then declared by the president automatically nominated for the office.

For President of the Student Council the following men were nominated: Wilson Cannon, Matthew Iatesta, and

STUDENT ENTHUSIASM LEADS TO FORMATION OF CHORUS

Under the able leadership of Maestro Baez the Drew Chorus was organized a few weeks ago. Members at the present time include about twenty-five and during the noon hour one may hear their lusty voices booming throughout the length of the halls. It is indeed an art to sweeten the roaring voices of such college students and the chorus is very fortunate in having such able leadership of Mr. Baez who has a thorough musical foundation. From the cradle up Mr. Baez has been interested in the art of vocal expression. Today he is in a position to give to the members of the chorus the benefits of his wide experience.

Although there are at present almost 25 members, prospective applicants may have their vocal chords tested by applying to Mr. Baez.

ATHLETICS

With a large part of the student body we believe that a revision should be made in the system of athletic control at Brothers College. This is not to be construed as a complaint against any who have served or are serving upon the present Extra-Classroom Activities Committee, but as a criticism of that system which groups all sports together with club activities under the one classification, "Extra-classroom Activities."

In the first place, our athletics in these few years have grown to be as varied and important as all other non-curricular activities, and as such deserve and need administration by a special athletic council. To have baseball, basketball, tennis, fencing, and other sports grouped under the same heading with literary, language, debating, and chess clubs is a very inefficient system, the inadequacies of which will hamper future successes and the fostering of traditions more than any other single factor we face today.

The inefficiencies of our present non-representative system of control lead to difficulties both remote and immediate. A significant part of every student activity fee is devoted each year to athletics toward financing the various sport budgets. The division of this and of any other athletic funds granted by the university should be made by a council on which every recognized sport is truly represented. So too, with the matters of schedules, equipment, recognition, etc., should there be true representation.

We, therefore, suggest to the administration that the present Extra Classroom Activities Committee be augmented by an Athletic Council for the supervision of all recognized sports. We further recommend that this council be composed of the manager and captain (or other chosen representative) of each recognized sport, the coach (if any) of each, and adequate faculty advisers.

Such an organization would afford true representation to each sport, and provide a governing body whose scope would be limited within the bounds of efficient accomplishment. The representation factor would render more equitably apportioned budgets for each team, and would promote and foster a greater feeling of unity and solidarity among the sports at Drew. The present lack of those advantages is one of the gravest menaces to the future of Drew's athletic program.

The more limited interests of an athletic council as against the vast scope of the present system would permit necessary accomplishments which are now physically impossible. The institution of a Varsity Letter Club, appropriate recognition of team accomplishments, and adequate display of all athletic records and trophies are essential to the establishment of athletics at their best. They must be sponsored by an athletic board of control. They can never be done by a small committee the jurisdiction of which covers everything from authorizing a baseball schedule to drawing up rules for the use of a Radio-phonograph.

Let us remember that exercise is but one of the values in a modern athletic program. If that were all, a program of calisthenics and walking might well be substituted for college athletics. Competitive sports, however, when properly managed, provide valuable traditions for a school, a vital link between physical and mental growth, and genuine character training for later life in a competitive world. If athletics are considered worth-while at Drew, they are worth doing well. We should get the full measure of value from them, and we never will be able to do so until we adopt a new system of administration which can foster these matters.

BEARDING THE LION

(From The Daily Princetonian)

"In the course of the past 50 years I have talked with Presidents of the United States, Senators, Justices of the Supreme Court, members of the House of Representatives, governors, mayors, bankers, editors, college presidents (including Charles W. Eliot), leading men of science, Nobel Prize winners in science and letters, I have never found one single person who for talents and character commands the respect of the American people, who has not agreed with me that William Randolph Hearst has pandered to depraved tastes and has been an enemy of everything that is noblest and best in the American tradition. Alfred Smith—a true friend of public education—added to his many deserved laurels when before a cheering multitude in New York City he defied Mr. Hearst. The answer of the people of New York was final and conclusive.

"There is not a cesspool of vice and crime which Hearst has not raked and exploited for money making purposes. No person with intellectual honesty or moral integrity will touch him with a ten-foot pole for any purpose or to gain any end. Unless those who represent American scholarship, science, and the right of a free people to discuss public questions freely, stand together against insidious influences, he will assassinate them individually by every method known to his yellow press. Only cowards can be intimidated by Hearst."

We could add little to those words spoken recently by Charles A. Board at the annual convention of the Social Frontier in Atlantic City. It was upon Mr. Hearst that justified and bitter invective which the American college press feels is his due; it leaves no possible room for commendation; it is as damning an accusation as men can speak.

EDITOR'S MAIL

The Editor of the Acorn,

For some time it has been rumored that there is in existence, in our school, a sort of spy system. Recent developments have conclusively proven that such a system really exists.

Most of the thinking students look with contempt upon any one who would lower himself to the extent of being a part of this so called "stooge system."

I wish personally to register an emphatic complaint against those responsible for the creation of the system. It would seem that when a man has reached the intellectual and moral maturity of college age it is entirely unnecessary for a professor or an official of our school to check up on his activities.

While it is obvious that a few of our student body need guidance in matters outside the classroom the fact remains that any spy system is obnoxious to a real man.

SPECIAL LENTEN SERVICES

The Chapel Committee under the special guidance of Professor Young, its chairman, has inaugurated this year a series of College Lenten Meditations. These services were planned in direct response to the expressed desire on the part of many students for some such offering. The services have been and shall continue to be held until vacation on Tuesday Evenings at 7:00 in Baldwin Hall. The College has been very fortunate in the fine type of minister which Doctor Young has been able to secure for these services. To date the Reverend Messrs. Paul Dennis, James Howard, Kenneth Miller, and Robert Biggerstaff have addressed those men who have felt the need of such services during this particular Holy Season. Next week on April 9th, the concluding service of this series will be held. As the entire program has been by way of an experiment, and as the final speaker will be the well known Reverend Mr. Victor Mori from the local Episcopalian Church many men will wish to be in attendance.

NEW CLUB FORMED ON CAMPUS

Two or three weeks ago seven Brothers College students met in the Faculty meeting room and organized a stamp club. A club of this type is a new adventure at Brothers College. The name of the new club is "The Drew Philatelic Society" and Dr. John K. Benton is the faculty advisor. The purpose of the club is to foster interest in stamp-collecting through the study of history, biography and other associated subjects.

Charter members are: Sawyer, Ingerson, Jameson, Boatman, Turner, Kohan and Reckhow. Northrup, Durr and one or two other fellows have joined also. The meetings are on Wednesdays in Room 106. The officers of the club are: President, Herbert Sawyer, Vice-President, Howard Reckhow, Secretary, C. Dudley Ingerson, Treasurer, Thomas Jameson. Reckhow is chairman of the program committee and as such is doing a fine piece of work. Ingerson spoke on the Royal Family of Holland at the last meeting. His talk was illustrated with appropriate stamps showing the lineage of that small, central European country. Herbert Sawyer is to speak on Variations in Plates of Stamps next meeting. An expert from Morristown will speak at an early meeting—probably the Wednesday after spring vacation.

FENCERS CLOSE SEASON WITH VICTORY

The Drew University Fencing Team closed its season last Saturday by defeating Lehigh to the tune of 11-6. Inspired by the fine work of Captain Van Gilder the fencers assumed an early lead which was never seriously endangered. Naturally the trip home was filled with much rejoicing and enthusiasm over the victory.

Now that the fencing season is over, perhaps it is opportune to congratulate the fencing team on the most successful season in its history. The team engaged such powerful opponents as Hamilton, Lehigh, Colgate, and because of its spirit emerged with the scalps of over half its foes. The outstanding star of this season was Al Wilson who lost only one match during the entire year. He was the talk of both the Colgate and Hamilton coaches and rumor has it that negotiations are under way for a scholarship to Columbia.

Those who will be awarded letters this year include, Van Gilder (Captain), Dennis, Lacey, Senior, Wilson, Smith, Gungel, Bergman, Beck, and Herslow.

SPORTS WASTEBASKET

Knees and ankles, the vulnerable spots of baseball players. Bergman was forced to quit the team because of an injured knee. Kenderdine sprained his ankle just before he left the squad and Van Gilder in centerfield has a bad left knee.

Barclay calls himself the playing manager copying the newest big league tradition. He plays third for the Yannigans in their games with the Regulars. Bill Russo cavorts around the short field next to Barclay. He picks them up with the greatest of ease, but he needs a mask when it comes to catching pop flies.

"Doc" manages to keep warm in the balmy air of spring. He had, according to official count, seven sweaters when he came out for practice the other day.

Bob Sutton has pitched several times in batting practice. He has developed a tricky knuckle ball, and his hook has a faster break than any he ever threw under Drew colors.

The tennis season approaches and even now the familiar twang of the ball against the gut can be heard in the gym. An ambitious schedule is planned and after last year's successful season great things are expected.

NOTICE FOR THE SPRING DANCE WEEK-END

At this early date the Social Committee is not yet prepared to issue a definite statement as to the program for the final and climactic event of the College social season. There is promised, however, to all who attend a grand time that will be second to nothing in Drew's social annals in point of music, originality, and exciting arrangements. We issue a simple warning. As you will most certainly want to be present, we recommend your missing a few movies and saving some of the allowance. The dance will be on May 3rd and 4th. It will be reasonable, very reasonable, and you will not want to miss it because you bought just one too many sodas or attended one too many poor movies. For final announcements watch carefully for the next number of the Acorn, our Special Spring Formal Number.

DRAMATICS

Continuing the policy of having as much of the work as possible done by the students, the dramatics class is preparing more presentations of original plays. The second performance of a group of one-act plays under the direction of John Vaughan was given recently for those who were unable to see the first presentation. The original play by Mr. Vaughan, "Going Down", was particularly well received.

In the near future, Mr. William McKinley will have charge of a program which will include an original play, "Althea" by Mr. McKinley, and another short play, "Please Do Not Pick the Flowers", by Hughes. A little later Mr. Spofford and Mr. Sutton will present plays on which they are now working.

Plans are progressing for the one-act play competition. The Drew selection has been made at last. The Foresters will present, "Seven Against One" by Maxine Finsterwald. The Foresters won the Harry E. Bradshaw trophy last year and are hoping to repeat this year.

BASBALL TEAM SHAPING UP

"Doc" Young's charges have passed through a month of hard training and with the exception of a few sore arms, the members of his squad are in excellent condition.

However, two vital blows have been struck. Kenderdine, who would have been an able substitute in the outfield is definitely out for the season because of illness. Maxie Bergman, destined for a regular berth in the mid-pasture, cannot play this year because of a trick knee. The loss of his heavy hitting and steady fielding will severely handicap the team.

Doc has moved Van Gilder from his two year position at third to centerfield. Gungel, a first year man, is playing third and is showing great form. He is gaining confidence every day and by the time the first game rolls around he should hit his stride both in the hitting and fielding departments.

Right field is patrolled by "Red" Almond. His defensive play is not yet sure but he is rapidly approaching the point at which a fly ball becomes just another of those things.

The speed merchant and lead-off hitter, Ferdie Marcial, holds down his old position of left field.

In the infield there is Bob Smith on first, a more congenial spot for him than was his right field position last year. "Cutie" Iatesta is the second sacker. A port side hitter, a sweet fielder, and a good pivot man, "Cutie" brings much needed strength to the team. At the short field is the old master himself, Carlos Marcial whose arm is a source of delight to the spectators at the practice sessions.

Knust and Strange form the battery for the team. "Dutch" is showing plenty of ability on the receiving end and his pepper keeps the whole infield on its toes. His hitting, however, is a bit weak. Strange is coming around gradually. His fast ball is showing plenty of zip and, while he is limiting the number of hooks he throws, he still shows his old ability of controlling a fast breaking curve.

Barring injuries, the team will take the field as stated for the opening game with Webb on the 27th. We offer odds on Drew's winning handily.

TENNIS TEAM

Prospects for the most successful tennis season in the history of tennis in Brothers College were in evidence at the first call for tennis candidates last Friday afternoon, March 29th. With four lettermen returning and a large number of enthusiastic first year men to push them for their places on the team, it looks like the ambitious twelve-match schedule will be successfully completed.

At the meeting there were the four letter men from last year's team: Stuart Salny, Joe Tamovitz, Julien Campbell, and Arnold Spofford. These men probably have their places on the team clinched, but the other two positions probably will be filled by two of the following men: Raymond King, George Northrup, Alpheus Robbins, Philip Burdett, Cecil Wright, or Robert Hamilton, unless some other candidates for the team come out and show up better. Frank Morris, William Kapp, and Everett Palmer are candidates for assistant manager.

Stuart Salny, who is more responsible for tennis being a major sport at Drew than any other one person, acted as chairman for the meeting and pointed out the tentative plans for the coming season. Prefacing his remarks with a brief history of the tennis team, he suggested that the ladder system of ranking be used this year as it was generally used the last two years. The first ranking will probably be made on the basis of the fall tournament, and thereafter matches will be played among the team members to determine the ranking.

Manager Morris Fine announced a twelve-match schedule which is as follows:

April 25, Upsala	Home
" 27, Webb	Home
May 2, Panzer	Away
" 3, New York State Teachers College	[Home]
" 8, Moravian	Away

INTENATS. MEET

The International Relations Club held its last meeting on Wednesday evening, March 27th, in the Tolley Rooms. As is the custom, a paper is read by one of the members on some subject of International importance in which the member is particularly interested. Mr. Elbridge Smith read a paper on the Philippine Independence. The reading was followed by a discussion.

Mr. Robert Smith will be in charge of the meeting on April 24th.

PEACE PLANS

a very fitting introduction to our activities of the following morning. Be sure to see it. Then come to the University Chapel at 11:00 A. M., on April 12.

Four students will give short comprehensive addresses, each of which will deal with some significant aspect of the problem of war:

1. Guilty or Not Guilty? To what extent will the United States be responsible for the next war, considering her attitude and activities in international relations during the past eighteen years?—Daniel Lee.

2. If Europe or Asia Fights, What? Will it be possible to restrain the war hysteria in our own country? If so, how? What can our country do?—Philip Burdett.

3. Awakened Youth. The opinion of youth is being considered more and more by those who are at the head of the government. What has youth done, and what is youth doing?—Al Robbins.

4. Peace Bound. We want peace. What can we who are youth do?—Richard Buckingham.

Following these short addresses, Dr. Dorr Diefendorf will take charge of the discussion period which will be open for suggestions from the floor, and it is hoped that some definite action will be taken by the body assembled, leading to continued constructive activity by the students at Drew.

DEBATE

the question: Resolved, that the manufacture and sale of arms and munitions should be a monopoly of the state. It is against the policy of the Allegheny team to have decisions so the team will come back with only their own word for their success or failure.

This season has consisted of six debates. Drew won the first two against the formidable opponents, Middlebury and Wesleyan. The next one was dropped to Ursinus and then a third was won from Union County Junior College. Dickinson and Allegheny remain to finish the season. The team has made a good showing particularly since many of the men were new and since the team has been working under a new coach. Mr. Pooley has given freely of his time and energy and has rendered invaluable aid to the team.

FORUM

At a recent business of the Brothers College Forum, it was decided that the group had developed enough to warrant a more systematized organization. The following officers were elected: Guy Leinthal, president; Haller Lewis, secretary; and David MacCracken, teller. These men are to hold their office for the rest of this semester, at the end of which time, new officers will be elected.

At the first discussion meeting of the new semester, the question, "Resolved, that in the opinion of this House Huey Long is a menace to the well being of the American people", was considered. The affirmative was supported by Alpheus Robbins; the negative, by Haller Lewis. The decision of the house was nine to four in favor of the negative. Prof. Norman Guy was the critic

GOSSIP GALORE...Drew campus is now experiencing one of its most exciting and momentous weeks of the present school year. Peace demonstrations, student elections, and baseball are but a few of the ingredients in the verbal hash now being freely distributed in classroom and corridor. Discussion and debate are the order of the day. The ancient art of forensics is back in vogue. Only the other day a group of students sat for several hours in the lounge room, each a participant in a raging controversy over the question of disarmament.

YOUR SCRIBE is a bit puzzled over the advantages to be derived from such a thing as a peace demonstration. Outside of giving the University a bit of much needed publicity, we fail to see its value. We're all for peace, that's certain. But to go into antics about it, in our opinion, is simply evidence of a pedantic and impractical outlook on a tremendous world problem. We hope Editor Smith will forgive our editorialization.

It has also been decided that the Forum will sponsor a series of interclass debates. The matter was taken up with the several classes, and each promised his support.

The First of these interclass debates will take place on April 4th. The following question will be considered: Resolved: That in the interest of world peace, our proposed naval manouvres in the Pacific ought to be cancelled. The affirmative will be supported by the sophomores, represented by Robbins, Turner, and Russo. The freshmen who support the negative are Phillips, Page, and Palmer (alternate).
