BROTHERS COLLEGE, MADISON, N. J.

MARCH 5, 1954

Field Trips To Be Compulsory Anderson New Seminary Dean; For Prospective B. C. Students; Chapel Dedicated To Dean Craig Program To Begin Next Year

by Carole Smolensky

The Field Trip Committee has obtained approval to implement recent faculty action to reinstate a General Field Trip Program during the first and second college years. This general program of field trips will be reinstated during the 1954-55 academic year. This requirement will apply only to those students entering college after the program has been reinstated.

Theatre, Art and Music, Religious Institutions, Explorations in Science, Social Institutions and Sports Events are the "area of field trips" that will be required of all first and second year students. The faculty personnel of the several groups and/or divisions will rotate in accompanying the student groups. The faculty groups will be requested to prepare the necessary directions, outline, syllabus for two or three general field trips within the "areas" This General Field Program which was previously in effect where we being reinstated in hopes is now being reinstated in hopes that future field trips crossing divisional and departmental lines will be encouraged.

The students will be assigned to the several trips to simplify administrative procedures. The student wno fails to complete any one of the area field trips, unless he is excused for illness or an equivalent reason, will be or an equivalent reason, will be assigned to another trip in the same area at a later date with a minimum charge of $2.00 for additional costs involved. If illness or an equivalent excuse is accepted, the student will be reassigned to the same field trip without additional expense.

Annual Fee

All students participating in the General Field Trip Program will be assessed an annual fee of will be assessed an annual fee of $15.00 to cover costs of arrangement, transportation, and meals. This fee is considered adequate to pay for all costs connected with three required field trips. This General Field Program which was previously in effect required six field trips per year. The field trip budget and account will be a continuing one and will not be subject to return to the general fund at the end of any fiscal year.

Frosh To Hold Hop In S.W.B. Refectory

The class of 1957 will present their Frosh Hop in the refectory on Saturday evening, March 20, from 8:30 to 12:00. James McBride, freshman Social Chairman, is in charge of arrange-Committee chairmen are: Favors, Jo Bullard; Entertainment, Rosemary Leo; Refreshments, Judy Toone; Decorations, William Craven.

Music for the dance will be provided by the Music Makers. Stan Wiley, Sam Olsher and Frenchy Mackes will be playing the sax; Vito Sorelli and Al Collins, trumpet; Terry Pickens, trombone; Roy James, drums; and Nancy Bottone at the piano. The dance will be chaperoned by Dr. and Mrs. Ralph R. John-and the second second second

Soph Dance To Be Held Saturday Night

The time is set at 8:30 p.m., tomorrow night, for the annual Soph Hop. This year's Hop will again be held in the Madison Settlement House. Music will be made by the Merry Makers.

Jim Bloom, Social Chairman of the Sophomore Class, has announced the following commitnounced the following commit-tee chairmen: co-chairman of the decoration committee are Lynn Swader and Jim Bloom; Patti Watts is serving as chair-man of the refreshment com-mittee and Sue Korte as chairman of the favors committee. The entertainment committee is under Margie Kelley. Ken Hell-man and Hal Quigley will supervise the activities of the clean-

DR. CLARENCE TUCKER CRAIG

Drew Debaters To Play Host; Callender Second In King's Tourney

E. David Callender, Manager of the Drew Debate Council, announced on Tuesday that Drew will play host to neighboring schools on Saturday, March 27, when Drew will sponsor a Round Robin Debate. This announcement, which follows recent tournament competition, pointed out that this will mark the first attempt by the Debate Council to sponsor any intercollegiate tournament on campus. In addition to planning for this event the Debaters plan to enter two tournaments within the next ten days. The topic is: "Resolved: that the United States should adopt a policy of free trade."

On Saturday, February 20, Patti Watts, Dick Semeraro, Dave and Bill Berman participated in the King's College Invitation Tournament in Wilkes-Barre, Pa. Out of 21 teams participating Drewscored 413 points to place third, behind Dartmouth (440) and Princeton (436). In individual scoring Dave placed second, one point behind Martin Lewis of Princeton who received 118 points in four rounds of debating.

Patti and Dave arguing the

Men's Dorms Meet; Plan House Parties

The spring house parties of the college men will be held on Saturday, March 13, from 8:00 p.m. to midnight. Resident students will hold house parties in their respective dorms with commuters joining them as social members. members.

Plans are already under way and committees have been formed to take charge of the various phases of the programs. In the New Dorm, Sol Gittleman is over-all director, while Dick Lee is handling finances. Harold Burris is in charge of refresh-ments and Dave Rein heads the favor committee. Dick Smyth and Bob Falk are co-chairmen of entertainment, while decorations are under the direction of Stan Wiley and Jim McBride. At Faulkner House, Phil Romeo has been assigned the job of general coordinator. Dick Rapkin is treasurer, while Paul Weichert and George Adams are in charge of refreshments.

Sam Bowne has set up no planning committees but Dick Rice, Warren Campbell, Gordon Jones, and Bill Hodsdon have undertaken the general organi-

All the dorms are working actively to make this years spring house party program a successful social event.

Patti and Dave, arguing the negative side of the question, debated against Morgan State College, U. of Scranton, Marywood and Dartmouth. They emerged with a 2-2 record, de-feating Morgan State and Dart-mouth. In handling the affirma-tive case Dick and Bill bowed to Houghton College and Seton Hall, with victories over Misericordia and Immaculata.

Defeat Princton

In a single home debate two of our novices, Mel Williams and Bill Berman debated the nega-tive side of the question and defeated an affirmative duo from Princeton. This event, following the Princeton "Debate Day" on February 13, marked the second home match of the season.

Invitations Out

In a letter dated March 2, the Council invited twelve schools from New Jersey, New York and Pennsylvania to the Round Robin. Present plans in-clude three rounds of debates, lunch in the refectory and tea in the afternoon.

Dave, in his announcement, requested cooperation from everyone concerned and thanked various members of the faculty who have already expressed their interest in the affair. Dave will be assisted in running this affair by Mel, Patti and Bill.

Capers Is Organized; Theme Is Magazines

Magazines will be the theme of 1954 Capers, to be held at the Morristown Jewish Center on April 1 and 3. The Thursday night showing is for the general public. College students will be able to attend on Saturday eve-

Bev Simonson, director and writer, called an organizational meeting on Tuesday, February 23, and try-outs for several acts were held on February 24 and 25. Five acts have already been set up. Mary Lou Herrman and Louie Bullock will again dance, as in the 1953 Capers. Audrey Chapin will do a dance which fits in with the theme. Dr. Dika Newlin, as faculty representative to the Capers, will sing all parts in a brief opera.

Bev, Louie Bullock (assistant writer and director, who is doing many of the details of writing), and Mary Lou Herrman (production manager and choreographer) are attempting to utilize all Brothers College student talent. There will be a boys' chorus, a dance group under Mary Lou's direction, some dramatic skits, music, and comedy.

Dick Smyth, college Social Chairman, is nominally in charge of the Capers. Harold Burris is chairman of the Program Com-

Company of the second s

by Barbara Knapp

After fifty-four years without a formal title, the chapel in Seminary Hall was named. On February 17, President Holloway officiated at an evening service of dedication, naming the chapel of dedication, naming the chapel for Dean Clarence Tucker Craig, who died last August after four years as a Seminary Dean and Professor of New Testament.

Declaring that the life "Dean Craig lived in our midst impressed us with its eternal quality," President Holloway said it was fitting that the chapel be named for him as a "visible symbol" of this life.

Tribute

A Yale faculty colleague of Dr.

A Yale faculty colleague of Dr. Craig, Dr. Luther A. Weigle, Dean Emeritus of Yale Divinity School, paid tribute to Dr. Craig's contributions to theological education, the ecumenical movement, and to the Revised Standard Version of the Bible, upon which they both worked they both worked.

Expressing the fact that Dean Craig was "one of the foremost New Testament scholars of our time," Dr. Weigle voiced the hope that his final work, an introduction and critical explanation for First Corinthians in the New In-terpreters' Bible, might be pub-lished separately as a memorial

Active Churchman
Prior to his coming to Drew in 1949, Dean Craig had spent considerable time in theological studies abroad and in America. He had eight years previous ex-perience in Methodist pastorates, eighteen years of teaching at the Oberlin Graduate School of Theoberlin Graduate School of Theology, and three years on the Yale faculty.

Recently he was active in the founding of the World Council of Churches, was chairman of the American Theological Committee of the Faith and Order Commission, and was the American associate editor of the Ecuican associate editor of the Ecu-menical Review.

Dalton H. Kreuger, president of the Seminary Student Coun-cil, participated with President Holloway in conducting the service attended by 300 persons. The Seminary Men's Choir sang under the direction of Lester W. Berenbroick, instructor of Church Music.

Dr. Anderson
Dr. Bernard W. Anderson of the Colgate-Rochester Divinity School will become dean of Drew Theological Seminary July 1. His appointment was announced by resident Fred G. Drew University following a meeting of the university's board of trustees in New York City March 2.

Dr. Anderson will succeed Dr. Clarence Tucker Craig. He has been Joseph B. Hoyt Professor of Old Testament Interpretation at the Colgate-Rochester Divinity School in Rochester, New York, since 1950. He was previously James A. Gray Professor of Lit-erature at the University of North Carolina for two years. He began his teaching career in 1946 as an instructor in the department of philosophy and religion at Colgate University.

He is author of Rediscovering the Bible (1951), and The Unfolding Drama of the Bible (1953).

Intercollegiate Press

Editor-in-Chief	CLAIRE DRESNER
Appletant Editor	JANE BOWNER
Mawa Editor	HILMA VESTERDAL
Flootson Editor B	EVERLEY SIMONSON
Oposta Editor	OWARD APPLEGATE
Conv. Editor	JUDI TOORE
Staff Cartoonist	JIM BLOOM
Circulation Manager	DICK LEE
Dusiness Manager	WILLIAM BERMAN
Faculty Advisor MR. I	I. JEROME CRANMER

STAFF

Christine Azzaro, Georgia Bewley, David Callender, Joan Fisher, Sol Gittleman, Marjorie Kelly, Cal Yoseworthy, Rosy Roselene, Bob Slater, Carole Imolensky, Bobbie Simpson, Steve Tuzenue, Jane Vallace, Jack Watkins.

Bullard, Kermit Cook, Shelby Coons, Barbara napp, Anna Larson, Gayle Slater, Dick Smyth.

The Acorn is published by the students of Drew University. Entered as second-class matter at the post office at Madison, N. J. Yearly subscription price $2.00. Single copy 15 cents. Printed by Madison Printing Co., Madison, N. J.

The Student Council, last semester, approved a plan designating Wednesdays as the days upon which college elections would be held. The purpose of the change from a Tuesday or a Thursday to Wednesday was to arouse greater student interest by having the polls open at a time when the greater number of students would be present. The Sophomore Class this semester, has shown, to the college as a whole, that it is possible to have a large turnout of voters. Ninety-nine percent of the Class of '56 cast ballots at the recent run-off election for Sophomore class president.

When a group presents a voting percentage as high as ninety-nine, the successful candidate has the support of not merely the majority of voters, but the approval of the majority of those whom he is to represent. If but sixty to seventy or seventy-five percent vote it is well night impossible for a nominee to attain the backing of over half of his constituents.

The problem of making representative student government a reality rather than a theoretical fancy obviously belongs to the student body. Although we elect our Student Council and class officers, that "we" far too often represents an unnecessarily narrow portion of college people. The Sophomore Class deserves a note of congratulation for showing Drew what can be done.

There exists, however, another aspect to the Sophomore election. A high percentage of votes were cast only because a few members of the class realized that an election was the responsibility of had to be sought the entire group. Class me out and reminded that the ballot box in the col- writing his own funeral mass. the religious views and problege lobby was for their use.

A like situation prevails in nearly all phases of extra-classroom life at Drew. How often have class meetings had to be postponed because a quorum was not present? How many people attend house meetings? How many people turn out to root for teams? How many clubs have been disbanded for lack of enough members to carry on effectively? How many lend their help in the preparation for college functions?

Drew is a small college with an enrollment of under 400. Few of us are fortunate enough to possess the time, interest, and ability to enter into all activities. Yet is it not one of the advantages of a small school that all may enter into the active life of the college community? The successful functioning of campus life can be achieved, not by the few, but by the many.

UN, Supreme Court On Agenda Of New York, Washington Trip

Choir Presents "Requiem Mass"

by Georgia Bewley

Mozart's Requiem Mass was presented by the Drew University Choir last night in the Craig Chapel. This program, under the direction of Lester W. Barenbroick and accompanied by Dr. Dika Newlin, represents a unique accomplishment at Drew. The Chorale, consisting of College and Seminary Choirs with additional women's voices, is the first of its kind at Drew.

Mozart's funeral mass was presented by an enthusiastic group of 80 voices. Membership in the Chorale was open to anyone who wanted to participate in the pure enjoyment of singing. The final turnout tallied 20 sopranos, 18 altos, 16 tenors, and 26 basses. The preponderance of male tone, unusual in a piece, gives a rich, substantial quality.

Included in the Mass were four quartets which were composed of the following: Marian Smith, Beverley Simonson, Donald Blomsted, Marvin Bonner, Irma Kaslow, Mary Bouton, Larry Kline, Gerald Blade, Edith Scott, Martha Scott, Yong-ok Kim. Raymond Sturm, Georgia Bew-Elsa Milby, Richard Nowers, ley, Elsa Milby, Richard Nowers, and Bob Boyle. Irma Kaslow also sang several solo passages. A composition the length and complexity of the Requiem, plus singing in liturgical Latin, provided a challenge to the group which it readily accepted. For over four months the Chorale had been rehearsing.

The history of Mozart's Mass is a fascinating one and almost as interesting as the musical composition itself. Mozart was commissioned by a secret messenger of Count von Walsegg who intended to claim the Requiem as his own work. Mozart began working on the mass but was interrupted by requests for completion of compositions previously contracted. The great demand for his music soon tired the famous author, and before long Mozart realized he was poser left the Requiem unfin-ished. A former student of Mo-

"Here I sit upon my seat — Gazing at my swollen feet," These were the opening lines of a postcard that I received from my roommate, Margie Lamphier, during her extensive travels. She and Hal Quigley were Drew's representatives to the Citizenship Seminar sponsored by the Methodist Stu-

On February 14, Marge and Hal set out for New York where the conference was to begin There were delegates from all parts of the states-California, Georgia, Texas, Virginia. Most of them arrived a day early.

Trekking in from the wilds of New Jersey, our fair delegates arrived three hours late. They blame it on the subway. The purpose of the conference was to study Christian perspective in government. Their first stop was the U.N.-a look at the international vein. The delegates heard speakers from India, Pakistan and other parts of the globe. They were conducted on a guided tour of the building. A highlight of the U.N. visit was dinner at the delegates' dining room. They were very impressed, but Marge and Hal ate heir breakfast in the Automat Seemed more like home.

They visited the Japanese Methodist Church where they were served a real Japanese dinner, complete with chopsticks. They united in a fervent prayer of thanks for the invention of Our Yankee delegates guided the rebels around New York, sightseeing. They refought the Civil War, rode the Staten Island Ferry, and dodged numerous buses. After a particularly close call, one foreigner remarked that he had previously heard that there were only two kinds of people in New York — the quick and the dead.

The conference moved on to Washington. They spent an af-ternoon at the State Depart-ment and watched the House and Senate in action recognized her. She escaped. delegates saw the Supreme Court. Speakers Paul Douglas, Wayne Morris, Rayburne and Joe Martin ad-dressed the group. The confer-ence closed with a worship service in the Lincoln Memorial.

They visited the White House. Here, Marjorie's past caught up with her. One of the guards, a policeman from her home town,

Marge and Hal have returned to Drew with an experiencean experience which they to share with the student body They hope to stimulate more campus interest in world affairs -an interest that will translate discussions in the coffee shop and the dormitories into constructive action. Progress has been made in the reorganization of the religious life program. The last Drew Fellowship was a panel of forlems of their respective countries. It is hoped that we will ished. A former student of Mo-zart's, Sussmayer, completed the ture in the future. Through work and copied it in a hand so close to that of the great author, that it was years before this was discovered.

the fit the future. If It dug fit the fit the programs, the Drew Fellowship hopes to make the old words, "Love thy neighbor" an active force in the college life.

> Watch B. C. Bulletin Board > > for

CAMPUS CONTEST

The Lamb and the Lion

by Beverley Simonson

The lamb, what cunning capers cuts. In large rough pastures leaping. He bounds with youthful glee over the ruts. In some ways, he seems to be seeking-To amuse those folks who come to gaze, And in envy consider his carefree play Have they really thought what an awful daze— To play, day after day?

Have nothing profound to hide. There's nothing that very wise. Alive he's not useful in or outside. He amuses himself and others too-By useless play and recreation. Although this might be attractive to you. There's a ghastly lack of conversation.

Honestly, those winsome eyes

Would you like to be a lamb-To gambol and play all the time? An easy life you may say. But on the other hand.

How boring and really a positive flop. No wonder he's only fit for a sweater or a chop!

The Lion stalks through the teeming tangle And seldom is he heard. But when his roar rings through the jungle All tremble at his word.

With a toss and a shake of his massive fore (and his rear may join in too.) He will frighten those who stand in awe Do you think he'd frighten you?

In reality, this mangy beast is nothing but a bore. For can he talk on politics? No all he does is roar.

Or perhaps you think his majesty is his excuse for Well, even that is done away when one is closer

The caterpillar head that doesn't need the muff And the swishing knotted tail that's much too long enough.

Perhaps you'd like to be a lion who's roar is always

But don't forget-he has no friends. For upon close observation. This unbalanced moody beast is really no sensation . . .

Holidays In March

by Rosy Roselene

The differences between getting a job or going to college are many and varied: working involves freedom, happiness and the right to live to old age; institutional life involves isolation from friends, Romans and countrymen, neurosis, and inevitable eye-strain. 355 persons in the last four years have abandoned themselves to the latter way of life and entered Brothers College. To see how their lives differ from that of normal people let's take a sneak peek at what happens on campus uring the month of March.

Mid-semester finals mark the beginning (and usually end) of an "adventure in excellence". During this harrowing week of torture, students tend go steady with Shakespeare or Freud in place of their regular beaux (thus interfering with the normal dating pattern). Parents are temporarily orgotten, dirty wash is accumulated, and the Coffee Shop increases its trade. Even those illustrious creatures known as College Professors lose conact with the outside world and sometimes forget that things are that way. The social consequences of these events can be seen in the increased number of commitments to mental institutions.

Outstanding events on the social side of the calendar are the house-parties—better known as deadlines for spring cleaning (this does not necessarily mean that things are all clean or in order just well hidden). Detailed information on these highlights cannot be devulged because of profes-

According to the History books, March 17th is the great day for the Irish. Clancy lowers the boom on cities throughout the country when all the true sons of Erin parade through the streets and keep the cotton manufacturers in business. About the only green we ever get to see on campus is prof's tie (usually on the front of a blue shirt covered by a grey jacket and supported by a pair of brown pants). Contrary to student opinion, St. Patty's Day has not yet been investigated and is still celebrated by the free world.

Everybody moans, nobody smiles, and the sui-cide rate goes up, all because it's March 15th. This red-excuse me, pink-letter day is the only time of the year when students can understand why the professors appear haggard. However, this utopian state of empathy is short-lived and it's not long before students crawl back under their lightbulbs and dream of the day when they once again are free from the "Test-No doze-No sleep—Ugh, what a head" habit.

The moral of this story is obvious.

RIDERS CLOSE SEASON WITH 1-12 RECORD

I was quite happy the other day when Howie Applegate, Acorn Sports Editor, asked me to write the Circuit this issue. At first I was sceptical. But in any case here I am, ready and roaring to go.

It must be pointed out in the beginning that the material presented is that of the writer. The comments expressed are not directed toward anyone in particular but are the results of observations, conversations, reading and personal delib-eration. While these ideas are personal they may not be original. Whatever is said is sincere and it might be beneficial for all members of that wonderfully intangible thing, the DREW FAMILY, to take heed of. For WE, the members of this family are Drew; and whatever we do reflects itself upon Drew just as the actions of Drew reflect upon us.

Let's Look And See

All this is leading up to something. Is it another plug for school spirit? Is it another con-demnation of our coaching? Is it a criticism of our faculty and administration? Basically, No. What is hoped that this will do is to lead the members of the Drew Family up to a mirror, and then wait and see if they dare to look into it. Last Saturday the Circuit Riders ended another statistically poor basketball season. The season is now a matter of record. The uniforms will soon be sent out to the cleaners where they will be gone ever. And here on campus we, this family, are going over the team, the coach and the record.

All of this is well and good. Let's find out to whom the blame goes for this showing. Well, "think the blame belongs to . . ." But wait a minute Who are we to say upon whom the blame belongs? Many people, including the coach, the players, the fans and the rooters who never went to a game, are placing the blame on someone or something. They are right. The blame does belong to something. But that is what we have to define for ourselves. Many people know this writer as a critic: but maybe with the liberty of hindsight what will be said here will be listened to. And maybe the members of the Drew Family, which includes everyone around, will manifest a desire to look into this mirror, and reflect upon the vision.

Athletics Part of "Adventure"

Athletics have played an important part in the life of many students on the Drew campus. The degree may vary for each, but as long as they were a part of this Drew Family, the degree has been present. It has been present insofar as it is a definite part in this "Adventure in Excellence" which we hear so much about.

John McCallum, a writer of this column, one wrote "... there is a place in the program for anyone who cares to participate ..." Many of us don't realize this basic truth. Our athletic program, as our academic program, has a place for everyone. But if all we do is sit back and shoot the bull we aren't taking advantage of this opportunity. We want to achieve that intangible thing called School Spirit. Well, let's get out and try to get it. What we have just witnessed in basketball hasn't been what we care for. It is a shame to sit and watch five men play for a full game when they aren't in shape. But a team is out to win ball games, and uses the best material it has. If they haven't got it they aren't material it has.

haven't got it they can't produce it.

Now maybe we're getting to the point. Perhaps there is something which we of the Drew Family need. A winning ball team can't supply it. We can't have school spirit when we don't know how to live as a family group, which is what we claim we are. If we don't have spirit we can't have enthusiasm. If we don't have enthusiasm we can't do much, even in our attacks upon our studies. Therefore we need this spirit, which will come as a result of our acting as a true family. We speak

What Can We Do?

of Christian brother

Once we clarify our position in this family, we must learn to participate in it via actions, not speeches. Looking over the athletic situation our job is clear. We must get off the fat of our bodies and participate as best we can. For some it is participate as best we can. For some it is participating and for others it is to stop criticizing. If you can't do anything but criticize—don't. Then we can go a step further and improve the situation. In answer to this point there has been much speculation. Well, we have our own answer: Besidesides a support of the Draw Ferm.

sides doing our part as members of the Drew Family in our everyday actions we should support a program which will bring to Drew, and develop well rounded students. This SHOULD be the goal of our "Adventure in Excellence." We're not say-ing bring in "paid" athletes. We are saying bring in prospective students who will add to more than the academic standing of Drew. Fulfill this adventure in its truest sense.

This is our answer. Look into the mirror now and reflect upon it.

000

Fencers Take Three Straight

HOBOKEN—By showing an overwhelming superiority in both the epee and foil divisions, Drew University's fencing squad romped over Stevens Tech, 19-8 on February 27. Stevens, who to date had not tasted victory, showed only poorly in the epee and folls, but the slashing of Art Riggs who swept his saber events dimly brightened the dark scene for Stevens. Drew fenced exceptionally in the epee's, both Warren Campbell and Jim Bonar sweeping their matches. In , Cliff Edwards, Bob Linares both won two matches, and substitute Don Coslick scored the only foils shutout for Drew this year. George Sichuk's two sabre wins paced Drew in that division.

INTRAMURALS

The second half of the Brothers College Intramurals closed on February 27 as the champs romped through the field. The Seniors won eleven straight ballgames this season before tasting defeat at the hands of a hustling Sophomore quintet which trimmed the champs by a 40-35 margin on February third. The Seniors sewed up the loop championship before the 20th of February and played the rest of the

The Juniors, re-enforced with the return of their American University trio of Don Sparks,

Dick Semeraro and Nish Najarian, played quite a better brand of basketball in the second half and coasted to a 5-3 record with several close wins over the Frosh and Sophs. Their most outstand-ing victory was the 52-51 triumph over the Frosh while only

Notwithstanding their defeat of the Seniors, the Sophomores

did not show much improvement during the latter period of intramural schedule and played the same caliber of hot and cold ball as they did before, record-

The Frosh were plagued by many troubles and defeats in-all their best players to show up at one game. Undoubtedly, their best game was the only on that they managed to win, a close tilt with the Sophs which hepped-up play of Dick Hedley.

Howie Applegate and Lee Haber-

All Star Selection

Selections for the Intramural

First and Second All Star teams

Juniors; guard, Stan Wilson, Jun.; guard, Sol Gittleman, Jun.

Second team: Forward, Paul

Weichert, Soph.; forward, Chuck

Bazan, Sen.; center, Ron Van-derschaaf, Soph.; guard, George Sichuk, Sen.; guard, Dick James,

Honorable mention goes to Harry Baas, Richard Hedley, Cal

High scorers for the second half were Jim Blomberg who notched 83 tallies, Gerry Miller, who swished the nets for 81 markers, Dick Lee chucked in 80 points and both George Si-chuk and Chuck Bazan of the winning senior team each col-lected 74 points. Other high scorers were Stan Wilson (69), Sol Gittleman (62), Paul Weichert (60), Ronnie Vanderschaaf (50), and Joe Marbach tied with Dick James with-44 each.

the First yearmen captured by luding their inability to get ing a 3-5 slate.

having three men on court.

season with complacent ease.

Foil-Dublik (S) defeated Edwards 5-4 and Nijarian 5-2; Edwards (D) defeated Anderson 5-3 and Fletcher 5-1; Linares defeated Anderson 5-3 and Fletcher 5-4; Nijarian (D) defeated Anderson 5-4 and Fletcher 5-4; Coslick (D) defeated Dublick 5-0 of last year, the Seniors, again

Sabre — Ritzau (S) defeated Sharrott 5-2; Riggs (S) defeat-ed Sichuk 5-2, Feldman 5-2, and Meyer 5-2; Wu (S) defeated Mc-Cracken 5-1; Sichuk (D) defeated Ritzau 5-3 and Wu 5-4; Feldman (D) defeated Ritzau 5-4; and Meyer (D) defeated Wu 5-4.

Epee - Gilmore (S) defeated Magagna 3-1; Magagna (D) defeated Romano 3-1; Campbell (D) defeated Romano 3-1; Sarkissian 3-1, and Gilmore 3-1; Bonar (D) defeated Sarkissian 3-2, Gilmore 3-0, and Pollina 3-0; Boohar (D) defeated Sarkissian 3-2.

Drew Edges Lehigh
BETHLEHEM, PA. — Saturday,
February 20, saw Drew U's bladesmen stave off the last minute rush of a nighty their sechigh squad, to register their sechigh squad, to register 14-13. Bob ond straight victory, 14-13. Linares and Nish Nijarian chalked up two victories apiece for the foilsmen as they copped their division and Warren Campbell took all his epee matches including the final affair to give Drew the victory after score stood at 13-13-3-2 in overtime. Jim Bonar, an up and coming Frosh, took two of his epee matches, one on a shutout.

Foil — Edwards (D) defeated
VanHorn (5-4); Linares (D) defeated Laub (5-4), Bristol (5-4); Nijarian (D) defeated VanHorn (5-2), Bristol (5-3): Laub (L) defeated Edwards (5-2), Nijarian (5-2); VanHorn (5) defeated Linares (5-3); Bristol (L) defeated Edwards (5-4).

Sabre - Sichuk (D) defeated Tan (5-4); Feldman (D) defeated Tan (5-2); Meyer (D) defeated Denson (5-4); Tan (L) defeated Meyer (5-2); Goldwyn (L) defeated Sichuk (5-1), Feld-man (5-0), Meyer (5-1); Denson (L) defeated Sichuk (5-0), Feldman (5-3).

Epee—Magagna (D) defeated
Black (3-2); Campbell (D) defeated Black (3-1), Zecher (3-0) Betz (3-2); Bonar (D) defeated Black (3-0), Zecher (3-1); Zecher (L) defeated Magagna (3-1); Betz (L) defeated Magagna (3-2), Bonar (3-1).

NCE Belted MADISON — In a very close fencing contest, the Drew squad edged a previously undefeated Newark College of Engineering who had formerly triumphed over Stephens Tech and in Epee 7-2 as Dick Magagna swept his three matches as did Warren Campbell and substitute Dick Boohar chipped in with one victory. NCE edged Drew in foils and sabre by 5-4 margins in both divisions.

Foil - Edwards (D) defeated Polis 5-2; Linares (D) defeated Davidson 5-3, Kurzeja 5-2, and Polis 5-3; Davidson (NCE) de-feated Edwards 5-2, Craven 5-1; Kurzeja (NCE) defeated Edwards 5-4, and Najarian 5-1; Polis

(NCE) defeated Najarian 5-1. Saber — Sichuk (D) defeated Buell 5-1, Junita 5-3, and Nord-Buell 5-1, Junita 5-3, and Nord-man 5-4; Feldman (D) defeated Nordman 5-1; Buell (NCE) de-feated Feldman 5-1, and Meyer 5-1; Junita (NCE) defeated Feldman 5-0 and Meyer 5-3; Nordman (NCE) defeated Meyer 5-3.

Sid Sets Season Record, Racking Up 320 Points

A seven point spurt in the closing two minutes of the third stanza set up the margin of victory for a hard fighting squad from New Paltz State Teachers College last Saturday as they dealt the Green and Gold its final defeat of an almost winless season, 72-65. The loss, Drew's sixth straight after snapping a twenty-game losing streak, brought the season's record to 1-12, plus an opening victory over the alumni.

Sid Zwerling hit for twenty-five markers against the New Yorkers to bring his season's total to 320 points in intercollegiate games, or 344 overall, for an average of 24.6 points per game. This establishes a new university record which was held ointly by Jack Horner, who scored 269 while playing for a college team in 1943, and Jim Ruscick who tallied 280 while playing on a V-12 team in 1943-44. On January 14 Sid also set a new single game record at 37, erasing marks set by Jack and Jim at 35 and 36, respectively.

Holzinger Scores First Nine Points Joe Holzinger put on a beautiful show in the opening minutes of the New Paltz game as he tallied all of Drew's first nine markers, against seven for the visitors. Following an exchange of baskets the profs hit for seven more points to lead 14-11 just prior to the end of the period. Nine more points by Joe narrowed the New Paltz lead to one points by Joe harrowed the New Falsz lead to one point 29-28 mid-way through the second period, before the visitors pulled to a 35-33 half time lead. Joe hit for 20 of his 23 points during this first half as he sank nine out of eighteen tries from

A push shot by Ed Welss in the first minute of the second half tied the score up at 35-all, before Bob Miller, the evening's high scorer with 32 points, once more put the visitors out ahead. Bob and Sid traded baskets before New Paltz went out ahead again, only to have Sid and Joe come back to tie it up at 41-all with 2:20 left in the period. Then, without warning, New Paltz unleashed a seven point scoring spree which sewed the game

Bow to NCE as Sid Breaks Record Newark College of Engineering defeated the Green and Gold for the second time this season on February 22, 88-61 to mark Drew's return to the Madison High court. It was in this game that Sid broke Jim Ruscick's record and Coach Harry Simester presented him with the game ball at a

The Circuit Riders pulled to a 16-14 lead at the end of the first period as Sid and Joe each hit for seven markers and Joe Sobota sank a jump shot. The Engineers roared back in the second quarter, outscoring Drew 24-15, to lead at half-time 38-31. Four spurts in the third stanza by the visitors spelled defeat for the Green and Gold as they were set back by more than a two-to-one margin

With three men hitting for double figures it seemed as if the Circuit Riders had their second victory in the bag against Pace College on the floor of the Downtown A.C. on February 19, but then that last quarter. The Pacesetters outscored the visitors 17-8 in the final period, holding Sid to four foul shots, to leave the floor with a 56-51 First team: Forward, Jim Blomberg, Sen.; forward; Gerry Miller, Frosh; center, Dick Lee,

Baseball, Tennis Open Shop

An air of pessimism was noted in recent interviews with "Doc" Young, baseball coach and Prof. A. E. Jones, tennis coach. Noting the loss of members from last years' teams, both coaches reported that they are currently engaged in a program of building squads which would tackle their respective sports within a few weeks. In baseball, "Doc" sees the task ahead of him of moulding freshmen into his varsity in order to fill gaps caused by the gradi his starting nine. In addition to returning men, as Jim Blomberg, Dick Semeraro, Ken Hellman, Sol Gittleman, Stan Wilson, Art Lindsay and Harry Jackle, Doc is happy to see Joe Holzinger, one of his top hitters prior to a tour of service. New aspirants for the squad include Jerry Miller, Herman Elgarten, Harry Bass, Don Sparks, Stan Wiley and Warner Johnson.

Tennis Outlook Brighter

The situation in tennis is a little brighter with last year's top three men returning. Besides Chuck Bazan, Fred Noe and Nish Najarian, Coach Jones finds Cliff Edwards, number six man last year, Jacques Duvoisin, Frank Deodene and Bill Wilckens returning. Three new members of the squad are Jim McBride, Lee Haberson and Joe Sobota.

Epec—Magagna (D) defeated Lenk 3-2, Kram 3-2, and Applebaugh 3-0; Campbell (D) defeated Lenk 3-2, Kram 3-1, and Applebaugh 3-2; Bonar (D) defeated Applebaugh 3-1; Lenk (NCE) defeated Bonar 3-0; Kram (NCE) defeated Bonar 3-1.

Campus Personalities

by Anne Smith

An inquiring mind, enthusiasm, vivacity and leadership sum up the dynamic qualities of the government major plus whom we know as Zo.

In Middletown High Mary Zoghby was president of the Student Council, and delegate to Girls' State. For four years she has continued her interest in student leadership here at Drew, participating enthusiastically in Student Council. participating enthusiastically in Student Coun-cil, various clubs and Madison House.

Zo is the type of student who learns for self-improvement, not for grades and honors. Her excellence has come about through a keen, inquiring, realistic intellect coupled with a thoroughness and a complete preoccupation with her

In the coffee shop, classroom or dorm Zo impresses us with her love of fun, quick mind and ability to dash continually.

Yet she, like many others, has a serious vein. She sings the blues, listens to music entranced, reads avidly on a great variety of subjects. But, more than this, contests and compares, brings to each new learning, former learn-

A composite personality makes Zo difficult to know completely. At best she is unpredictable. To call her a scholar, would be to forget her silly mischievous moods. To deem her gay and vivacious would be to forget her intensity and thoughtfulness. To see her as a leader would be to overlook her calm withdrawn moments. To describe her as diligent would be to neglect her impatience and hastiness.

Varsity "D" Club

Following an annual tradition, the Varsity D Club sponsored the Alfred Ben Wegener Scholarship basketball game on Monday, February 22. This year's game was Drew vs. N.C.E. at the Madison High School gym.

A large number of "D" men, both present and past, witnessed both present and past, witnessed the event which ended in an-other defeat for the Drew quintet.

This scholarship is awarded annually by the Varsity Club to a boy for outstanding contributions to the life of the college through athletics. Last year's winner was Jim Blomberg.

Another coming event of the Varsity D Club is the annual Steak Roast which will follow an afternoon contest between Alumni "D" men and this year's Alumni "D" men and this year's varsity teams in baseball and tennis. May 1 is the tentative date for this year's Steak Roast.

GERMAN CLUB PLANS EVENTS FOR SPRING

Growing steadily in social stature is the German Club. In addition to weekly visits to the German Movies every Friday evening, leaving from the lounge at 6:30 p.m., this group has several other events planned for the Spring semester.

The first will be on field trip day, March 9, called the "Ausfiug nach Neu York". Dr Schabacher and a group of students will go over to New York's German Center on 86 Street where they will view a German movie and then dine, dance, and make merry at the 86 Street Brauwhich is well known for its excellent German cuisine.

High School Guests

The second big event will be the "Grosses Fruhlingsfest". The Club will have as its guests and participant members of high-school German clubs from several communities. The program will include the following: short dramatic skits (auf Deutsch), traditional German singing, folk dancing, under the direction of Mrs. William Cox, experienced leader in Folk dances, from Drew Theological Seminary, and, of course, refreshments will be

The third and climactic event of the year will be a "Tag am See" at Highland Lakes, New Jersey. On the agenda are sports, swimming for the hardy folks, a cookout lunch and supper, and singing around the fire.

The German Club cordially invites everyone to join them in these activities.

CARNIVAL OPEN TO PUBLIC; TO BE HELD FOR TWO NIGHTS

Mead Hall's back lawn will be the setting for this year's Drew Carnival, to be held April 21 and 22, from 7:00 to 11:00 p.m. Chair-man Nish Najarian has set up several new features in addition to the annual banner awarded to the best booth to the best booth.

By opening the carnival to the public for the first time, the committee hopes not only to increase profits, which go to CARE, but also to promote local interest in Draw activities

est in Drew activities.

Booths will be sponsored by dorms and clubs on campus, including, for the first time, a booth by the seminary. The prize for the best booth will be awarded on the basis of its novelty and the amount of its proceeds. The cost will be ten cents at most booths, and prizes will be awarded on the basis of points earned collectively through the various games.

Special Features

Special features of the carnival: hot dogs, sodas, and ice cream sold from the Mead Hall kitchen; at least one ride for children; spotlights played upon the prize booth; and dancing on Mead Hall's back porch. In the annual Pie - throwing Contest, pies will be auctioned off and serve as targets Something new, the committee urges the Clown Contest, was product to support it strongly.

from a number of costumed entrants, a Clown of the Carnival.

Publicity for the carnival will be carried further this year than before, this being the first time it is not to be held in the gym and the first time the carnival will be open to anyone other than students. Representatives from the committee will publi-cize the affair in the local public schools and in stores, through the Chamber of Commerce.

The committee also, with the aid of the faculty, will act as judges in the Clown Contest, and in deciding which booth will win the banner. The booths will be set up by individual commit-tees, on ideas either selected from a list or originated by the committees.

The general committee itself has been formed, with Nish Najarian as chairman, and Louis Bullock handling carnival finances. Jane Bowker is in charge of setting up games, Betty Bryan is handling publicity, and Dick Lee is in charge of refreshments, Neale Secor and Harold Quigley will solicit for prizes, and Don Spofford will handle lighting and sound effects.
Running the Drew Carnival

the committee urges the students

Field Trip Day Events Planned

Many college classes will take advantage of Field Trip day, Thursday, March 18, by visiting museums, institutions, and mov-Mrs. Korn's art classes again will go to the Metropolitan Mu-seum of Art, which has been newly-decorated and has some new exhibits. Dr. McClintock will take his Abnormal Psychology class to Totowa, New Jersey, to visit the New Jersey Training School for mentally - retarded girls. The class will make a tour of the institution, and will remain there for lunch.

Another psychology field trip is also planned. Dr. Wagner will take about 10 girls who plan to go into nursing to Presbyterian Hospital in New York, where they will have lunch with former Drew students who are in training there. The girls will be shown how they will later make use of the college chemistry courses they are now taking. They will be guided around the hospital, and will see a film on nursing life.

The Spanish classes, under Dr. Richner's guidance, will go to the Spanish Museum in New York City to see the various exhibits. Afterwards, they will eat at a Spanish restaurant, and then will see some Spanish films. (As Dr. Richner says, they are going to buy round-trip tickets, so they can spend all their money in New York!)

"Twinkle, twinkle, little star." Dr. Battin

Straight From The Head

by Cal Noseworthy

This column has been the subject of much controversy on this campus. There has been a tendency to dichotomize the two points of view into those of the student body and those of the administration. This is a fallacy. The writer of this column is in a peculiar position in this re-gard. He realizes that the student body (for whom the column is written) should be satisfied and if this satisfaction can be achieved by print-to publish their literary maga-zine. This year's magazine will include short-stories, poems, and perhaps some critical non-fiction: all, of course, by Drew undergraduates. The Tower president, George Woodruff, together with the other Littera-teurs, will soon begin the final selection of works to be pub-lished. There is still time for interested students to submit articles, etc., for consideration. All works are read and then discussed by the club members and, thus far, no author has been permanently scarred by the con-structive criticism offered.

At the meeting of February 22, stories by Alberta Holcombe and George Ticknor were read and discussed. The gatherings are usually held on Monday evenings at 7:30 in an available classroom. Tower members include: George Woodruff, Jack B. Moore, Alberta Holcombe, Ann Smith, Sol Gittleman, Dick Magagna, Jim Boughton, Paul Stone, and Dianne Redfern. The faculty advisor is Dr. A. E. Jones.

and it this satisfaction can be achieved by pinter of the color" jokes (i.e., some people feel that they are "off-color")—so be it. Then again, the question arises—is this the only way in which such a column can maintain its popularity? It is, no TOWER NEWS doubt, the easiest, but not the only solution. Far be it from me to lower the moral standard of The Tower members, who have held weekly meetings through-out the year, are now preparing Drew University.

I believe that such a column might also perform its function by attempting to make the jokes (for lack of a better term) more original and more subtle. Well, let's see how it works out!

I have finally realized why Freshmen write those "crazy" signs during orientation week. After all, it's so much easier to grub cigarettes from someone when you know his first name.

"Batter up!!" Marilyn Monroe

"I have a red pencil." Karl Marx . . .

"Now Louie! Let's not lose our Marie Antoinette

"Hic!" Lord Calvert

"Hello, room shervish? Send up another bottle of Old Crow, Edgar Allen Poe "Monkeys is the craziest peo-Darwin

'What-again?" Dean Withey

"Giddyap." Francis Asbury

"Hello-Wrigley?"

Doc Young "Tomorrow and tomorrow and tomorrow . . ."

Mr. Fortney "I use nothing but Ronson Red-skin flints."

If anyone doubts the fine heritage of which Drew is proud, please look on page 2 of Life magazine, March 1, 1954.

Straight from the administration:

The telephones for the New Dorm will be installed by Nov.

Boy! Aesop has nothing on them.

SCIENCE - A chemist's analysis of woman. Symbol-Wo

Accepted Atomic Weight-120 Physical Properties—Boils at almost nothing and freezes at any wne treated, very bitter if not well Occurrence - Found wherever man exists.

Chemical Properties — Possesses

great affinity for gold, silver, platinum, and precious stones. Violent reaction if left alone: able to absorb great amount of food matter. Turns green when placed beside a better looking specimen.

Uses—Highly ornamental; useful as a tonic in acceleration of low spirits and an equalizer of the distribution of wealth. Is probaly the most efficient in-come-reducing agent known. Caution—Highly explosive unless carefully treated.

Oh, yes, if some of the fore-going "lokes" are not quite clear rorget to you won the note long anyway.

BOTTLED UNDER AUTHORITY OF THE COCA-COLA COMPANY BY

THE COCA-COLA BOTTLING CO. OF NEW YORK, INC.

@ 1954, THE COCA-COLA COMPANY "Coke" is a registered trade-mark.