

Alumni Homecoming May 15, 16 Offers 2 Banquets, Dance

Under the chairmanship of Frederick Askham, class of 1947 and the co-chairmanship of Richard Strelecki, class of 1952, the annual Alumni Homecoming will be held on campus May 15 and 16.

The first event of the weekend is the traditional Alumni-Senior dinner in the University Center dining room at 6:30 p.m. on Friday. The Junior class will serve.

At 8 p.m. on Friday the Alumni-Undergraduate Dance will be held in the multipurpose room of the Student Union. Dick Meyer's orchestra will provide the music, and refreshments will be served. Admission is $.75.

The alumni council, composed of Board members, class secretaries, and past presidents will meet in the Student Center at 9:30 a.m. on Saturday to discuss current problems.

10 Journalists Selected For Honorary Frat

Don Cole, president of Pi Delta Epsilon, the national honorary journalism fraternity, recently announced the newly elected members for this year.

Chosen from the ACORN staff are Bob Swydan, Editor-In-Chief, Judy Smith, Associate Editor, and Alice Chiarello and Nancy Marshall, News Editors. Clyde Lindsley, former Associate Editor and Sports Editor and Dick Madigan, former Exchange Editor and feature writer are the seniors elected to the fraternity.

Jodi Della-Cerra and Spencer Eddy, Editors of the Oak Leaves, and Midge Morell, Lay-Out Editor, represent the Yearbook Staff. Carl Verrusio, former Editor of Columns was also elected.

An hour later Professors Shabacker, Cranmer, and Lytle will present a panel discussion, entitled: "Public vs. Private Education: Threat to Drew?" This event will be held in the Multipurpose room.

For the children and their parents there will be a picnic lunch on Mead Hall lawn at 12:30 p.m.

A final feature of the weekend will be the Alumni Banquet held in the University Center. Winners of the two Alumni Award Scholarships will be announced at this time. The award committee is now selecting two juniors on the basis of scholastic average, need, and extracurricular activities.

Guest speaker at the banquet will be a member of the Russian delegation to the U.N., and President Holloway will give a short report on campus affairs. A band will be secured for the banquet.

Ricker, Cole Awarded Gold D's At Today's Honors Convocation

At this morning's honors convocation Arlene Ricker and Don Cole were the recipients of the highest honor given by ECAC—the Gold "D". These awards are given annually to outstanding students for their contributions to the extra-curricular activities program.

Silver "D"s were awarded to five other members of the senior class: Jim Mills, Jean Padberg, Dick Kiefer, Barbara Jahreis, and Joni Ashby.

Miss Ricker has served as co-chairman of the Social Committee this year, and has been active in the Green Key, intramural sports, ECAC, and the Drew-eds. She is president of Kappa Pi and a member of Sigma Phi.

Mr. Cole was Editor-In-Chief of the ACORN for two years, and is president of Pi Delta Epsilon and the Modern Jazz Society. During the past four years he has been an active member of the Social Committee, Green Key, and Capers.

Mr. Mills, this year's Student Council president, has participated in the choir, the band, the Student Church Board, and was president of his class. He is a member of Sigma Pi.

Also a member of Sigma Pi, Miss Padberg was Frosh Advisor, Chairman of the Student Church, a Student Court justice, and a member of the Academic Standing Committee.

Mr. Kiefer served as chairman of the Student Court this year. He has been a representative to the Student Council, and has held the office of Frosh Advisor and president of the American Chemical Society.

Vice-president of this year's Student Council, Miss Jahreis has been active on the Student Church Board, Green Key, and the Orientation Committee.

Miss Ashby served as co-chairman of the Social Committee and chairman of the publicity Board this year. She has also participated in Green Key and has been a dorm officer.

All of those receiving the award were elected to the college WHO'S WHO this year.

Various athletic awards were presented at the convocation, including the Albert ben Wagener scholarship and the soccer award. The American Association of University Women presented their annual award to Jean Padberg.

Other organizations which presented awards to their outstanding members were the Drew-eds, W.A.A., the Debate Society, and Alpha Psi Omega.

The convocation was organized by Dr. John Bicknell, chairman of ECAC, who was assisted by Roger Naylor.

Jean Padberg Given AAUW Membership

Miss Jean Padberg was the recipient today of a one year's courtesy membership in the American Association of University Women, an organization dedicated to the furthering of the talents and abilities of selected women college graduates. Miss Padberg was selected on the basis of her excellent academic record and a well-rounded extra-curricular program, Dean Morris revealed.

While maintaining a 3.0 cumulative average, Miss Padberg has participated in debating, student court, dramatics, choir, and other activities, all culminating in election to Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities.

The membership was presented at the Honors Convocation in Baldwin Gymnasium.

New Registrar Assumes Post

Mr. John Bevan, currently on the staff at Cornell University, will replace Mr. Walter Glass next year as Drew registrar. Mr. Glass is moving to a teaching position at Cedar Crest College, Allentown, Pennsylvania.

Mr. Bevan received both his A. B. and his master's degree from the University of Southern California. He has worked at the Southern California School of Religion in the registrar's office.

The new registrar is unmarried and will report on July 1 this summer. Before assuming full charge of his new position, he will work with Mr. Glass for one month.

Thirteen Elected To Pi Gamma; Induction May 18

Thirteen outstanding students in the field of the social sciences have been nominated for membership to Pi Gamma Mu, national social science honorary fraternity. Included under the general field of social science are economics, history, political science, psychology, religion, and sociology.

Kenneth Rowe, this year's president of the local chapter, and Mr. Richard Morgan, secretary will lead the induction ceremonies which will be held on May 18 in the University Center.

Being inducted at that time are the following: Avis Foote, James Grace, William Hayes, Richard Kalmar, George Littlejohn, Norman MacArthur, Elaine O'Malley, Martha Pierce, Carol Purdy, Clyde Relyea, Brent Smith, Enid Smith, and Virginia Webber.

Requirements for membership in the fraternity are 20 hours in social sciences and a 2.1 average in upper-level courses in that category.

J. Della-Cerra Williams Head Social Comm.

As a result of Student Council confirmation at their last meeting on May 7, Jodi Della Cerra and David Williams have been selected as the school Co-Social Chairmen for the next year.

Before the end of this semester they will present a list of persons from the freshman, sophomore, and junior classes that they would like to be on their committee. Also on their agenda will be the submitting of a tentative social calendar for the 1959-60 academic year. Much of this will be done with the assistance of the present Co-Social Chairmen: Arlene Ricker and Joni Ashby. Both Miss Della Cerra and Mr. Williams have been active in extra-curricular activities. Miss Della Cerra was the social chairman for her freshman class and Mr. Williams was the social chairman for the junior class.

At a recent meeting with the new committee, tentative plans were made for next year, including some possible innovations. According to one of the member's statements, "It is the hope of the group planning the calendar that there will be more variety in the social program, not only in reference to location, but to the type of activity planned."

BOARD MEETING

There will be an important Acorn Editorial Board Meeting tomorrow during Chapel Period in the Publications Room of the Student Union. All members are urged to attend.

Commencement News

President F. Holloway Addresses '59 Class

by A. Eckoldt

On Monday, June 8, 1959 at 10:30 a.m., another procession of graduates, the class of '59, will take its place on the platform behind Mead Hall for commencement. As is customary, President Fred G. Holloway will address the graduating class, parents, faculty members, and friends.

In case of inclement weather, the exercises will be held in the Baldwin Gymnasium.

The initial step in the graduation program will be a reception at the President's home on Friday evening, May 5, from approximately eight to eleven.

The following afternoon a lawn party will be given behind Mead Hall for members of the graduating class, alumni, and friends of the University. That night an All-University dinner is planned for faculty, alumni, graduates, and other interested persons.

Saturday, June 7, at 7 p.m. the Reverend Doctor Sherman P. Skinner will address those present at the Baccalaureate service. Dr. Skinner is pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church in St. Louis, Missouri.

EDITORIALS

'59 Looks Back

After four years of varying degrees of educational experience, the members of the Class of '59 see their time of departure close at hand. It is certain that they will remember Drew with mixed emotions.

Most of the prospective graduates seem to appreciate the education they have gained, and certain members of the faculty have earned their lasting admiration through extensive knowledge of their fields, personal sacrifices to stay in education, and, unfortunately, also because of their evident superiority to certain other members.

Convocations, concerts, and visiting speakers have been welcome additions to our cultural diversification, extracurricular activities have developed some of our outside interests, and "college life" at Drew has been expanded greatly during our stay by the addition of the gymnasium and student union. Friendships have been formed by daily contact that will be continued by letter and occasional visit, and these relationships are among the greatest dividends of a small college.

But while our four years at Drew have inspired some reverence on our part, they have also exposed us to her flaws. The problem of the excessive involvement of full-time professors in other college activities, and general "administrative overwork" is a serious one. Some of us have been forcibly impressed by the resultant deficiencies. Drew has functioned too long without the services of a Dean, whose absence is a handicap to a growing University. We hope that the next permanent selection will be a more fortunate one than the last, and that the Chairman of the Faculty can soon be relieved of his extra burden.

Drew must acquire more prominence among potential contributors, and there has been a glaring need for our students to receive wider home-town publicity, so that more prospective college athletes, in particular, may be attracted to Drew. The College Placement service needs more attention than can be given by a full-time professor who also handles the field trip program and is a consulting psychologist. And we wonder if the concentration of duties as three-sport Varsity coach and Athletic Director, in one man, was not another invitation to overwork?

The concentration of too many jobs for too few people is undoubtedly a result of Drew's difficult financial position, a condition with which we sympathize. But it seems to be complicated by a Presidential reluctance to delegate authority commensurate with responsibility, a condition we deplore. All of these pressures probably account for the administrative impatience with student problems that we have had occasion to observe, and for Mead Hall's tendency to take itself a little more seriously than Drew's present size and overall efficiency would warrant.

These conditions are made more lamentable by the forthcoming departure of Victoria Clark, whose competence, devotion, and effectiveness as Mead Hall's coordinator have earned our unanimous respect. She has always appeared to have the answers to our problems at her fingertips. Her new position as Dean of Women at Green Mountain College is a deserved reward, but it is indeed unfortunate that Drew did not see fit to reward her similarly, some years ago.

After examining these problems, we come to the conclusion that most of them can only be solved by additional capable personnel, whose acquisition is a budgetary matter. And more money means more contributions which means you and me, when we become alumni in the not-too-distant future. Personal identification with the college is a strong incentive for generosity, and if our undergraduate opinions about Drew's problems had been consulted more frequently,

Letters To The Editor

A Commendation
In recent weeks there have been a series of attacks upon the Acting-Dean for his handling of certain situations that have arisen. It would appear from these assaults that the students are not sure of what they want from the administration. At first they ask for a closer relationship, but upon receiving this cooperation they fail to show their appreciation.

There are, however, many students who feel that he has been doing an outstanding job. We would like to express our admiration for his recent actions. He has gone out of his way to encourage personal and community responsibility.

We commend you Acting-Dean Schultz!

Final Issue

This is the final issue of the Drew ACORN for this year. We of the ACORN staff would like to take this opportunity to thank all those interested readers who gave such valuable aid in the form of suggestions, criticisms, and (sometimes) compliments. We would also like to thank those University offices and individuals who helped us in the form of information. The next paper will be early in September.

C. B. L.

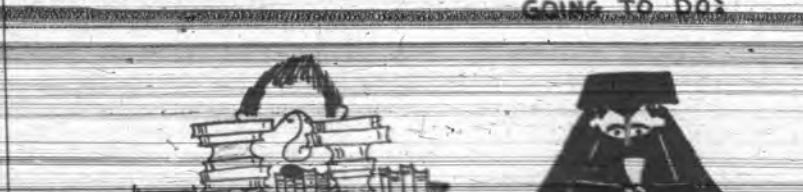

I SWEATED MY WAY THROUGH GRADE SCHOOL AND HIGH SCHOOL... STRIVING EVER ONWARD AND UPWARD TOWARD MY GOAL—COLLEGE.

I WAS ACCEPTED AT A SMALL LIBERAL ARTS COLLEGE FOR WHAT WAS TERMED, A JOURNEY IN PERFECTION.

FOR FOUR YEARS I SAVED, REALLY PROUDLY. I LEARNED A LITTLE ABOUT EVERYTHING, BECOMING A CULTURED MAN. FINALLY MY LABOURS BORE FRUIT—CAME THE DAY OF GRADUATION.

NOW WHAT AM I GOING TO DO?

New Talent, New Courses

1959 College Faculty Adds Five New Profs

The 1959 Fall semester will mark the addition of five new teachers to the liberal arts faculty. They are Mr. James M. Miller, Assistant Professor of Chemistry, Mr. Harold W. Emery, Instructor in History, Mr. David M. Gray, Instructor in Political Science, Mr. Ronald M. Stagg, Instructor in Zoology, and Mr. James Mills, Teaching Fellow in Psychology.

Mr. Miller received his B.A. degree from Elizabethtown College in Pennsylvania, and his M.A. from Purdue. He is working concurrently on his Ph.D. at Purdue and on research in the areas of absorption and fluorescence spectroscopy. He is a member of the American Chemical Society, Sigma Xi, and Phi Lambda Upsilon.

Mr. Miller will teach Analytical Chemistry and Advanced Quantitative Analysis. Mr. Emery received his B.A. at Rutgers, New Brunswick, his M.A. from Emory in Atlanta, Georgia, and holds graduate credits at the University of Pennsylvania and L'Institut Catholique de Paris. He is a member of Phi Beta Kappa, Phi Alpha Theta, Tau Kappa Alpha, and The American Historical Association. He has won the Fulbright Scholarship to France, a Kenfield Fellowship and prizes in French and English. Mr. Emery will teach Medieval, European, and English History.

Mr. Gray received his B.A. in anthropology and his M.A. in international relations at the University of Pennsylvania, where he is currently working on his Ph.D. He is a member of Phi Kappa Psi, The Philadelphia Anthropological Society, The American Political Science Association, and The American Academy of Political Science. Mr. Gray will teach International Relations, Asian and European Politics, and a course entitled the Soviet State and Communist East Europe.

Mr. Stagg, who will teach Comparative Vertebrate Anatomy, earned his B.A. at Tusculum College, Greenville, Tennessee. His M.A. at Brooklyn College, and is presently working on his Ph.D. at Rutgers University, New Brunswick, in the field of vertebrate endocrinology. He is a member of the premedical honor society, Craig Hall Council.

The Psychology Department announces the appointment of Mr. James Mills as a teaching fellow in psychology. Mr. Mills is now a well-known member of Drew's class of 1959, being both a distinguished student and an outstanding leader. He will teach the Effective Study Techniques course next year.

Professor Bernard Greenspan, who has been on leave of absence on a National Science Foundation Scholarship at the University of California, will return to his fourteenth year of teaching in the mathematics department.

parry there, an endless contest of wit and literacy, endlessly delightful. I gave a little shiver.

Her body (the poetess's) can best be described as womanly. A peekaboo blouse revealed a full, checkered bosom (the result, I learned later, of sun-bathing behind a lattice). A multi-colored dimid strained at her commodious hips.

It was difficult to guess her age, so I asked her. She replied with a tap of her fan that broke the skin on my forehead. Chuckling rather more than my wife I entered the garden.

Quote of the Week: "The lines of her body are the lines of least resistance."

THE RAVIN'

Once upon a morning dreary, when my eyes were bloodshot and bleary,

From pondering over many a quaint and curious volume of Professional Orientation (or was it Communication?)

As I nodded nearly napping, suddenly there came a rapping As if someone were attempting to knock down my chamber door!

'Tis my room mate I muttered, only this and nothing more. Then distinctly I remembered it had been since black December That I had last swept the chamber floor.

Could this be the dean knocking at my door?

Or does the person whom I've short-sheeted wish to start a war?

As I sat praying and hoping, Gradually the door creaked open And in entered two women whom I'd never seen before.

'Twas but the cleaning ladies and nothing more! Quoth the cleaning ladies, "Spraaaay!"

Overheard: "So the meek are going to inherit the earth? I'd like to see how meek they'll be"

Free Elections Are Answer To Crisis - Won't Occur: Lutz

In a conclusive interview Roland R. Lutz, Jr., assistant professor of history and political science, presented his views on the Berlin crisis.

He stated that this problem should be considered within the context of the German problem because there is a Western citadel, a corridor from Berlin to West Germany which can be used to cut off supply lines. Russia insists that on May 27 she is going to hand over the administration of the Berlin corridor to East Germany. However, the United States does not recognize the East German government.

On Monday May 11 the East-West foreign ministers conference started in Geneva, Switzerland, and at this all important meeting preparations are being made for a summit conference to consider the German question.

Russia will probably attempt to get an agreement from the Western powers on a peace treaty with the two Germanies—a consideration, because she wants communist East Germany left intact.

The Krushchev plan for Berlin is to transform it into a demilitarized free city under the UN. Also some Western troops will be allowed to be kept there but only during a transitional period.

In the conference Russia will try to get an agreement on the summit conference to be held if the foreign ministers conference is not successful, according to Dr. Lutz. If the foreign ministers conference is still in session

Lynn Chappell, Jane Beardow To Lead Women

Final elections were held on Friday, May 8 for Drew-Eds and WAA, two women's organizations on campus. The slate of 1959-60 officers for WAA includes President, Jane Beardow; Vice President, Bonnie Weir; Secretary, Jane Brown; Treasurer, Barbara Fern; and Hostess, Peg Rheinhardt.

Heading up the Drew-Eds next year will be: President, Lynn Chappell; Vice President, Mary Helen Davis; Secretary, Lee Kaplan; and Treasurer, Edna May Parker.

Another one of the recent activities of WAA included the sending of three representatives: Bonnie Weir, Sally Prettyman, and Bev Gilmore to the NJ-ARFCW Convention at Stokes Forest.

Although there seems to be a slight decrease in the need for the extra half-hour in the evenings, the library will remain open until 10:30 Monday through Thursday, until May 30th.

World News In Brief

GENEVA, MAY 9—

Andrei A. Gromyko, Soviet Foreign Minister, called today for liquidation of the Allied occupation of West Berlin at the foreign minister's conference opening here Monday. This re-statement of the Soviet position on West Berlin was coupled by Mr. Gromyko with the hope that the meeting would lead to an early East-West conference of heads of government that could take "necessary decisions."

WASHINGTON, MAY 9—

President Eisenhower has sent another urgent appeal to Nikita Krushchev, the Soviet Premier, for progress toward an agreement on banning nuclear weapons tests.

TOKYO, MAY 9—

Diplomats and other experts on Asian affairs passing through this crossroads capital report a striking shift of sentiment in favor of the United States and against Communist China in the newly independent countries to the south.

HOT SPRINGS, VA., MAY 9—

Executives and economists of several dozen of the nation's biggest businesses foresee a "slow, healthy and moderate growth" of the national economy, but "without any zip." They expect this acceleration to last at least to the middle of 1960.

NEW YORK CITY, MAY 9—

Mayor Wagner's attempt to settle the two-day-old strike at six private hospitals hit a snag last night on the issue of racial exploitation. A charge that the hospitals were exploiting the city's pool of Negro and Puerto Rican labor was made by Harry Van Arsdale Jr., president of the New York City Central Labor Council.

WASHINGTON, MAY 9—

The House Committee on Science and Astronautics called on the Administration to establish a "more definite" policy toward international control and use of outer space. At present, the committee complained, the United States has "no crystallized policy toward space—other than its general commitment to reserve space for peaceful purposes and to study related problems."

Library Experiment A Success

Dr. Jones, librarian, reported to the Student Council last week that the experiment in opening the Library on Sunday afternoons during the month of April, extended through the first week of May, has generally proved successful, with some qualifications. Budgetary provision for staffing the buildings on Sunday afternoon next semester will be made, feeling that it is easier to commence with a program of this kind and then curtail it if it does not meet satisfactory response rather than institute it after the year begins.

During the experimental period, there were 103 users of the library on April 6th; 105 on April 12th; 88 on April 19th; 53 on April 26th; and 49 on May 3rd. Of course, all of these users did not remain for the full period in which the library was open. The falling attendance and the burden of keeping the building open indicated that the experiment should be terminated for this year. However, enough need has been discovered for the additional service to try it on a regular basis next year.

As we are approaching the end of the school year may we express a word of thanks to the students of Drew for their co-operation during this year of change for us. We hope we have been able to please most of you and look forward to an even better year with you in 1959-60.

To those of you who are graduating go our best wishes for the future and the hope you will remember to visit us when you are back on the Drew campus.

RANGERS LOSE TO POST, DEFEAT GRADS

Sophs Trounce Jrs. 20-7; Frosh Down Srs. 9-8

In last week's only set of intramural softball games, the frosh moved into first place in the league by defeating the Seniors by the score of 9-8. At the same time, the Sophs easily whipped the winless Juniors, 20-7.

The Frosh opened fast by scoring one run in their half of the first on two hits and a passed ball. However, the Seniors weren't to be discounted as they used seven walks to garner 3 runs. Eight men batted for the Seniors and they produced just one hit in their first inning at bat. The third inning saw both teams score two runs on three hits as the Seniors maintained their lead.

In the fourth the Seniors benefited from two Frosh errors and brought across 3 runs to open their lead to 8-3. However, the Frosh fifth saw 6 big runs pour across the plate on two Senior errors and three Frosh hits.

On the field near the tennis courts, the Sophs swamped the Juniors 20-7. The Sophs scored 5 runs in an explosive first inning due to three timely hits and two Junior errors. In the Junior first, Grace and Sears scored the initial Junior runs. The second inning saw five Soph runs on five hits and a walk. The big blow of the inning was "Wimpy" Engler's thunderous triple to left center field. In the third the Sophs scored three more runs on one hit and three walks. Eight men batted for the Sophs in the fourth inning and drove in four more runs with two timely hits.

The Juniors fought back and scored three runs in the third and two more in the fourth but the final three runs by the Sophs in the last inning made the score 20-7.

Games tonight pit the Frosh against the Sophs and the Seniors against the Juniors at 6:15.

Editor's Corner

by Art Binz

Another year of sports draws to a close, and, with a few exceptions, it has been a gratifying year to all connected with Drew athletics. The Soccer team, led by Tony Kaiafas and the Smits, turned in another winning season. Basketball again was the "weak sister" in sports but next year could be different as Harv Oostdyk is expected back and will join with most of this year's team. The Fencing team, with Dykas, Blair, and Levine showing the way, was exceptionally strong and should do well again next year. Our two spring sports, baseball and tennis, are both strong. The diamond squad will probably wind up with a winning record, despite the fact that some tough opponents were included on the schedule. Coach Art Nijarian seems to have only one major worry and that is to get the ACORN to spell his name properly. My congratulations to Nish for turning out a fine squad. I would like to express thanks to all who have helped me, worked with me, and helped make my first semester as Sports Editor a pleasant one.

COFFEY PITCHING AGAINST ONEONTA

Netmen Defeat Newark-Rutgers; Lose To Stevens In Tight Duel

by Conrad Heins

On Monday, May 4, the Drew netmen handily defeated Rutgers University in Newark 6-2 to boost their season record to 4-2-1. The match was practically won after the singles, with Drew taking four of the six matches.

On Saturday, Drew was just beaten on the home courts of Stevens Institute of Technology. Stevens, sporting a 7-1 record, was out to pick up its eighth scalp. Drew, undefeated in match play in this area, was shooting for the unofficial championship of the small colleges of the North Jersey region. In three singles matches Drew men were unable to pick up a crucial second set after winning the first. If only one of these duce matches had broken the other way Drew would have been on the long end of the 5-4 score. The match was played on soft clay, which was considerably slower than the composition surface of our own courts. Well angled cross-courts and fast down-the-line shots, winners on a faster surface, could be gotten with little difficulty. It became a retrievers game, a style which the Stevens players had become well adapted to. Playing primarily to return everything that was hit to them (the best strategy on such a surface) the Stevens men allowed Drew to make the errors. Down 2-4 at the end of the singles (Heins and Poultny won their matches), Drew still nearly came back. Poultny and Modigliani won their doubles in straight sets, and Hipsher and Heins did not lose a game. The combination of Swydan and Chestnut was unable to pick up the big fifth point, however.

NETMEN TROUNCE TRENTON; 8-3-1 SEASON'S LOG SEEN

by Conrad Heins

The Drew Tennis team picked up its fifth win of the year by plastering a weak Trenton team 8-1. Drew swept the singles to give them an unbeatable 6-0 lead. In the doubles, Chestnut-Swydan and Poultny-Modigliani won their matches with little difficulty. Hipsher and Smit, playing together for the first time, were edged out by Trenton's No. 1 doubles team 6-1, 3-6, 4-6.

Another match between these two teams is scheduled for May 14 on Drew's home courts. On Tuesday, May 12, the team will meet St. Peter's on the Drew hardtops. Then follows the Trenton State rematch which in turn will be followed by a home contest with Newark College of Engineering. This will be the final match of the season. The team should win these matches handily, thus giving the squad a fine 8-3-1 record for the season.

SQUAD ROUTS UPSALA 7-1 AS TEAM SPARKS

by Dave Poultny

On Wednesday, May 6, at the Upsala courts in East Orange, the Drew netmen played their finest tennis of the season, defeating Upsala 7-1 for their fourth consecutive victory. This match was originally slated for April but had to be rescheduled due to inclement weather.

Winning five of the six singles matches to clinch the win, and both doubles matches, one having been mutually waived, Drew handily defeated a team which certainly ranks as a good one.

Highlighting the action were Ed Chestnut, who repeatedly won the crucial points, and Dave Poultny, who displayed a very consistent game. Both men won their hard-fought singles contests to help turn the match into a rout.

Bo Smit continued his winning streak, extending his record to six wins and one loss, while in doubles, the team of Pete Modigliani and Dave Poultny won once again to remain undefeated through the team's first seven matches. Sam Hipsher and Connie Heins, after winning easily in singles, combined to win the only other doubles match played.

Rangers Stopped By Post 13-11; Coffey, Littlejohn Leading Hitters

by Dan Marcus

Drew's baseball team traveled to Brookville, Long Island last Wednesday to meet C.W. Post, a branch of Long Island University. After winning two games the weekend before, the Drew nine was indeed up for the game. But overconfidence was overshadowed by the Post hits and thirteen runs as they handed Drew a 13-11 defeat.

Home runs by Triscia and Keck for Post weighed heavily in their final outcome. Their win, however, was aided more by Drew's ten errors than any of the Post blows.

The only good sign attributed to Drew in the game was the fact that they came from behind to tie the score at 8-8 in the seventh and to forge ahead 10-9 in the eighth. The lead was short-lived, however, as Keck stepped up following two walks to his teammates and walloped Coffey's curve ball over the left field fence, taking Ron Saldarini over also as he tried desperately for the catch.

The greatest factor for the loss is one which has been met with continually this season. That is a lack of hitting in the clutch, which is evidenced by the fact that Drew left eighteen men stranded on the bases during the course of the game.

Rod Spencer led the Drew hitting with two singles and a triple.

Bryan Coffey and George Littlejohn had two hits apiece. Singles by Hayward, Saldarini, and Marcus rounded out the Ranger hitting for the day.

Rangers Thump Grads 21-16 As Hitters Connect

by Larry Day

On Saturday, May 9, the Drew Rangers won over the Drew Alumni 21-16 in a game in which everything happened.

The game started out with the Alumni team taking an early lead as they scored five runs in the first, one in the second and two in the third. By the seventh inning the score stood at 16-4 in favor of the Alumni team.

At the end of seven it was agreed to play two more by both sides. That was a mistake for the Alumni. The Alumni went scoreless in their half of the eighth. Drew, however, batted around three times with just about everyone hitting. Rock Smith went 3 for 3 and scored 3 times in the big eighth. When the smoke cleared Drew had scored 17 runs.

Baseball wise it was a very poor game, but entertainment wise it was a very enjoyable game.

Women's Sports

by Joyce Samanick

On Monday, May 4, the girls' tennis team triumphed over Caldwell in their biggest match of the season. With a final score of 5-0, in a series of three single matches and two doubles, they gave the opponents no mercy. Anne-Marie Bamesberger, Sally Prettyman, and Jill Kremetz were the singles victors, while the Celine Agostini-Sue Carter and Jane Beardow-Pat Gee partners neatly polished off the doubles.

There are, at present, from ten to twelve girls on the team, which was first organized in April. The manager, Anne-Marie Bamesberger, has kept it well-supplied with matches, hoping to have a fuller schedule next year. The girls competed with St. Elizabeth's on April 17, and with Centenary and April 29. This Friday, May 8, they will play their final match, once again with St. Elizabeth's.

During the past year, the physical education department has introduced a more varied curriculum, seeing the beginning of water ballet, soccer and lacrosse for women. We express much appreciation to Miss Cronin for her encouragement and advice, in helping us to realize the place they have on our campus, and to Janet Logan, who gave her so much assistance.
