

Retreat Oct. 9-11, To Explore "Spirit" Led by Rev. Boyd

"Our Lord the Spirit" is the theme of this year's fall retreat, to be held this week-end, October 9 through 11, at the Morris County "Y" Camp, Camp Morris.

The Reverend James Boyd, former chaplain of the college, presently of Summit, New Jersey, will present three talks on the basic theme, the Holy Spirit.

Council Names Comm. Heads At 1st Meeting

The initial Student Council meeting of the year was held last Wednesday, September 30, with President Bob Bredin in charge. Although the meeting was called mainly for organizational purposes, a few topics were discussed at length.

Gaining the Council's approval for committee appointments were: Mac Hulslander, re-appointed chairman of the Honor System Committee (any interested students are to contact him for appointment to the committee), Elaine Norris and Shelly Steiner, student members of the College Convocation Committee, and Carol Greenway, chairman of the Bulletin Board Committee.

Other items on the agenda included the presentation of the Student Council President's Report and discussion of the Commuter parking problem, with special reference to the University Center parking lot.

DU Republicans Launch Program On October 7th

With a letter of greeting from President Eisenhower as a "send-off," the Drew Young Republican Club began its activities for the year. The largest membership since the club's organization participated in the first regular meeting on September 23, when the program for the year was discussed.

The group will meet on October 7 for election of state and county (Continued on page 3)

Pastorage, Books, Candidacy Highlight Socialist's Career

by L. Philibert

Norman Thomas, a significant political figure and commentator on current affairs, addressed the student body at 11:00 this morning in Baldwin Gymnasium. His topic for the convocation, the first of the year at Drew, was "You and the Future."

Dr. Thomas was educated at Princeton University and Union Theological Seminary; he received the Litt. D. from Princeton in 1932. Pastor of the East Harlem Presbyterian Church from 1911-1918, he left the ministry in 1931.

His career has primarily been that of a politician. Although he never won an election, Dr. Thomas was the Socialist Party candidate twice for the office of mayor of New York City and once for the position of governor of New York. Six times between 1928-1948 he was the Socialist candidate for President (in 1932 he polled nearly 900,000 votes).

To illustrate further his Socialist principles, Dr. Thomas founded and edited "World Tomorrow" and became associate editor of "The Nation." His books include: The Conscientious Objector in America, America's Way Out, As I See It, What's the Matter With New York Human Exploitation, War No Profit, No Glory No Need, A Socialist's Faith and The Test of Freedom.

Dr. Thomas has also spoken frequently on television. Recent honors which he has received include a testimonial luncheon attended by 1,300 persons in New York City. The sponsors included Dr. John Dewey, Dr. Harry Emerson Fosdick, and Reinhold Niebuhr.

N. Khrushchev Talks Religion; Pain Interprets

"You may say that I personally am an atheist," stated Nikita Khrushchev, addressing a Hollywood luncheon. "But I am speaking in the name of my people, and among them we have representatives of all faiths. In the old days the Russians took the Greeks' religion. So we're also friends and brothers before Christ."

Drew Chaplain James H. Pain informs us that when Mr. Khrushchev, in Los Angeles, spoke of the Russians as "brothers before Christ" with the Greeks, he made references to the interdependence of that great segment of the Christian Church known as the Orthodox.

Chaplain Pain is currently national chairman of the United States branch of the Fellowship of St. Alban and St. Sergius. The Fellowship attempts to bring together members of the Eastern Orthodox Church and other Christians for purposes of mutual understanding.

Mr. Khrushchev referred to Spyros Skouras, the movie magnate as "my dear brother Greek," and added: "Yes, the Russians do call the Greeks brothers because we took part in the war to free Greece."

This brotherhood was affirmed by Metropolitan Nikolai of Krutitsy and Koloma, Moscow Patriarchate of the Russian Orthodox Church in his recent letter to members of the World Council of Churches meeting in Rhodes, Greece.

In part his letter said: "I greet the members of the Central Committee of the World Council of Churches first of all as champion of Christian reunion. We Orthodox Christians are in great sympathy with the ecumenical movement because we believe that our western brothers honestly aim at overcoming the destructive separation in faith in order to maintain the unity of the Spirit in the bond of peace." (Eph. 4:3).

He continues, "I wish the meeting blessed success in the solution of the questions they have to deal with, and I beg you to believe in our collaboration in everything which can serve the great task of re-uniting the Christians as well as the strengthening of peace among the nations."

Chest X-Ray

CHEST X-RAY SURVEY will be held on October 13. 10:00-12:00 a.m. 1:00-3:00 p.m.

In front of Bowne Lecture Hall.

All incoming students and all juniors are expected to report.

Smith Presents Honors Report To Faculty Fri.

Routine matters dominated the monthly faculty meeting held on Friday, October 2, 1959. Dean Schultz presided over the first portion of the meeting, after which he turned it over to Dr. Smith, who presented a report on the Honor System.

Mr. Bevin, registrar, gave the final statistics on college enrollment. Included in the total figure of 544 are 187 freshmen, 137 sophomores, 96 juniors, and 90 seniors. The ratio between men and women is 269 and 275, respectively. Dean Schultz then named the chairmen of the standing college committees for 1959-1960.

The majority of the meeting was taken up with the discussion of the honor system, following a report by Dr. Smith. The faculty presented various suggestions for changes or revisions, which will be taken back to the student body.

Theses In View

Honors Candidates Report Plans Projects Due in Early December

Eight seniors, members of the Honors Colloquium, reported last week on the progress they have made to date toward the completion of their honors theses. Those present were Avis Foote, Martha Pierce, Carol Stoneburner, Alice Chiariello, John Fischer, Lee Mondschein, Rand Castile, and Spencer Eddy. Carl Verrusio, unable to attend the colloquium, is also writing a thesis.

The theses, which were begun last January, are scheduled for completion in rough form during the first week of December.

Miss Foote, a religion major, is writing her paper on the American camp meeting and its hymnody. Miss Pierce and Mrs. Stoneburner, also majoring in religion, are exploring the topics John Wesley's eschatology and the doctrine of redemption in the works of Charles Williams, respectively.

A psychology major, Miss Chiariello is working on the role of the psychologist in advertising and motivation research. John Fischer, whose major field is the classics, has been undertaking a study of Carthage; Lee Mondschein, a mathematics major, is working with group theory, an algebraic concept.

Mr. Castile, whose major is political science, has been treating the relationship of the bureaucracy to family life in pre-Communist China. Mr. Eddy, an English major, is preparing an analysis of the Cornhill magazine from 1871-1882. Mr. Verrusio, a zoology major, is doing research on anatomical and histological specialization in Dipodomys spectabilis.

CONGRATULATIONS

Congratulations are in order for this year's freshman class. From the standpoint of pure entertainment, their class show was one of the finest student productions at Drew in recent years.

Some of the various acts at "Club 63" had a surprising professional quality, an absence of rough edges and an abundance of poise. In others the very lack of professionalism supplied the element of entertainment (such being the case in that amazing incredible male chorus line).

On the whole the balance of the total performance was quite good; it was obvious that one act did not follow another haphazardly. Several imaginative touches, such as "Sheena's" gymnastics, added greatly to the show's liveliness.

We mustn't forget the set: although simple, it was very effective. We hope that future productions at Drew will show the same feeling and taste for set design shown by the frosh Saturday night.

The show's large audience, we are sure, will gladly bestow the individual orchids. Judging from the responses we overheard Saturday night, there will be bouquets.

'THINGS PAST ....'

It was a small campus in those days. We had a coffee shop that wasn't much good, and a lounge in B. C. which was very noisy. Now we have a restaurant—and a foyer in B. C.

The reason, we think, that the lounge in B. C., instead of the more obvious chapel, was converted into a classroom, was the belief that the students that lounge in the lounge were less organized than those that worship in the chapel. Now we have a much more disorganized group in the makeshift lounge, and soon we will have three highly organized chapels on campus. Is this democracy? No, this is progress!

As we project ourselves into the cold winter next, we find our loungers paying the price for their disorganization. Where will go the dripping wet raincoats, and where the cold blasts of wind which whip through our new, and cross ventilated lounge? On the heads of the disorganized, of course. And though it may not be the snows of yesteryear we will find the snows of next year in wet puddles around our feet. Perhaps we are out of order, but there seems to be something slightly wrong with this plan.

If there is some plan, of which we do not know, whereby these problems will be eliminated, we apologize to the powers that be for our hasty criticism. If there is none, then we suggest that one be formulated.

UP IN THE AIR

What has become of the honor system issue? Much of the enthusiasm demonstrated last year both for acceptance of an honor system and for its rejection seems now to have become apathy.

Returning students may remember that at the end of last year the issue was left up in the air: no definite opinion seemed to have been reached by the student council concerning the advisability of an honor system. Objections were based mainly upon semantic grounds, on the wording of the proposed system drafted by a special committee within the student council. Left in the air, the issue now threatens to float away.

We urge that students who don't want this to happen

Movie Review

It's Magic! Bergman Scores High In Swedish 'Magician'

by Pat Taite

The Bergman who has reached the cinematic zenith of popularity in the last year would certainly seem to be Ingmar and not Lina. This Swedish director has a moving, simple, yet symbolic style which raises his productions far above the genre which is now being shown in the movie theatres in New York.

The Magician, which is Bergman's third recent release, deals with the problem of belief in the supernatural, and its conflicts with science about a century ago. It also considers the larger problems of human nature, hypocrisy, and numerous other almost archetypal problems.

In the opening scene of the movie a group of travelling magicians is making its way to a small Swedish town in which it is to play a show. It is dusk, and the company's coach is all but enveloped in a forest heavy with sepulchral mist. In this type of scene Bergman is in his element, and his ability to create a mood through photographic effects cannot be challenged.

The plot of The Magician is simple, but the problems inherent in it are many. The group is detained at the home of the chief of Police in the town in which they were to play, at the request of the town's doctor (and incumbent scientist). The purpose of this detention is to establish to what extent the members of the show really possess supernatural powers, and the larger problem which appears here is engendered in the attitude of the doctor and the police chief, which is: "If we allow that these people are gifted with supernatural powers we must then allow for other such powers; namely, a God." Thus they must prove these magicians are fakes, or recognize a flaw in their own agnostic philosophy.

The answer to this is not put forth to the audience, and one must decide for himself which philosophy finally dominates, which is after all the case with life itself. Bergman is merely restating a universal conflict.

Another point, which approximates the Chinese box situation, is Bergman's identification with the leading character, the Magician. Taking as his precept that the task of the director like that of the playwright, is to instill in his audience the "willing suspension of disbelief," he created a character who must operate on this same principle. The audience, then, becomes the object of Bergman's charity in much the same way that the doctor and the police chief are the magician's.

The entire caliber of the production is excellent; the characters are more than just believable, they are real. The dual personality of the leading character, the Magician himself, is delicately delineated.

THE MAGICIAN is an altogether enjoyable and thought-provoking evening of entertainment, and a movie not to be missed.

From The Dean

Dear Editor:

May I express my deep appreciation to all of those who participated so enthusiastically and cooperatively in the campus clean-up day on September 19th. We can all feel a sense of satisfaction not only in the improved appearance of the campus in many areas but in the fact that we had a part in the improvement.

My sincere thanks are extended to all.

Cordially,

European Institute Founded in Vienna Offer Year Abroad

When eighty-five American fellows and girls boarded the S.S. Ryndam on September 9 they brought to more than 1,000 the number of college undergraduate students who have participated in the study-travel program of the Institute of European Studies since its beginnings in 1950. The eighty-five students will begin a two semester, fully accredited course of studies at the University of Vienna and participate in two and one half months of travel-study in nine European countries. The entire European School year plan, which includes transportation, room and board, tuition and travel, will cost them $2080 complete.

Since the first group of twenty-three American students pioneered the first program of the Institute of European Studies in 1950, the Institute has shown steady growth, under Mr. Paul Koutny, an Austrian who conceived the plan, in 1949, and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence E. Giese, American directors of the Institute, who were part of the first twenty-three students.

The Institute, in Vienna, now has a working agreement with the University of Vienna whereby all credits the students receive are transferable to their undergraduate degrees.

Most of the students spend their junior year of college in the I.E.S. program, then return to graduate with their class from a U.S. college. There are no restrictions on participation in the program other than a C average and approval by their deans of studies. The program is open to students between the ages of 18 and 25 years.

Small colleges in particular have participated in the program, out of a conviction that a year of travel and study abroad for their students would offset some of the built-in provincialism of the small school.

The Chicago office in the Pure Oil Building, 35 Wacker Drive, Room 574 is now accepting applications for the Spring semester which begins in February and costs $1395.00 complete.

Elections Held; Conlon, Banks Manage Choir

Bessie Conlon and Les Banks are new co-managers of the college choir, it was announced today. Nancy Bahmuller is Secretary of the group; Vickie Dudley is Librarian; Pat Gee is in charge of Robes and Publicity will be headed by Carolyn Thompson and Ardy Bryan, Larry Flood and Neil Mosher.

The first engagement of the choir will be at the Reformation Day Service on Sunday, October 25, at the Grace Episcopal Church. Sponsored by the Madison-Hanover-Florham Park Ministerial Association, the eight combined choirs, under the direction of Mr. Berenbroick, will render Heinrich Schuetz' Psalm 100, Vaughan Williams' Lord, Thou Hast Been Our Refuge, and Paul Bunjes' choral concerto on A Mighty Fortress Is Our God.

Drew-eds Plan Night At Theatre For DU Sisters

Big and little sisters will meet officially for the last time at the Big-and-Little Sister Movie Date, scheduled for this Friday, October 9, at the Madison Theatre.

Little sisters will be guests, and refreshments will be served when the "sisters" return on campus.

The purpose of the program, sponsored by the Drew-Eds, is to acquaint the incoming freshmen women with Drew before they arrive and help them feel more in a part of Drew after they arrive.

This year's Drew-Ed officers are: Lynn Chappel, president; Mary Helen Davis, vice-president; Lee Kaplan, secretary; and Eddie May Parker, treasurer.

delegates and a general discussion of the party organization and principles, concentrating on the question, "Why Should You Affiliates With a Political Party?" On October 21, the club plans to conduct an absentee ballot campaign. These meetings are open to all Drew undergraduates.

Emilie Paul, a member of the club, has been appointed co-chairman of the New Jersey College Young Republican organization, and Charles Nelson is serving as state membership chairman.

Excelsior! 68% DU Grads Work For Higher Degrees

by Dave Samuelson

According to a survey recently undertaken by the Drew Alumni Association, in connection with the thirtieth anniversary of the college, 68% of Drew's graduates go on to work for advanced degrees. Out of 1100 questionnaires concerning occupations, family information, and community activities as well as graduate study, 800 were returned, and 535 graduates claim 580 degrees since leaving Drew.

A civilkonom and a rabbinical degree were included among these. There are 149 Master of Arts, 100 Bachelor of Divinity, 81 Doctor of Philosophy, 66 Master of Science, 33 Doctor of Medicine, and 32 Bachelor of Laws.

Drew Theological Seminary heads the list of the 125 schools attended, claiming 76 graduates, 52 attended Columbia, 31 New York University, 28 Yale, 25 Rutgers, and 21 Syracuse. Other colleges, universities, and institutes include: Bologna (Italy), Brown, Bryn Mawr, California, Cal. Tech., Chicago, Fordham, Hawaii, MIT, Montreal, Simmons, Smith, Stanford, Stockholm, Toronto, and Yeshiva. Although geographically centered in the Northeastern United States, the list includes 33 states, the District of Columbia, and three foreign countries. 145 students attended 22 New York schools, and 130 studied at 12 New Jersey colleges, Pennsylvania follows, with 11 schools and 36 students, then Massachusetts, 8 and 36, Connecticut, 5 and 34, and Illinois, 7 and 22.

Roughly 7% of our graduates are in the fields of Fine Arts (language and literature, music, art, theater), and 2% in Science (including engineering and medicine). The remaining 74% fall under the general category of the study of man (social and behavioral science, education, philosophy, administration, law, and religious subjects).

Narrowing this down, we find religious topics interesting 21%, physical and natural science 19%, social science 13%, behavioral science 11%, medicine and education 9% each, and language and literature (combined) and law 6% each.

For those interested in more individualized statistics, the following table is offered.

Cheering Squad Selects Three; Frosh Dominate

On Thursday, October 1, the cheerleaders added three new freshmen to the squad. They include, Sylvia Sparks, Judy Hurd, and as alternate, Cindy Nylin.

The girls were chosen not only on the ability to cheer, but also on their personality, smile, voice, and appearance.

The judges for the tryouts were Miss Dominovitch (ex-cheer leader advisor), Miss Cronin, Dr. Bush (cheerleader advisor), Marion Dickinson, and the cheering squad.

Saturday, the new cheerleaders joined under Deanna Formica, captain, at the Drew-Trenton State soccer game. A new cheerleader, Ann Norvik, on behalf of the squad, wished to express her thanks to all those who came out to support the team.

purpose. I hope that these two groups will be able to shake Drew campus from its rank apathy.

Locally, the Drew Young Republicans, under the leadership of President Linda MacNish, are planning an active year. I am particularly encouraged by the club's plan to carry on an absentee ballot campaign, this fall among Drew students. Other officers of the organization are: John Fisher, A. Skronberg, Susan Livingston, and Emily Paul.

An organizational meeting for a Drew chapter of the Students for Democratic Action, a non-partisan group devoted to liberalism, was held Thursday evening. It is hoped that this group will promote a liberal atmosphere for the discussion of political, economic, and social issues, as it purports to do in its statement of

Drew Downed 6-0 By Strong Pratt Offensive

by Larry Day

On Wednesday afternoon, Sept. 30, the Drew Rangers lost a game to Pratt, one of the best teams in this area and possibly one of the best in the country. The score was 6-0. Pratt's team was virtually the same as last year's which went undefeated in thirteen games and was second in the All New York standings. This game was one of the roughest the Rangers will have to play all season.

Right from the first the game was a defensive one from the Drew standpoint. Although the Pratt team was very strong, the Rangers held them to only two goals until late in the third quarter. Fine defensive play was turned in by all of the Ranger squad, especially by Rock Smith who as goalie made 25 saves, by Mike Sherbin the right back, and Dan Marcus the left back.

Coach Tappin attributes the loss not only to the fact that the opposition was much stronger, but also to injuries to key Ranger men. Andy France has an injured left thigh and was not able to run as fast as he normally can. Andy Kaiafas has an injured ankle and he too was slowed considerably. These two injuries especially hurt the squad since they greatly reduced our defensive ability.

All in all the loss wasn't as bad as the score makes it appear. The team did a fine job against a markedly superior opponent. After the Trenton State game the squad will meet Rutgers of South Jersey on Young Field at 3:00 p.m. The next game will not be until Tuesday, Oct. 13 when the Green & Gold plays the Stevens Engineers.

NATIONAL SPORTS BRIEFS

Baseball—The World Series shifted to Los Angeles as the Dodgers prepare to meet the White Sox in the third game of what is to be expected to be, by some experts, a seven game series. A crowd of 92,500 is anticipated, setting an all time World Series record. In the first game the White Sox, behind Early Wynn, trounced the Dodgers 11-0 as the 'Singles Wonders' came to life with booming home runs. In the second game pitching predominated as Johnny Podres hurled six innings to pick up the victory, defeating opponent Buck Shaw.

Football—The mighty Black Knights of Army invaded the Land of Lincoln, the victims of a stunning reversal at the hands of the Illinois football team.

In one of the biggest upsets of the college football season the Fighting Illini, scrapping for every inch, struck early and held well. They beat Army 20-11, before a large crowd at Memorial Stadium.

In other games the Quakers of Philadelphia conquered Dartmouth 13-0 SMU downed Navy 20-7 and Princeton tripped Columbia 22-0.

Sports Personality

by Sally Prettyman

Our sports personality of this week is not new by any means to the Drew Sports Scene. Although not a team member as such, there would be no teams for college women if it were not for the untiring efforts of Miss Barbara Ann Cronin. Miss Cronin has been the head of the Physical Education Department for Women for the past two years.

She comes to us from West Orange, New Jersey, where she taught in the high school for two years. Before that she taught at Wheaton College in Norton, Mass., while getting her Masters Degree at Smith College.

Miss Cronin has added a lot of enthusiasm and pep to our physical education department. Since her arrival, the girls have been able to play lacrosse, as well as the traditional soccer, tennis, badminton, volley ball and basketball. This year she is initiating an Intermediate Class in Modern Dance. The program is expanding rapidly as can be seen by an increase of the load on our present facilities.

A few weeks ago, Miss Cronin returned from Europe. She spent the entire summer over there and toured much of the continent. Besides her love of travel, she also likes to read and is a vivid fan of all sports. Her particular favorites are basketball and tennis.

Everyone who knows Miss Cronin is aware of her peppy personality and her unending supply of energy. When asked how she stands her busy schedule and late hours, she replied, "I only wish I had more time to work with each student to improve her own particular interest. Physical education can and should be a real part of every co-ed's campus life." We agree with you Miss Cronin and take our hats off to you for all your efforts.

Miss Cronin

Opening Fencing Meeting To Be Held Wednesday

Fencing, traditionally one of the strongest sports at Drew, will hold its first meeting of the year Wednesday at 7:00 p.m. in the lounge of Baldwin Hall. Anyone interested in fencing should attend this meeting as important organizational and other matters will be discussed. The veteran fencers have already met and all agree that there is the potential for a fine team.

Returning in foil this year are captain Bill Blair, North Atlantic Champion Don Levine, and Rand Castile. Bob Bosdorf, Joel Lowinger, Elliot Esterman and John Klapmuts are the epee veterans while leading the sabre squad will be Bob Bredin and Art Mauceri, with a fight for third place between Brian Coffey and Fred Haberman.

The loss of Andy Dykas, who was the leading sabre man for Drew the past three seasons, will undoubtedly hurt the squad. But Co-Captain Joel Lowinger is optimistic as he "sees no reason, on the basis of last year's record, winning the N.C.E. Tournament, and placing third in the North Atlantic's (which will be held at Drew this year), why the squad shouldn't be one of Drew's finest." Undoubtedly, the nucleus of a strong team is present but additional help will be needed, especially in the early part of the season as Blair will not join the team until the second semester. Freshmen interested are urged to be at this meeting.

The first co-ed swim of the year will be held in the Baldwin Gymnasium pool Wednesday from 7 to 9 p.m. Coach Tappin and lifeguards will be on hand.

Squad Rips Teachers For First Time In History. Record 3-1.

By Doug Davis

On Saturday afternoon a fighting Ranger squad made its record 3 and 1, as the team scored a spectacular last quarter win over the visiting Trenton State Lions. The victory was heightened by the fact that this is the first time we have ever beaten a Trenton soccer team.

Chief Lion tamer Tony Kaiafas scored the only two goals in a rough and bitterly contested struggle. The game was also highlighted by the outstanding play of Craig Wilkinson as he headed the ball expertly and seemed to be all over the field.

The Rangers were handicapped by injuries to Andy France, Andy Kaiafas, Bob Berger and Dave Pitkin, but they didn't let this keep them from going all out to win. Trenton State played a wild, reckless type game while Drew preferred to control the ball and work it in for a good shot. Up until the final quarter it could have gone either way, as both teams narrowly missed goals. Throughout the game Andy Kaiafas and Dan Marcus contributed sparkling defense to keep the Green and Gold out of trouble.

The Ranger fans got a bad scare in the third quarter as Trenton State scored a goal only to have it called back on a penalty. Then, with eight minutes left, Rock Smith made a beautiful pass over the Trenton fullback's head to Tony Kaiafas, who eluded three pursuing Lions and broke into the clear to score the big goal that broke the tie. Two minutes later, he took a well placed corner kick from Ed Chestnut and headed it off a Trenton fullback and over the leaping Lion goalie for an insurance tally. This was Tony's sixth goal in four games putting him ahead of the sensational fourteen goal pace he set last year.

A happy surprise at half time was colorful entertainment by the Drew band. They drew tumultuous applause as they marched out on the field to form a block D.

Women's Sports

by Bonnie Weir

This is a weekly column written by a woman and designed to acquaint women with what is going on in the Girls Athletic Association (GAA). Any co-ed with news of interest is urged to contact Bonnie Weir, either in person or through Campus mail.

Because of the enthusiastic turnout for the swim-meet between the freshmen and sophomores last year, we are holding another meet this fall. The competition will be on a class basis with all classes competing. There will be a practice and instruction session on October 8th designed to give everyone interested in participating a chance to familiarize herself with the rules and to meet her teammates.

Volleyball will start on October 14th in the evening. All of the games will be on Wednesday nights from 6:45 to 8:00. The pool will be open at this time so that the players may take a refreshing dip. Rogers, Wesley, Asbury, the Commuters, and each floor of the new dormitory will have a team.

A date to play soccer against Union High School, which fields three varsity soccer teams, has already been arranged. We of the GAA hope that you will all come out to watch and cheer the girls on.

The girls' tennis team is handicapped this fall by the loss of several good players, including Anne Bamesburger who was ranked number one. We hope to set up a tournament this fall and play one outside match. The returning players are Pat Gee, Shannon Raferty, Sally Prettyman, Jane Beardow, Bonnie Weir and Celine Agostini. Any girls who are interested in playing should see Miss Cronin.

That is about all that is coming up in the near future. If you are interested in any of these activities or have any questions, Miss Cronin will be glad to see you.

Retreat

Co-chairmen for the retreat are Avis Foote and Dave Colman.

Centered around these talks of Rev. Boyd, a full program of personal and group worship has been scheduled. Also free time has been scheduled, reports Co-chairman Avis Foote, to give the participant opportunity to reflect on what he has heard, perhaps help-

Seniors Down Frosh 9-0; Jrs Conquer Sophs

by J. J.

Friday afternoon saw the seniors and juniors emerge successfully as the intramural football season opened on Young Field. Although the frosh and the sophs both came out on the short ends, they pointed out that their future matches will be far from "push-overs."

The seniors tallied nine points as the frosh went scoreless. In the first period, Bob Bredin and Vic Burke nailed Dave Klett in his own end zone to record two points for the upperclassmen. The seniors touchdown came as Jack Kingsley hit George Hayward with a pass. This situation was set up on the previous play as a pass from Kingsley to Lundberg brought the ball down to the 10 yard line. Kingsley, having a fine day on the field, added the extra point on a run around the left end.

The final score of the junior-soph game was 8-7. The juniors picked up two points as Bruce Reid caught Bob Catlin in his own end zone. Their other score came on a pass from Bill Engler to Shelly Steiner. The sophs tallied on a pass also as Catlin hit Larry Flood in the end zone. The extra point was added as Catlin again passed; this time to Al Swann.

ing him to become better acquainted with himself and his God. There will be periods for discussion and evaluation as well.

Costs for the weekend, which begins at 6:30 p.m. on Friday and ends at 2:30 p.m. Sunday, is five dollars. Those planning to attend for only a portion of the time will be given reduced rates.

Formal announcements have been mailed to the entire campus community in order to clarify, transportation, registration, and other issues.

The retreat committee welcomes all members of the student body and faculty members to join in the activities of the week end.
