Frosh To Unveil Annual Review

As autumn comes into full swing, the campus awaits the night when the talents of the Freshmen Class are formally unveiled. This year's Frosh Show, called "I Hear America Singing," will be chiefly a musical review.

Different walks of life in America will be presented and illustrated by various musical renditions. The audience will hear numbers ranging all the way from minstrel songs to jazz.

Tryouts were on September 25 and 26 under the direction of the show leaders. The committee chairmen for the show are: coordinator, Paul Springel; director, Jane Russel; producer, Jean Russel; assistant director, Pat Langdon; chorus, Bob Terhune; Publicity, Allen Merriam; stage, Phil Stinell and George Burrill.

In 1959 the theme for the frosh show was "In the Mood," while last year's Frosh chose "Club 63, Las Vegas."

Pep Squad Adds Four

Four new girls were chosen for the cheerleading squad last Friday, September 30.

They are Ann Warner and Linda Chalmers, freshman; Sandi Wilbur, senior; and Judy Ahlstrom, sophomore, as alternate.

Ann gained experience as a member of her high school squad for three years. Sandi cheered for her high school basketball and soccer teams for four years. Judy has had a year's previous experience, while Linda has never been a cheerleader before.

The new girls, along with the older members of the squad—Lee Kaplan, Lois Fasula, Cindy Nylén, Judy Hurdy, and captain, Lynn Chappel—cheered the team on to victory over St. Peter's last Saturday.

Their next assignment is the soccer rally on Friday, October 7, the night before our first home game against Hartwick.

Women To Live, Lounge, Study In New Habitat

In September, 1961, the new women's dormitory will be completed and opened for occupancy.

Presently under construction, supervised by Edmund H. Cheval, general contractor of Paramus, New Jersey, this modern dormitory will provide living quarters for all upperclass women, according to Dean Florence Morris.

Being built on property parallel to the present women's dormitory, the new building promises to be different from its next door neighbor in several ways.

When residents enter this dorm next fall, they will find more variation among the rooms, although many of the features of the present dormitory will be included as well. More single rooms will be available for upperclass women.

Suites, consisting of two double rooms divided by a study lounge will be one of the new features. Each floor will be constructed as two wings, separated in the center by a spacious lounge.

With the completion of the new dormitory, Asbury Hall, Wesley House, and Rogers House will no longer house college women. Asbury will be converted into a dormitory for college men. Wesley House will become living quarters for seminary women, while Rogers will be remodeled into three apartments.

Kimpel Speaks On "Neuroses"

The Philosophy-Religion Club will hold its first meeting October 6.

As the club's first speaker, Dr. Benjamin Kimpel will talk on "Which Neurotic Escape is Normal?" Since many of us at one time or another try to run away from "reality," a major point in the discussion will be "just what is reality?"

Dr. Kimpel also intends to consider the helpfulness of particular patterns of behavior which may be classified as neurotic.

'Columns' Reorganizes; Editors Not Yet Elected

by Valerie Greenspan

Columns, Drew's literary magazine, held a reorganizational meeting on Friday, September 30, in the Private Dining Room of the University Center.

About thirty-five students attended the meeting, under the leadership of Mrs. Jacqueline Burke, the new faculty adviser to Columns. It was decided that the editors of the publication will not be elected until the end of the semester; as Mrs. Burke put it, "We are all points on a map not yet drawn. Columns is a student publication, and it's up to the students to draw the map."

Chairmen Selected

Four main points of creativity are included in Columns with examples of various styles in each. These are the short story, poetry, non-fiction, and art.

At the meeting each member indicated his interest in one of these areas, and a chairman was chosen to coordinate the best material in each field. Adam Kaufman was selected to coordinate short story selections; Gary Kuehn, are; Byron Wall, poetry; Susan Mandel and Nancy Bennie, non-fiction. Peggy Campbell will be a "new ideas collector," a kind of living suggestion box.

Every contribution to Columns will be considered.

Later, when the organization breaks down into an editorial board and a staff, the best material will be submitted to the editorial board for final approval, while the other efforts will be criticized and discussed in a workshop arrangement.

Other Details

Mrs. Burke will be available to work on Columns or discuss material to be submitted, on Fridays from 12:10 to 2:40 p.m. in the Workroom of the Student Center (located between the Publications Office and Meeting Room).

The Columns is starting fresh this year. Since there is no established hierarchy, there is great opportunity for advancement in position. According to Mrs. Burke future editors must have not only talent, but also initiative and willingness to work.

Slover Uses Wilder Plays

Adviser to the Foresters, Mr. George W. Slover, announces that this year's Fall Production script will be Thornton Wilder's "Skin of Our Teeth."

This play is one of the classics of the American theatre. It has been produced in London, Paris, and New York. The Broadway cast included Helen Hayes, George Abbott, and Mary Martin.

Mr. John Ezell, a professional designer from New York, will design, draft, and supervise sets for the Drew play.

The production managers are Judy Gravell and Jim Knapp. Staging will be taken care of by Bob Sarr and Paul Springel. Sandy Schatz is the business manager. Other committees for the production include: lighting, Suzy Livingston and Art Jukes; reservations and invitations, Gail Nargi; publicity, Susan Ebersole; refreshments, Mary Ellen Thompson.

Performance dates are December 1, 2, 3, 8, 9, and 10, in Bowne Lecture Hall. Tryouts will be held on October 3, 4, and 5, also in Bowne Lecture Hall.

Juniors Auction 'Green Dragon'

Junior Day sponsored by the Class of '62 was held on the Drew campus Saturday, October 1.

Its purpose was to earn money for the class treasury and to provide entertainment for the campus community.

In the morning from 9:30 until noon a crew of Junior Class members staged a carwash which netted substantial profits, according to Donald Inglis, chairman of the project.

Saturday evening an auction was held in Baldwin Gymnasium. John Foreman, the auctioneer, managed to keep not only the merchandise going, but laughs as well. Assisting John as tellers and runners were Richard MacArthur, J. Arthur Jukes, Barbara Bourney, and Lee Kaplan. High point of the affair came with the auctioning off of the "Green Dragon," a car donated by Dr. H. Jerome Crammer.

Judy Gravell, Junior Class social chairman, headed the committee which planned the entire day's activities.

Following the auction an informal dance was held in the Gymnasium with Lou Slinger-ton's four-piece band providing the music. The Slingerton combo has appeared at several Drew social functions over the past few years.

D. U. Hosts N. J. Press

Drew will be host to the New Jersey Collegiate Press Association on Saturday, October 29.

The organization is composed of representatives of college newspapers, yearbooks, and literary magazines from all the colleges and universities in the state.

Dean Allen L. Weatherby will give a welcoming address to the group following registration. The remainder of the program will include a brief business meeting, separate discussion groups to consider designated problems in college journalism, and refreshments.

This will be the first NJCPA program to be held at Drew. Interested members of Drew publications staffs are invited to participate.

Klapmuts Picks Editorial Board

John P. Klapmuts, Editor-in-chief of the 1961 Oak Leaves, has announced the editors who will be assisting him this year.

John also announces that this year's annual will be larger than any previous Oak Leaves and will have a common theme carried throughout the entire book. The theme will not be disclosed before the issuing of the yearbook late in May. There will be no supplement to the 1961 issue.

The new adviser to the Oak Leaves is Dr. John M. Schabacher.

Choir's Fall First Welcomes Wicke

The Drew University College Choir, under the direction of Mr. Lester W. Berenbroick, has announced its schedule for the fall semester. They will make their first public appearance October 7, at a reception for Bishop Wicke in the Baldwin Gymnasium.

Other appearances include the Newark Conference of the Methodist Church at Drew, November 4; a concert for the Madison AAUW, December 2; and the annual Christmas Concert at Drew, December 11. From January 24 to 29, the choir will tour Pennsylvania and New York State. Throughout the year they will be singing in the College Chapel every Thursday morning.

New Members have been selected as follows: Sue Abend-shein, Carol Coorsen, Eloise Crocker, Mary Gruver, Nancy Howe, Jack Howell, Richard Howland, Keith Jacobson, Grace Lehman, Ted Manzo, Allen Merriam, Ruth Ellen Morgan, Ann Pitkin, Joan Potterton, Judy Rommer, Sam Steinruck, Helen Stewart, Bob Terhune, Susan Thompson, and Carol Wilkin. Total membership is now 52.

Our Move?

Drew is growing! A new medium of communication is in the air. The Student Council has just appointed a committee of five to investigate the possibility of having a radio station for the campus. Several technical aspects of such a program are being carefully considered, programming possibilities are being outlined, and faculty and administration are being consulted.

This is an example of the type of additions which may be found at Drew during the coming years of expansion, and it is also an example of the first steps needed to initiate a new program. A program such as this would give an opportunity to many for participation in a medium of communication and entertainment. A growing school cannot depend on a limited growth of established organizations, but must increase the variety of fields of interest in which the expanding population may take part. A Drew radio station would present students with an opportunity to learn, and a challenge to contribute to Drew's broadening interests.

Are we, the student body, ready to help this forward move now? Or must we wait until the actual growth is more fully realized, when we shall suddenly be awakened to the inadequacy of our extra-curricular program? Let us call the question now. Let us not be caught off guard. The fiery enthusiasm of the student body is needed in this period of growth. Food-riot spirit channelled into a positive direction will provide the groundwork for progress.

THE COUNSELING DEBATE

Every so often an individual problem, not always of great importance, but frequently requiring a certain degree of personal counseling, brings to light the topic of college counseling services. It seems that the frequent recurrence of this topic is indicative of an ever increasing need. There are two sides to the debate.

On the one hand are those who see no need for increased guidance services. Their arguments are many. One of the most frequent is that we have a Personnel Director, and that in addition we have many members of the faculty and administration qualified to guide through academic preparation, past experience, or self-appointment to guide us through personal difficulties. Also commonly asserted is that the university is not at fault in causing personal problems and is therefore in no way obligated to offer solutions to them. These arguments are not unqualified.

On the other hand there are many who feel that increased enrollment necessitates even more emphatically an extensive personal counseling service. They argue that those who are qualified to offer such services are too busy with numerous collateral functions to give adequate aid. (For example, the faculty member designated to counsel some 600 undergraduates also oversees graduate opportunities, both academic and commercial, and teaches two courses each semester.) They also argue that personal and emotional problems have an apparent influence on grades, social conduct, and social adjustment. These counter-arguments seem equally qualified.

Many administrative changes and expansions are necessitated by continued growth, but the problem cited above represents to us one of those which needs most immediate attention.

Council Column

by Suzanne Thomas

(Editor's Note: This column will become a regular feature of the Acorn. Its purpose is to familiarize the student body with the aims, workings, and specific plans of the Student Council.)

W - DREW?

A motion to establish a committee to investigate setting up an on-campus radio station was unanimously approved at the first session of the 1960-61 Student Council last Wednesday evening. Council President Lenney Feldman appointed Bob Cohen, Bob Spicer, Bob Fenstermacher, Bob Warwick, and Jane Brown to explore technical financial, and programming angles of the proposed angles of the proposed project.

The motion came as a result of interest expressed to the Council by members of the student body. It was suggested that a radio station could serve not only as an additional extra-curricular activity, but also as an asset to the University communications, and as an aid to dramatic, forensic, religious, and political functions.

Victory Bell

Also approved by the Council was the appointment of Vice-President Jerry Rankin as chairman of a committee to purchase a new "Victory Bell."

Until 1940 a large bell located in front of the University Treasurer's home had been traditionally used to celebrate athletic victories. The original bell was donated to the war cause at that time, and was never replaced. A new bell will be purchased and mounted in some centrally located position to revive the tradition. The Council hopes that funds for this project will come from the students themselves; any interested in working on the committee should contact Jerry Rankin.

Council Code

This first fall meeting of the Student Council closed with an expression of interest to serve Drew students as an executive rather than a legislative body. Council members regard the organization as "a clearing house for new ideas," both of an academic and extra-curricular nature.

Official Notices

Chest X-rays will be available for all new students on Thursday, October 13. All Freshmen and transfer students must participate in the survey, as well as those who did not have one last year.

Tryouts for "Skin of Our Teeth" will be held tonight, Tuesday, and Wednesday nights in Bowne Lecture Hall from 8 to 10:15 p.m.

Students with cars on campus who may have different license plates since last year are requested to report changes to the Superintendent of Buildings and Grounds.

Green Key meets tonight at 5:30 in the Private Dining Room.

Forum Society meets for lecture and discussion at 8 p.m. Wednesday in the Multi-Purpose room of the University Center.

Poetry and Travel Contests Announced

Do you write poetry, have a fancy to visit the Scandinavian countries, or desire to become a college professor? If you have an interest in any of these fields, you may find something of interest below.

Poetry Contest

The National Poetry Association invites you to enter its annual competition. The closing date for submission of manuscripts by college students is November 5.

Any student attending either junior or senior college is eligible. There is no limitation to form or theme. Shorter works are preferred because of space limitations.

Each poem must be typed or printed on a separate sheet, and must bear the name and home address of the student, as well as the name of the college attended.

Entries should be mailed to the National Poetry Association, 3210 Selby Avenue, Los Angeles 34, Calif.

Scandinavian Study

Open to college juniors is the Scandinavian Seminar, a nine-month study program in Denmark, Sweden, Norway, or Finland.

No knowledge of a Scandinavian language is required prior to application, but when a student is accepted by the Seminar, he must begin study the language of his chosen country.

The Seminar program is composed of five parts: pre-departure language study and orientation; short courses of concentrated language instruction, lectures and discussions; two family stays of from three to four weeks duration; six months attendance at a folkhøjskole; and an individual study project to be written by the student in his field of interest.

Applications for the Scandinavian Seminar will be accepted as much as a year in advance. Those received before January 15 will be given first consideration. The closing date for application is April 1.

Wilson Grants

Today thousands of faculty members in the United States and Canada begin to nominate seniors for Woodrow Wilson graduate fellowships.

Designed to reduce a nationwide shortage of qualified college teachers, the program annually awards 1000 fellowships for the first year graduate study at any university in the United States or Canada. Candidates are elected only after rigorous screening and personal interviews. Each elected fellow receives a $1500 stipend for living expenses plus full tuition and family allowances.

The program is open to college graduates mainly in the humanities and social sciences. Both men and women are eligible, and there is no limit on the age of the candidate.

Calendar Adds Coffee, Dances

"Coffee and dance" in the Multi-Purpose Room on Friday, October 7 from 8:00 to 11:00 is something new on this year's social calendar.

It was originated by the College Social Committee to enable Drew students to participate more in college dances.

Members of the Social Committee directed by Barbara Fern and Shelly Steiner, other dancers, and possibly some faculty members will be there to instruct the more unusual dance steps such as the tango, samba, polka, cha-cha, and charleston.

The first part of the evening will be the time for students to teach other students the basic steps of the foxtrot and lindy.

Different types of music will be played in two or three sections of the Coffee Shop—Multi-Purpose area for the enjoyment and advantage of all.

According to Steiner and Miss Fern, "fellas or girls who know a dance or have learned one from one of the instructors may then teach it to someone else. On an occasion like this it is accepted and desired thing for the girls to help out the fellas."

After a night of dancing, coffee will be furnished free of charge by the Social Committee.

Women's Dorms Newly Acquire Two Directors

Two new house directors have been added to the Drew Campus. Mrs. Ruth Murray is at the New Women's Dorm and Mrs. Sylvia Smith is at Asbury Hall.

Mrs. Murray spent two years as house director at Mount Holyoke and two years at the Northfield School for Girls in Massachusetts. One reason she accepted a position at Drew was that her daughter lived in Morris-town. However, the week she accepted, her daughter moved away. When asked what her interests are, Mrs. Murray replied, "Oh, I have many interests. They are hard to specify." She enjoys the theatre, music, and sports.

Mrs. Murray also spends free moments reading and knitting. She no longer has to take care of her own family, but she said, "I now have a much larger family to take care of and I am enjoying it very much. Drew has a very friendly atmosphere."

Mrs. Smith agreed, she said, "Drew is like home to me." Her husband and one of her two daughters are graduates of Drew. Mrs. Smith enjoys music and singing. She remarked, "It was a great joy to me when I found out they would like to have me at Drew. I am looking forward to serving in the capacity of house director."

Drew's two other women's house directors are Mrs. Dexter, at Rogers House, who is in her eighth year here, and Mrs. Mauer, of Wesley House, who is in her fifth year at Drew.

The movie is narrated by Los Angeles announcer Bill Baldwin and runs approximately twenty minutes.

Prior to the showing of the film there will be a short business meeting conducted by David Cowell, president of the club. All Drew students are invited to attend. Refreshments will be served after the meeting.

Senator Addresses Drew's Democrats

This afternoon at four-thirty the Drew University Chapter of Americans for Democratic Action had as its guest speaker, New Jersey Senator Harrison A. Williams. A former member of ADA, Senator Williams has received endorsement from the New Jersey ADA throughout his congressional career.

Frosh Follow In Footsteps

Six members of the class of '64 have brothers or sisters in the upper classes of the Drew student body.

Ellen Daniels is the sister of Kathryn Daniels, a junior sociology major. The Daniels come from New Jersey, as do Eugene Carter and her older sister Beth. Beth is a senior history major.

Coming from Jackson Heights is Paul Zimmerman and his sister Grethchen, a junior psychology major.

Other frosh in the same category include John Knox, whose brother Walter Knox is a junior Botany major; Ginny Long, sister of Bill Long, a sophomore psychology major; and Ronnie Rankin, brother of senior chemistry major Jerry Rankin, Vice President of the Student Council.

The freshman class also includes two sons of Drew Alumni. They are Alan Merriam and Robert Larson.

Recently the Drew Chapter of ADA endorsed the Kennedy-Johnson ticket in the November presidential race. However, because of the large minority of the club's members who opposed endorsement, the club decided not to take an active part in the campaign. In addition the chapter voted to congratulate able parties for their selection of able liberal candidates for the Senate. The chapter is presently gathering information concerning the local campaign for Congress in the 5th District.

Rangers Whip St. Peter's For 2 In Row

Drew, Hartwick, To Clash In Crucial Test Saturday

The Rangers make their first home appearance of the '60 soccer campaign when they take on Hartwick College next Saturday afternoon. The Warriors from Oneonta, N. Y. provide an imposing challenge for Drew. Last season the Blue and White ran up an impressive 8-1 record and will come into Saturday's contest riding a 7 game winning streak including last Saturday's 2-1 opening game victory over Roberts Wesleyan.

The Warrior invasion will be led by Jack McCormack, their high scoring inside lineman. Containing McCormack will be the Rangers No. 1 problem. Jack ranked 19th in the nation in scoring in 1959, with 16 goals in 9 games for an average of 1.78 per game, personally accounting for more than half of his team's scoring. In addition McCormack was elected to the All-New York State Team.

Other Hartwick stars are co-captain Scott Schneider and powerful fullback Ken Roberts. The Warriors will miss halfback Larry Serfis who last year won All American Honorable Mention acclaim, but have veterans returning at the other two halfback posts. In all, seven Blue and White starters returned from last year's squad. Coach Dave Hoase in his first year at Hartwick, feels that with this core to build on plus good substitutes from last year and a few outstanding freshmen, the Warriors should be in for another fine year.

The Rangers will be out to dampen Coach Hoase's enthusiasm by adding to their own winning streak, provided of course, that they keep it alive in Wednesday's game with underdog Rutgers of South Jersey. All in all, Saturday's battle shapes up as a thrilling all out struggle—don't miss it.

This week the student body gets a chance to show the team that they're really behind them by coming en masse for the home opener, against Hartwick Saturday afternoon. A large turnout will go a long way towards inspiring this team and letting them know their efforts are appreciated. Every student in the college can feel proud of the strong showing made by the squad in their first two games. The team doesn't belong just to the players or to the coach—it belongs to every single student in all four classes of the college. When the squad takes the field at New Paltz or Jersey City, it's not just a bunch of individuals, it's the Drew University Rangers, and what happens to it reflects on, and ought to be deep personal concern to every student in the college as well as the faculty and administration. When game time rolls around Saturday afternoon the grandstands and sidelines should be filled to overflowing, and not just with Freshmen, but with Sophomores, Juniors, Seniors, faculty and administration as well . . . Newark College of Engineering downed powerful Fairleigh Dickinson University 2-0 last Saturday. Earlier in the season Fairleigh scored an upset triumph over St. Louis Billikens, defending NCA National Collegiate Champions. N.C.E. would appear to have come up with a real powerhouse this year. The Highlanders will be here October 22nd, in what is shaping up as the glamor game of the 1960 season.

Women's Sports

by Bonnie Weir

Try-outs were held for the synchronized swimming group on Wednesday. Jane Brown and Sally Prettyman are instructing the group whose advisor is Mrs. Kenyon. The 21 girls who came out have decided to call themselves the Synkers and are planning two shows this year, a small one tentatively set for early December, and an elaborate one during the spring weekend. The spring show will develop around a central theme which includes separate numbers and a big finale. Mood music, lights and limited costuming will be employed to achieve the desired effect.

Jane and Sally are very happy at the interest which has been shown and hope that it will continue. Any one who did not have an opportunity to try out, and would like to, can come out on Wednesday. The tennis team is meeting on Thursday from 4 to 6 and would like to see more girls come out. If you play tennis here is a good chance to improve your game and get to know other girls who play.

Juniors Down Freshmen 14-0 In First Game

by Larry Day

The Juniors kicked off their intramural title defense Wednesday afternoon with a 14-0 victory over the Frosh. The game was hard fought with both teams threatening several times until late in the last half, the Juniors scored.

The Juniors were led by the strong arm of Dave Diechman and Bill Barraclough sharing the quarterbacking, and Al Swann and Tony Christiano snagging the passes. The Frosh were paced by Bill Dykstra at quarterback.

A big factor in the win was the sharpness of the Juniors on defense. The Juniors managed to intercept 9 Frosh passes with Christiano grabbing 5. One of these Tony picked off in his own end zone, thus killing a Frosh scoring bid. The game was played very evenly for about three quarters. Each team threatened several times but was then stopped or bogged down by sloppy playing.

In the last quarter Bill Barraclough ran the ball into Freshman territory. The Juniors then scored on a very nice combination of plays. A pass from Barraclough to Ken Hussey, a pass to Swann, and another run by Bill. The extra point was a pass to Swann. The second touchdown was scored on a pass interception by Barraclough and runback for the TD. The extra point went Barraclough to Swann. The Frosh played very well considering that intramural rules may be new to them and the fact that the Junior team is a strong one.

Sports Personality . . .

by Adam Kaufman

Next Saturday the Drew student body will witness the first home soccer game of the 1960 season. Many of the crowd will remember last year's strong defense, with Rock Smith at the goal and Dan Marcus and Mike Sherbin at the fullbacks. Smith has moved to the forward wall and Dan received his sheepskin in June. Returning to lead the Ranger defense at fullback however, is Mike Sherbin.

Mike is in his third year of varsity soccer here at Drew and his presence has always been felt on the field of play. Along with his varsity career Mike has caught for the class of '62 softball team, a team which has won two championships in intramural play and has played intramural basketball. On any field of competition when Mike participates you can sense the desire to win, a "go-go" spirit that never seems to let down.

Sherbin came to the Rangers from Sussex High School, where he played varsity soccer, basketball and baseball, and where he won somewhere around nine letters (a point which, out of modesty, he dislikes to discuss).

Here at Drew Mike is a political science major. A member of the Drew Young Democrats, Mike was elected treasurer last Semester. Chess and stamp collecting are other interests which occupy his time. Any way you look at it Mike is a well rounded guy, who can give a well rounded soccer ball quite a ride with his foot.

Chesnut Tallies 2 In 4-0 Win Squad Still Unscored Upon

by Larry Day

The Rangers were victorious over the St. Peter's soccer squad on Saturday afternoon, 4-0. The game, which was played in Jersey City, marked the second straight win for the Drew team. Even though the game was away, the student body was well represented in the stands. Advance notice of the game and directions on getting there accounted for the gratifying turn out of Drew fans.

During the first quarter it appeared that the contest would be close. However, in the second period Coach Tappin moved Andy Kaiafas from the backfield to the line. This change enabled the Rangers to dominate offensive play for the rest of the game. Ranger goalies Hal Pederson and Lyn Smith did not have any serious sustained threats to contend with.

In the second period Drew broke into the scoring column as freshman starter Ron Rice booted in a hard shot for an unassisted goal. The Rangers were unable to penetrate the St. Peter's defense again until early in the third quarter. This time veteran Ed Chesnut had the honors with Ron Barber getting the assist. Ed booted another tally early in the last period to make the score 3-0. Andy Kaiafas topped off the 4-0 win later in the same quarter with another goal.

In its second outing of the season the team played very well. Spectators saw very hard, fast, scrappy and heads up ball. Fine performances were turned in by every member of the team. Each man playing as hard as he could. Especially noteworthy performances were turned in by Andy Kaiafas, Ed Chesnut, Ron Barber and Ron Rice in the line and Jon Marshall and Craig Wilkinson at halfbacks. Craig's was his usual hustling, scrapping performance. On defense, Mike Sherbin, Lyn Smith, Hal Pederson, Charlie Hislop and Frank Graves looked especially sharp.

Seniors Defeat Sophs By 13-0, In Int. Opener

by Richard Sloat

Led by the twin-scoring efforts of Dave Poultnery, the Seniors handed the Sophomores a 13-0 trouncing in the season opener for both squads, last Wednesday.

The Seniors won the toss and elected to receive. After working three downs unsuccessfully, Bill Engler quick-kicked, sending the sophs deep into their own territory. From this point, defense was the dominating factor with the sophs holding the seniors, at one time, for four plays only three yards short of the goal line. With approximately four minutes to go in the half, Neil Mosher, on the option play, chose to pass, and hit Poultnery in the end zone, for a score. The point-after attempt failed and the seniors led, 6-0, at halftime.

The second half was basically a replay of the first, as neither team was able to move the ball with any amount of success. About midway in the half, the sophs punted from their own goal line. Poultnery, picking the ball up at midfield, scampered into the end zone for the touchdown, his second of the day. Ron Saldarini made a circus catch for the extra point.

Neither offensive unit seemed exceptionally sharp, but both have the manpower and will probably look better as the season progresses. The old veteran, Bill Engler, is at the helm for the Seniors, with Mike Toorock calling the shots for the Sophs. Dick Stafford will also see action at quarterback for the Sophs.

endanger this world, because of their connection with the outside. Oddly enough, they ask you to fly, before you have tried your wings. "Politics is everybody's business—but not before adequate preparation.

The other extreme — "ivory-towerism" — is equally absurd, as is any logical extension in human relations. The outside world should be viewed as that for which we are preparing ourselves—its similarities and incongruities in comparison with college life should be noted. Objectivity and comparison take precedence over "commitment"—religious, political, scientific artistic, etc.—and should lead to a tentative commitment, to be tried first within the closed society, before seeking application in the universe.
