Classes Elect Officers Sarr, Bickell, and Helms

BY LOUISE HERMEY

Class elections conducted in the past two weeks were in a relatively calm atmosphere compared to the vigorous Student Council election held before the recess. The Junior, Sophomore and Freshman classes elected full slates of officers for the 1963-1964 academic year.

Re-Runs Necessary

One unusual aspect of the Junior and Sophomore elections was the need to hold re-runs for some of the offices. The reasons were that none of the candidates for these offices received majorities of the votes cast.

The Social Chairman office election of the Junior class is yet to be decided by the class members. The final election will be re-run on Monday, April 29th.

The offices of Treasurer and Student Council representatives of the Sophomore class were re-run on Thursday, April 25th and officers elected.

Junior Class

The Junior class elected officers on Friday, April 26th. Bob Sarr, President of the class of 1964 for the past two years, won the election again as President of Drew's next Senior class. He defeated a slate of two other candidates.

The following officers for the coming year have been elected: Ron Wendt as Vice President; Lyn Hamilton as Secretary and Storm Rode as Treasurer. Barbara Dilley and Dave Leslie ran unopposed for the on-campus Student Council representatives. Bain Davis won the office of off-campus representative to the Student Council.

On Monday, April 29th the final election for Social Chairman will be re-run. Cathy Huntoon and Bob Perry are contesting the office.

Sophomore Class

Sophomore Class final elections held on April 24th saw the election of Scott Bickell as president. He ran unopposed for the office.

The following other officers were elected: Rusty Martin as Vice President; Marilyn Stoner as Secretary; Sue Morrison as Social Chairman and Angela Mankiewicz as off-campus Student Council representative.

A re-run election was held for the offices of Treasurer and on-campus Student Council representatives. The additional election held on Thursday, April 25th decided the new officers. Karen Healing is the class treasurer; George Englehardt and Betty Peitz are the Student Council representatives from on-campus.

Freshman Class

The Freshman class decided on all their officers in a relatively quiet and uncomplicated election on Wednesday, April 24th.

The following results are official: President, Ned Helms; Vice President, Linda Wolfe; Secretary, Connie Sutherland and Treasurer, Jackie Dumser.

Ginny Villamil is Social Chairman of the next Sophomore Class. Student Council representatives for on-campus are Ester Cid and Dave "Lumpy" Lindroth. Off-campus representative is Galen Goodwin.

Nancy Howe Elected President of Board

The University Center Board elected Nancy Howe president and John Knox secretary during its final meeting of this year's Board. The U.C.B., also, announced the members for next year. They are: Thomas Garver, John Hicks, Susan M. Morrison, and Virginia Villamil from the college; C. Michael Cornder, Dawn Leivien, and Max Schindt from the seminary. The new Board will meet May 7 to discuss plans for next year. The Board listed some of the new purchases for the Center including another shuffleboard and a signed lithographic print by Picasso.

Board Reviews Year

The Center Board reviewed some of the activities that they sponsored during the year. Included in the Board's program was the lecture series of the Soviet Union, the foreign film festival, several American movies, two art exhibits, and the "Do-it Yourself" bus trips to New York.

SELECTIVE SERVICE STATES CHANGES

John Bevan, University Registrar, has announced that he has been advised of a change in the reporting of make students to Selective Service, effective September 1963. In the past it has been the student's option to request certification to his draft board of his student status. Under the new regulations, it will be the responsibility of the colleges to report directly to the local boards each year all make students registered. At the same time, local boards will request only certification of enrollment, and will not make classification or deferment dependent upon a student's standing within his class. Thus, the Class II-S "student deferment" will be more generally applied to all students. Some students may raise the

by Winnie Garofalo

Spring Week-end will be a week-end of "Plaisir d' Amour," sponsored by the Junior Class. In support of this "Plaisir d' Amour" theme, Friday night's informal will be a night at the Moulin Rouge a la Baldwin Gymnasium. After a festive night at the Moulin Rouge, the Saturday night elegance of the Main Ballroom of the Palace of Versailles will present another aspect of the French theme.

The week-end begins Friday at 7:00 with the showing of the film "Les Girls" at Bowne Lecture Hall. This film will end at 9:30 and therefore is intended for those students not attending the informal. Since the "Moulin Rouge" does not open until 9:00 and will close at 1:00 A.M. the curfew for all coeds will be 1:30 Friday.

Other Weekend Events

A bus to New York City will leave the Union at 10:30 A.M. Saturday and return in time for the Versailles ball that evening. Students not planning to go to New York will find an abundant activities on campus to fill their day. Music lovers will enjoy the jazz concert held on the terrace of the Center from 2:00 to 4:00 P.M. In the event of rain the concert will be held in the lounge. Following President Kennedy's physical fitness program, co-ed athletic programs are scheduled. Softball games and tennis are planned from 2:00 and a free swim will be held from 3:00 to 5:00.

A picnic supper is planned for Saturday night on the terrace of the Student Union.

From 7:00 to 9:30 in Bowne Lecture Hall, the Juniors will sponsor "Saturday Night at the Movies". Emphasizing "Plaisir d' Amour" the film will be the "Matchmaker". Since the Saturday evening ball will begin before the film is over, the film will be shown again Sunday afternoon at 2:00. For girls attending the formal, the curfew has been extended to 2:30 A.M.

Sunday morning from 9:00 to 9:30 a continental breakfast consisting of buns and coffee will be served in the student center.

As an extra bonus four of the women's dormitories will sponsor open houses Sunday afternoon.

Although the Spring Week-End will officially end Sunday, May 5th, chances are that Le Plaisir d' Amour will just be beginning.

CHAIRMAN

General chairman of the week-end is junior class social chairman, Diane Murphy. Specific chairmen are: Music — Jack Howell, Publicity — Lyn Hamilton, Refreshments — Cathie Huntoon, Decorations — Betty Mitchell and Trudy Parsons, Clean-up — Ray Nesbitt, Flowers — Kurt Huh-tanen, Tuxedos — Ted Manzo, Favors — Peggy Kunzle, Programs — Laura Mertz, Movies — Shirley Kot and chaperones — Diane Purdy.

Awards Announced

The highest E.C.A.C. award, the gold D, was awarded to four members of the senior class. Jack Hawke, Bonnie Keyser, Gerie Snell and Paul Wood last Saturday evening at the annual awards convocation. Recipients of the Silver D's were awarded to Judy Alhstrom, Phyllis Bailey, Gail Clayton, Bill Dickinson, Bob Fenstermacher, Roberta Gallagher, Betsy Gecsey and Susan Mandel.

A committee composed of 2 faculty members, the 2 juniors on the E.C.A.C. and 2 members of the senior class determines the gold and silver D awards.

(A.A.U.W. AWARD)

Gerie Snell received the American Association of University Women award for the outstanding woman of the senior class.

(DEAN'S CUP)

The Dean's Cup for the dorm or floor with the highest academic average went to the women of Asbury Hall. Last year's winner, Hoyt Bowne, was a close second.

(SIGMA PHI)

(PI DELTA EPSILON)

The National honorary journalism society, Pi Delta Epsilon, welcomed Doug Bennet, Nancy Clarke, Carey Davis, Betsy Gecsey, Shirley Kot, Dave Leslie, Gail McCormack, Kate McParland, Allen Merriam, Linda Petervary and Don Scott.

(DEBATE SOCIETY)

Dr. Ralph Johnson presented debate and oratorical awards to George Englehardt, Lyndelle Fairley, Beth Jewel, Faith Longstreet, John Peterson and Allen Merriam.

(FORESTERS' GREEN "D")

Linda Sausser received the Green "D" for achievement in the Dramatics program.

(DREW-EDS AWARDS)

J. SKYES TO ATTEND INSTITUTE

H. Brugmans Will Lecture

Professor Hendrik Brugmans, Rector of the College of Europe, Bruges, Belgium, will discuss the future of the European Common Market since its failure to accept England as a member at 8 p.m., Thursday, May 9, in Sam W. Bowne Great Hall. Professor Brugmans, who has said that "Europe must unite or perish," will focus his attention on future negotiations between our country and the E.E.C. and the member nations themselves.

An author, historian, literary critic, and dynamic speaker, Professor Brugmans was active in resistance movements during World War II and imprisoned as a hostage from 1942-1944. Following his release, Professor Brugmans became associated with the Netherlands Government in Exile, operating in London, and served in the first post-war government of the Netherlands. Since 1946 he has devoted himself to the European Federalist movement and looks upon the University he serves as a Miss Janet Sykes will study marine botany this summer at the Marine Biological Institute at Wood's Hole Massachusetts. Miss Sykes, a botany Major is one of twenty students from the nation who are selected for the intensive six-week program. To help with the tuition and other costs, Drew University has awarded Miss Sykes a scholarship on the basis of her Science studies here at Drew.

Under the direction of Dr. Richard Starr, the students will make herbarium collections of algae and do viroscopic studies including a project on the reproductive cycle of marine plants. The students will divide their time among specimen collection, laboratory work, and lectures.

Miss Sykes, a junior, is a laboratory assistant in the botany department. She is a member of Young Republicans and Beta Beta Beta. Miss Sykes plans to do graduate studies in tropical micrology.

Letters To The Editor

To The Editor,

I would like to comment upon the recent "events" occurring on campus the night of April 20th. As we all know, the Judicial Board will, by the time this letter goes to press, have decided what is to be done with the offenders in question. But aside from this, I think that there are some factors we all ought to consider in connection with this, or any other case in question.

Many of us have taken up a position of righteous indignation on our condemnation of the offenders in question. Before going on, I want to say that I do not excuse what they did, nor do I wish to detract from the seriousness of their offenses. I do, however, see some serious dangers in allowing our contempt for such acts get so far out of hand that they become an excuse to free ourselves of criticisms that may well be valid.

While we rightly expect right acting to go along with principle, we cannot dismiss principle on the basis of one action. If what a person stands for is true, it reflects a valid interpretation of life on this campus or anywhere, then that principle stands, regardless of single events that are in themselves contrary to it. If student responsibility is a good thing, it is good, even if all those advocating it cannot, in fact, always measure up to it. And to shrug off truth simply because we see a single contradiction is just as bad as not recognizing it at all. To condemn a principle just because we do not agree with it when a convenient occasion arises is to work against the responsible carrying out of student rights we all respect. In short, individuals are on trial, and what any one of them has affirmed before must stand or fall on its own merit, not on the merit of the individual action.

Lastly, I think we must realize that we all can make mistakes. A person who gets into trouble for the first time is not the same type person who is constantly a legal problem. Since we all make mistakes, we must recognize that some on trial may be there because they failed to foresee the consequences of their very foolish acting. For this, they must and will be punished. But let us not be too quick to make sweeping character judgments from this. The true character of these individuals may be in their realization of their blatant offense, and in their sincere sorrow for it. Their true character may be in the fact that when caught, their devotion to truth and responsibility led them to accept whatever punishment they received, rather than to go to any and all extremes to save their own necks. Unfortunately, we will never know this, for it is and will be the confidential information of the judicial board.

We all know the old saying, "To err is human; to forgive divine." Perhaps this old saying is pertinent comment here. I only want to say one more thing in closing that I hope will sum up what I have tried to say. Let us guard against easy blame and sweeping conclusions, lest our law, and the means by which we carry it out, become an excuse for our lack of thought, for our own mistakes.

George Englehardt

To The Editor,

It is the feeling of this executive committee that the editorial "After the Party" which appeared in the April 22nd issue of the ACORN contributed an element of injustice in the recent case before the Judicial Board. The editorial blatantly placed undue pressure and criticism upon the students whose cases were still being reviewed by the Judicial Board which had not as yet arrived at a final decision. Furthermore it also placed unnecessary pressure upon the individual members of the Board. In the future we hope that such examples of poor journalism will not appear in the ACORN.

To The Editor,

Harmful situations can be remedied by preventing the cause or regulating the effects. The act of "drinking on campus" comes under this, heading and can be a fruitful field for editorials which would arouse constructive student action without the humiliation of individuals. I think that your editorial failed to do this by being too personal. It merits criticism of the same quality as the criticism which was aroused by the paper's handling of the infirmary problem. Individuals have been given the blame which partly belongs to deplorable situations. In addition to this you have declared that the people involved were leaders of a body of stu-

3 Attend Assembly

Pita Alalilima (Samoa), Pedro Aja (exchange student from Columbia) and Miss Bobbie Baltz (U. N. semester) participated in a Tri-State Model United Nations Assembly held on the Madison campus of Fairleigh Dickinson University on April 19, 20 and 21. Some 190 foreign and American students, representing twenty-five institutions attended the Assembly to discuss the purposes, concepts and powers of the United Nations and to exchange views on many issues vital to the survival of the international community.

Special Speakers

Ambassador Charles Woodruff Yost, Deputy Permanent Representative to the United Nations was the keynote speaker. He discussed the original intents and purposes of the United Nations as drawn up at the Potsdam Conference. Three other distinguished diplomats attached to the U.N. addressed the Assembly as guest speakers: Ambassador Liu Chieh, of Nationalist China currently serving as President of the Security Council; Counselor Roland Timmerbaev, Chief Political Adviser of the USSR Mission; and Minister Privado G. Jimenez, Deputy Permanent Representative of the Philippine Mission.

terializing goal: a United States of Europe. The College of Europe was inaugurated in 1950 for the purpose of training a body of post graduate students in the European viewpoint, as opposed to a strictly national outlook. It is the only such graduate school in which students and teachers, from almost every European nation and the United States, live and learn together as a practicing international community.

dent opinion and in this manner cast serious aspersions on a number of other students who are not in sympathy with what occurred on Sunday morning. I speak of those who favor "relaxation of administration policy in recognition of student maturity and responsibility."

There were other weak spots in the editorial. One of these is the fact that what you have labeled as "breaks and leniency" might have been the considered opinion of people in a better position to judge the situation with a view towards mitigating circumstances, overall harm done, cause and effect. The only purpose your article serves is to imply that the administration was weak and deficient in the past and should "get tough" now that things have reached a state that they can no longer be ignored.

I believe the intent behind the editorial, "After the Party", is largely in keeping with the opinions of most of the students who realize the necessity of laws to govern groups of people living together such as themselves. I can only deplore the unfortunate manner in which it was put forth.

Sincerely,
Bruce J. Anderson

FROM THE BALCONY

BY ROBERT DEVANEY

What is reality and what is illusion? This is the question probed in Luigi Pirandello's Six Characters In Search of an Author now being presented at the Marinique Theatre. A routine play rehearsal is suddenly interrupted by the appearance of six "characters" who claim to have been born in the mind and imagination of their author and now possessing a life of their own. Abandoned now by their author, the must "live" again on this stage and through these actors.

The result is exactly what Pirandello speaks of in his introduction to the play: "a mixture of tragic and comic, fantastic and realistic, is a humorous situation that was quite new and infinitely complex, a drama which is conveyed by means of the characters, who carry it within them and suffer it, a drama, breathing, speaking, self-propelled, which seeks at all costs to find the means of its own presentation; and the comedy of the vain attempt at an improvised realization of the drama on stage."

The lives of the characters have been fixed since their creation; they are desperately and pitifully locked. They know no other way to act and since for them the drama they present is "real", any attempt by actors to reproduce the feelings and relationships must end in tragic-comedy. The characters present their drama and leave as silently and mysteriously as they entered...leaving behind only a bare stage.

"Without wanting to, without knowing it, in the strife of their bedevilled souls, each of them, defending himself against the accusations of the others, expresses as his own living passion and torment the passion and torment which for so many years have been the pangs of my spirit: the deceit of mutual understanding irremediably founded on the empty abstraction of the words, the multiple personality of everyone corresponding to the possibilities of being to be found in each of us, and finally the inherent tragic conflict between life (which is always moving and changing) and form (which fixes it, immutable)."

Enslee Wins Photo Award

George D. Enslee, a junior and amateur photographer, has received honorable mention in the "Recreation in New Jersey" Category of the New Jersey Tercentenary Photographic Competition. The award was announced by the N. J. Tercentenary Commission and the New Jersey Federation of Camera Clubs.

The black and white print, entitled "Basketball Game," will now be considered for use in a pictorial calendar that will be published in 1964 and for use at the State's Tercentenary Pavilion at the 1964-65 New York World's Fair. Enslee took the photograph at a 1961 game in Baldwin Gymnasium.

Y.R.'S Elect

On the first of April the Young Republicans held their annual elections for the year 1963-64. The following people were elected to office: President, John Allen; Vice-President, Jim Minish; Treasurer, Dave Johnson; Recording Secretary, Anne Batistini; Corresponding Secretary, Barbara Buchan. Delegates to the State College Young Republicans were elected on April 22. Ken Spence, Faith Pueller, and Laura Mertz have been elected delegates and Bill Walling, George Englehardt, Bob McGann, and Hal Relyea were elected as alternates.

At the last meeting on April 22, Mr. Harold P. Poeschel, a key figure in the national conservative movement spoke to the club about the objections of conservatism and its effect on the 1964 elections. Mr. Poeschel's talk was received with mixed reactions by the club.

Al Merriam Wins Contest

"Language and World Unity" was the topic of Allen H. Merriam, winner of first place in the Norman M. Guy Speech Contest held Monday, April 22. George Engelhardt took second place with an oration on the need of restoring a sense of individual identity in our society. Third place was won by Paul Comiskey who spoke of the importance of good conduct by American tourists abroad.

The Contest was moderated by Dr. Ralph Johnson, Professor of Speech. Judges were Dr. John Bicknell, Dr. L. Grange Woolley, and Mrs. Charles Brouse. The contest is an annual event in memory of Dr. Norman Milligan Guy, Drew Professor of Christian Sociology, 1930-53.

In his speech, Merriam noted that the wide linguistic diversity of the world is a great barrier to international unity. Suggesting that "possibly social and cultural unity of the people must precede political and economic unity of governments," Merriam analyzed the qualifications of English as a universal language. Although English is "not politically neutral," and therefore will probably not be adopted universally in the near future, Merriam said that "the idea of a world united linguistically as a means of achieving a united world is still one of the most challenging of our day."

Merriam now represents Drew in the State Oratorical Contest at Bloomfield College April 30.

question of a student deferment extending their liability for service beyond age 26. As a practical matter, virtually no registrant reaches his twenty-sixth birthday without extended liability. The alternative to extended liability is classification in Class I-A and induction at about age 23. In accordance with this new regulation, Mr. Bevan has requested of all students who have not previously done so to register with his office the number and address of their local draft boards, and their selective service registration number.

This change in procedures has been made necessary because Selective Service has the responsibility of maintaining a descriptive inventory of the nation's manpower resources, and therefore must have available in its local board files, information concerning all registrants who are enrolled in colleges and universities.

Student Art Displayed In University Center

The annual student art exhibit was opened on Saturday, April 27. The exhibit was sponsored by Mrs. Korn and the art department and included contributions by art majors, dabblers, and dilettantes who displayed charcoal and pencil sketches and works in pastels, woodcuts, watercolors, and oils.

The origin of most of the work exhibited was from two main directions: studio class work, and term projects. Studio work in both the Art 1 and 2 sketching classes and the more advanced studios in oils was done from live models while the still life studio used objects such as the familiar bottle, or vase of flowers as their subject matter. The term projects were the second source of work. In the Art 1 and 2 studio, the term work consisted of an interpretation in pencil, charcoal, ink, pastels, or watercolor, of an abstract idea given by Mrs. Korn, such as love, fear, or joy. In the Art 107 and 108 studio (oils), the term project grows out of the student's interpretation of a painting by an old master such as Rembrandt or Michelangelo. In advanced studio, the student may follow this latter procedure, or derive his inspiration from literature or some other field approved by Mrs. Korn. In the oils, which comprised a very large part of the showing, there was noted a tendency toward various types of abstraction that suggested the great degree of freedom in self-expression Mrs. Korn allows.

The students and Mrs. Korn are eagerly awaiting the various responses and opinions of the student body, faculty, administration, and the many outside visitors who will view the exhibit in its duration and pass judgment on Drew's share of aspiring young artists.

Annual Music Conference To Be Held Here Saturday

The 10th Annual Church Music Conference will be held at Drew University on Saturday, May 4th. Organized by Lester W. Benbroick, Drew Professor of Church Music, the first program was held in 1954. This conference is used as a forum for the exchange of ideas and information among organists, choir directors, minister, and others interested in the music of the church.

This year's program will include one participant coming from Germany and the other from Great Britain. Dr. Michael Schneider is one of Germany's leading organ virtuosos and has an international reputation as an interpreter of Bach. He will be heard in workshop and recital. His subjects will be "Articulation and Agogic Accents in Organ Music" and "Registration in the Works of Bach." Mrs. Adams-Jeremiah is an enthusiastic and popular authority on repertoire and choral conducting in Great Britain. She will present a Choral Workshop featuring choral techniques and anthem material in use in the British Isles.

Dr. Austin Lovelace, author and composer of numerous compositions, will present several of his own compositions in a session entitled "Preparation for Rehearsal." Dr. Kee will lead the devotions. He is an author and teacher in the New Testament and a member of the Drew Faculty. The day's activities will also include a recital on one of the latest carillons manufactured by Schulmerich, by Robert Carwithen.

The program will also include an exhibit of choral and organ music of all publishers in a display arranged by Carl Fisher. This exhibit will be held in the multi-purpose room of the Baldwin Gymnasium-Auditorium, beginning at 9:15 a.m. Registration will also take place at this time in the Gymnasium. All Drew Students who wish to attend are asked to be sure and register, although they will not be asked to pay the registration fee.

Comm. Reports on Study Week

Following Personal Study Week, questionnaires were distributed to all undergraduates to determine student opinion concerning the week. From a distribution of over 700 questionnaires, only 225 were returned. The results were tabulated by the Personal Study Week Committee, chaired by Dr. Mc Clintock and consisted of Dr. Baker, Dr. Friedrichs, George Englehardt, Jack Hawke, and Storm Rote. The replies urged that such a program be continued in the future. However, there was considerable criticism regarding the lack of consistency in requiring the presence of men and women on campus during the week. As to the timing of the week, there seemed to be two general opinions: juniors and seniors requesting that the week be held immediately before comps and freshmen and sophomores taking the general attitude that it be at about the same time it was this year.

Dr. Mc Clintock stated that the primary objective of P.S. Week is to "encourage individual reading in a field of student choice without regard for the preparation of a course assignment." Dr. Mc Clintock went on to say that he felt that the general regard of the faculty for P.S. Week is probably stronger now than it was last fall. He also added that the faculty "does not expect that along with this opportunity the students incur an obligation to demonstrate their maturity to make good use of the time. "I hope Personal Study Week will become a permanent part of the life here," concluded Dr. Mc Clintock.

Committee Recommendations
In their report to the faculty, the Personal Study Week Committee made three recommendations, which were passed as follows:

- 1.) A final decision as to the inclusion of Personal Study Week in the 1963-64 College Calendar be postponed until the October meeting of the faculty.
- 2.) Preparatory to this decision all directors of concentration be requested to prepare for the Personal Study Week Committee the following items:
  - A) a list of recommended readings in their area of concentration.
  - B) a description of a field trip which would fit in with the plan of the week.
  - C) a plan for sponsoring some outside lecture in the area of concentration.

Tennis Squad Splits With Union and N.C.E.

BY HAL BARNEY

Bouncing back from an 8½-½ drubbing by Union on Thursday, Drew's tennis team trounced Newark College of Engineering 8-1 before a small group of on-lookers last Saturday. This win brings the team's season record to 6 and 3 with five matches remaining.

The trip to Schenectady, N. Y. was long and discouraging as the team rode for 5 hours to lose 8 of 9 matches and then rode another five hours back. Traveling without their number one man, Steve Wohlegmuth, Bill Benedict played the first spot while coach Dave Miller moved Dick Lyons up to the number two spot. Hal Barney, Toby Klinetob, and Bob De Veer played numbers 3, 4 and 5 respectively, and Al Bugaef moved in to play at number 6. Only Dick Lyons managed to go three sets before losing his singles. Third doubles of De Veer and Bugaef copped our ½ point splitting their match.

Rangers Trounce NCE

Day-at Drew brought a different story to the home courts as the Rangers came off the courts with five single and three doubles matches. Steve Wohlegmuth back at number one dropped his first set and then came on to take the next two sets to win. Bill Benedict, Hal Barney, and Toby Klinetob all won their matches in only two sets. Al Bugaef, taking over the number six position, dropped three quick games, but stuck neatly with his man to take the next six games and then the second set winning 6-3, 6-4. Having won five points already, Drew had wrapped up the match and N.C.E. substituted players in the doubles matches which our regular doubles teams took handily.

This coming week, South Jersey Rutgers comes to Drew's courts Wednesday at 3:00 and Saturday the Drew team travels to Stevens. We should breeze past Rutgers, but may have some trouble with Stevens.

RUGBY STARTED

BY DON MARCY

Few people in the United States are aware of the finer points of Rugby, and fewer still have ever seen a match. This year Drew students are likely to have that opportunity with the formation of the Drew Rugby Club. Rugby's popularity in America has burgeoned in the past twenty years, particularly in the New England and Middle Atlantic states colleges and universities. At the present time it is played largely in the Ivy League and associated schools, such as Williams, Amherst, M.I.T., Villanova, and B.U. The only other collegiate team in New Jersey is the Princeton Rugby Club.

Pita Ala'ilima, a native of Samoa, first learned Rugby in his native land and it is largely through his efforts that it has come to Drew. After drumming up support, Pita arranged for those interested to hear Mr. Robert Dobbins a former player at M.I.T. and referee for the Eastern Rugby Union, speak last Monday night. At that time elections were held and Pita and Marv Rice were elected co-captains and Al Bugaef and Don Marcy were chosen as Secretary and public relations coordinator, respectively.

Practice started last Thursday and Friday, and an exhibition game is tentatively scheduled for Friday afternoon, May 3. The Club is seeking a match with Princeton for May 11, but arrangements have not, as yet, been completed.

The faculty, administration, and Mr. Davis have been most cooperative, and all that is now needed is student support to make this endeavor a highly interesting and exciting new activity on the Drew campus.

MEN'S VOLLEYBALL

This year's volleyball season came to an exciting end last Monday night as Haselton 2 led by Doug Wicoff and Bill Bonnell smashed the faculty team in two straight contests. The first game saw an anxious Haselton team striking back at the undefeated faculty team at every move. The faculty pushed ahead to gain what looked like the game winning lead 14-12, but Haselton regained the ball and swept the next four points to win 16-14. Plagued by poor serves in the Second game, the Haselton team took advantage of an early lead and went on to win 15-8.

The strong team spirit which held the Haselton team together was lacking in many of the other teams who at times even failed to show up for scheduled games. The winners of this year's volleyball championship team include Doug Wicoff, Bill Bonnell, Ron Rice, Dave McLaughlin, Donald Scott, Jerry Williams and Harry Brand.

Ball Team Nails N.C.E. Nailed By Stevens Tech.

The Rangers put together 12 hits Saturday to back Dick Stafford's pitching and post a 9-2 triumph over Newark College of Engineering. Scott Bickell led the Ranger offensive with two hits, one a two-run homer in the seventh inning.

Other hitting stars for Drew were Gary DeAngelis, three hits in five at-bats; and Frank Brooks, Henry Porter, and Dick Stafford who were all 2 for 4.

Stafford pitched well, yielding only one hit in the first five innings and saving up single tallies in the fourth and sixth innings. He retired the side in order in the second, third, fifth, and seventh innings.

Rangers Score First

Drew jumped into the lead in the first inning as DeAngelis blooped a single into center field to score Pete Petty from second base. NCE tied it in the fourth when a passed ball charged to catcher Henry Porter allowed their first baseman to score from third.

The Rangers retaliated in the fifth to take the lead for good with two more runs. Once more DeAngelis accounted for the scores by slashing a just-fair single down the left field line to drive in Scott Bickell and Frank Brooks from second and third, and make the score 3-1. The visitors put together three singles in the sixth to gain their second run.

Bickell Belts Homer

From that point on the Rangers turned the game into a rout. Bickell got things rolling in the seventh by belting a line drive home run past the center fielder to score Brooks from second. The ball rolled to the edge of the parking lot in left center and Scott turned on the speed to beat the relay into the plate by a good margin.

After the homer put Drew ahead 5-2, the Rangers went on to add two runs in the eighth and two more in the ninth.

John Quinn showed the fans how to score an unassisted run, after walking with one out in the eighth. John then stole second despite a pitch-out and had third stolen on another pitch-out.

However, the catcher was so rattled that he threw the ball over the third baseman's head allowing Quinn to score from third. In the same inning Stafford lined a single to center and took second on a fielder's choice. Brooks followed with a single to left scoring Stafford with Drew's seventh run.

Perfect Ranger Defense

The Rangers tallied their final two runs in the ninth on a single to center by Quinn that scored Porter and DeAngelis from second and third, making the final score Drew 9, NCE 2.

Although, offense was the story, the Ranger defense was nearly perfect as Drew committed but two errors, both of which were on almost impossible plays. Ironically the errors were charged to Bickell and DeAngelis who were otherwise the undoubted defensive stars for Drew.

The lineup:

DREW LOSES TO STEVENS

On Wednesday, the Drew Rangers lost to Stevens Tech., 6-2. The Rangers were somewhat handicapped as they played without the services of starters Henry Porter, Gary DeAngelis, Bill Flood, and John Quinn.

Hal Lingerman pitched creditable ball for three innings before retiring for Jaimy McFaddin with no one out in the fourth, men on first and third, and one run in. Danny wasn't charged with a run in the three innings he pitched, and Dick Stafford finished up allowing two runs while striking out six.

The Rangers took the lead in the bottom of the third when Frank Brooks lined a single to left and stole second. Scott Bicknell then stroked a single to center to score Brooks, and came all the way home as the ball went through the center fielder's legs for a three base error. This made the score 2-1 in favor of Drew. Stevens, however, scored three times in the top of the fourth to regain the lead.

MEN'S SOFTBALL

The Men's College Intramural Softball season opens Monday evening with four teams participating. As in the past, each class is expected to field a team to play in the league.

The Freshmen should have a very powerful squad. They feature a tight infield and a fast outfield and hope Jeff Fogel can mow the opposition down from the mound.

The Sophomores will have a highly spirited team. Most of the players will be returning from last season, but as yet few, if any, positions have been claimed.

At this point the Juniors appear to be heavy favorites to win the title. With the entire squad returning from the past two seasons, and additional strength added through a couple of transfers, the Juniors will be tough to beat.

Comprehensive exams will probably hold down the Senior turnout this season, but a team will probably be made up of the class members and anyone else interested in playing.

Varsity "D" Plans Banquet

Drew's Varsity D Club will sponsor its annual banquet Tuesday, April 30 at 7 p.m. at the Rock Spring Corral Inn. Dr. Harold Spenser, Drew alumnus, will speak on his experiences in the field of baseball news coverage. The banquet will be highlighted by induction of new members, trophy presentations to the most outstanding players in each sport, and the announcement of the Albert Ben Wegener award recipient.

All attending in need of transportation should meet behind the Student Union at 6:30 p.m.
