King-Kennedy drive begins today

The attempt to rejuvenate and perpetuate the King-Kennedy scholarship begins today with a campus-wide fund-raising drive. The money-raising efforts of the scholarship, according to chairmen Usha Vyasulu, Chris Havemeyer, and Joe Mayher, will be twofold: a dormitory canvas today and a King-Kennedy week in early April.

The drive beginning today will ask for donations in all dormitories. The goal is $2 per person, and those contributing this amount or more will receive a King-Kennedy button.

In April, stated Mayher, there will be a series of benefit events "and hopefully some surprises."

King-Kennedy was begun two years ago. Following considerable debate and several false starts, a committee under Tom Hughes established the fund's structure last spring. Last year the Scholarship was financed mainly by $4200 of ECAC general fee money.

"In many ways this was a cop-out," admits Mayher, "because it was a way of getting around really raising the money."

The student senate also voted down the establishment last spring of a permanent committee, Seven students are attending Drew this year on King-Kennedy money. "All these are black students," reports Mayher, "although the scholarship is not reserved for blacks only.

"Also, contrary to rumors, no student is admitted on a K-K scholarship who is not academically qualified for Drew."

Now, warns Mayher, "this has become an either/ or proposition: students donate or they don't. We have a scholarship or we don't."

$4000 was termed by Mayher the ideal goal of the drive. "However, I think $2000, or $2 per student, is an amount everyone should be able to afford."

"We don't intend to politic, make charts, or write white papers," stated Mayher, "we are putting the scholarship before students for the test."

Floor captains for the drive include Dave NewMeyer in Asbury, Harold Gordon and Scott Ravitz in Baldwin, Anne Woodbury, Chy Hendee, and Cyndy Coll in Brown, Lou Cregler in Foster, and Chandler Welch, Mike Silberman, and Keith Halperin in Haselton, Charlene Smith, Danny Evenson, and Karen Moench are captains in Hoyt-Bowne, Alice Burks and Maria Derr in Hoyt-Bowne, and John Cadwell in Hurst.

Janet Dewar and Gwen Ivy captain in McClintock, Mike Jacques in Tipple and Wendel, Jeff Myers, Al Haroian, and Al Runyon in Tolley, and Kathy Skidmore, Jan Moseley, and Debbie Fears in Welch.

"Achieving this goal," noted Mayher, "might give us a bit more faith as a student body that we are capable of accomplishing something worthwhile."

So, fans, after one inning of play the score stands --

Drew Acorn

Student Newspaper Of The College

CHICAGO SEVEN 1 JUDGE HOFFMAN 0

(how appropriate)

Volume XLIN No. 17

DREW UNIVERSITY, MADISON, NEW JERSEY

Mead's amendment was app-

Barnett, Confer, and Hoffman agreed that the members of the committee should be chosen by the divisions "in order to get the selection process as far as possible away from politics."

stating, "I think the original proposal is essentially sound, and I see no reason for these Smartt defended his vetoes by roved, also by a substantial margin, and was also vetoed.

February 20, 1970

Debate over EPPC appointment power ends in Smartt veto

Discussion of an Educational Policy Committee proposal for selecting student members of the faculty EPPC committee was postponed until early next week following two vetoes by President Robert Smartt at a student senate meeting Monday.

The senate will meet on this proposal next Monday.

EPC presented a six-point proposal which, according to chairman David Little, had been worked out in a joint session with the faculty Educational Policy and Planning Committee (EPPC).

Those points included: 1) There will be three students on EPPC, one from each academic division (social sciences, natural sciences, humanities). Students must have at least a 2,3 cum and be a declared major in the division.

2) Representatives, one from each department, will be nominated at department caucuses.

3) Nominees' names will be sent to the SG President, who will appoint one from each division, with the consent of the student senate.

4) Nominations will be made before April 30 and appointments before September 30 of a given year. Representatives will serve two-year terms, being nominated the President of SG will make an interim appointment from among divisional majors.

6) Students on EPPC will sit on the Student EPC.

Differences over the resolution centered around points three, four, and five. The senate passed two amendments to the proposal concerning these points, and both were votoed by Smartt.

The first amendment, submitted by David Confer, would have changed point three to allow divisional nominees to select a representative from among themselves. This would take appointment power from the President. It would have altered the fourth point to make terms on the committee one semester instead of two years, and for point five, it would have given resigning members power to appoint their successor.

After some objection from Peter Hoffman and Barrie Berman, Confer agreed to eliminate his amendment to point four. The amendments to points three and five were passed by the senate, 12-3-1. Following Smartt's veto, the vote to override was 11-6, short of the 21 votes

Jack Mead then re-submitted Confer's amendment to point three, while amending point four at the end of sophomore year. to one-year terms for repre-5) In the event of resignations, sentatives, with re-election permitted if the student wishes to

Petitions out; Hoffman in Petitions for Student Association President-Vice President tickets, Social Chairman, and both freshman advisor positions are available beginning today.

Petitions are available from Rick Boer, Elections Committee Chairman, through campus mail only, beginning today.

The final election will be held March 11, with primaries a week earlier, March 4. Nominating petitions are due next Wednesday, February 25.

Presidential candidates must be juniors, and Vice-Presidential candidates must be at least second-semester sophomores. Social Chairman may be in any class,

Peter Hoffman and Robert Johnson were the only announced candidates today, running as a Presidential

To cut grade rules for SG

Eligibility referendum asked

Seventeen senators signed a petition early this week asking for a student referendum on whether student government should eliminate all specific academic requirements for any 3G office

Strom Thurmond to speak Sunday

South Carolina Senator Strom Thurmond will give an Academic Forum lecture Sunday at 4 p.m. in Baldwin Auditorium.

Strom Thurmond

Senator Thurmond has been a farmer, lawyer, school teacher, tendent, state senator, judge, and governor of South Carolina. He crat and as a Republican.

and only be governed by faculty

Faculty rules, passed last November, stipulate that any student paying the general fee except first-semester freshmen on academic probation and students on disciplinary probation may participate in any ECAC activity they wish.

However, the SG constitution requires Presidential candidates to have a 2.3 average when running, Vice-Presidents to be in good standing when running, senators to be in good standing when running and during their term of office, and several other cide with the present ECAC fac-

There has been considerable debate about the alleged discrepancy between the two governing documents. Former senate speaker Mike Jacques had announced his intention to challenge the legality of the constitutional "good standing" quirement.

The referendum, which was presented to Attorney General Richard Guhl at Monday's senate meeting, asks that "All requirements for all Student Government positions (executive, legislative, judicial, and otherwise) be changed so as to coin-

Ballots to go off-campusunless challenge comes

Off-campus students on officially recognized programs will be sent ballots in the upcoming Student Government elections unless a challenge is made, the student senate decided Monday noted that the issue is confused enge is made to the senate deby the possible conflict between cision of last fall, "it would athletic coach, school superin-faculty eligibility regulations, which require that a student pay the general fee to participate challenge is made, the senate was elected to the U.S. Senate in in ECAC activities, and a stu- rule would stand. 1954 in a write-in campaign, and dent senate act of last fall which was re-elected both as a Demo- requires that ballots be sent. enges were made at the sen-Students on off-campus pro- ate meeting.

grams such as Brussels, London, Washington, and others do not pay the general fee, and there has been speculation that accordingly, they would not be sent ballots in elections.

Peter Hoffman and Cecilio Speaker pro tem David Little Barnett noted that if a challseem that the senate act woulldn't stand up," but until such

No indications of any chall-

In memoriam

Cox passes away; fund set up

The Drew community expressed its deepest sympathy this week on the death of George Cox, who had been mailroom superintendent since 1962,

Mr. Cox died Tuesday and was buried today in Hoboken Cemetary, Cause of death was a heart attack.

During Mr. Cox's tenure as superintendent, the mail room expanded its services to become a U.S. Postal outlet, allowing it to insure and register packages along with other postal func-

It was announced this week that a memorial fund will be established in Mr. Cox's name, with proceeds to go to the King-Kennedy scholarship fund. Donations may be sent through campus mail to Penny Jessop.

The community expresses its condolences to the Cox family, and its thanks to those students and administrators who ran the mail room during the week.

Page 3

DREW ACORN

Sly takes honors

report in few months

Middle States Association visited Drew this week to determine whether the school's accreditation should continue. This was a second visit for the team. which delayed judgement on its 1968 visit due to the problems in the Theological School.

At the time of the earlier visit, the Middle States praised the "vigor and health" of the college, and University officials expect no diffuculty in obtaining full accreditation this time.

The Association will prepare a full report, containing both evaluation and recommendations, within the next few months. University officials noted that "their recommendations are highly valued when we consider our long-range planning."

The team is composed of academic personnel from various colleges in the Middle States area, which takes in New York and Pennsylvania as well as New

by Phil Clark

It was once said that the most difficult review is that one which,

in all honesty, must be complimentary. (The statement was made, as a matter of fact, by Philip Traci to Clive Barnes, Mr.

Barnes allowed that he really was unqualified to comment as he had,

play that, in all honesty, deserv-

Traci's reply has purposely not

I find myself in an excellent situation to test the good doctor's been recorded.)

ed a complimentary review. Dr.

to his knowledge, never seen a

Theatreview

During the week, they have met with students, faculty, and administration; and examined various University documents and programs.

Among the students with whom they met were student governrepresentatives Rhonda Cecilio Barnett, Tom Quirk, Acorn Associate Editor Ken Schulman, Alan Runyon, Peter Hoffman, Linda Welter, Joe

Mayher, and others. ommented one member. "We look for representative students who can give us a lucid view

One student remarked, "Ihope they don't think they are getting a real view of the food, though." Monday, for example, the visiting team was served steak while the snack bar ran out of meat for students half an hour before dinner ended.

The University provided, among other things, limousine service for the team back and forth to their hotel rooms:

"They only come once every ten years," explained an administrator, "and we try to be very

Hyera cabaret tonite ends culture week

A cabaret entitled "HYERA Does Its Thing" sponsored by mem ers of the Drew Black Student Union group, concludes this week's Black Culture activities tonight at 8 p.m. in the Catacombs at Wesley

The event will include a boutique, dancing, and a jam session and concludes a week of activities that according to a spokesman for the roup "highlighted various aspects of Black culture such as religion, music, politics and literature.

Senate supports draft forum orized and supported" a public on New Jersey draft board reform, to be co-sponsored with Fairleigh Dickinson and St. Elizabeth's.

Ron Eisele, member of the Morris County New Democratic Coalition and the draft board in Morristown, asked that such a forum be held, at which the director of New Jersey selective service and Mr. Eisele be allowed to speak regarding certain specific changes in draft board policies.

Mr. Eisele explained that Fairleigh Dickinson had asked last fall that three reforms be considered for Board 34, of which he is a member. These three included: 1) making public the names of all board members. 2) allowing draftees to bring witnesses to their appeals, and 3) allowing draftees to be present when boards vote on their

He added that at the meeting where he proposed the reforms, all three of which were defeated by a 4-1 vote, the other board members asked him to resign from the board. He declined, noting his term has some 23 more years to run.

The senate approved Tom Quirk and James Pfeiffer to a committee to work with Mr. Eisele in attempting to establish the forum.

No progress yet reported on University Senate seats ted a convener to its government several months ago, college student body President Robert Smartt said this week that perience. It is not a play, at least not by the common definition applied to the word "play." It is, rather, the completely successful addition of another dimension

Doubts arise in the mind imme-to Charles Schulze's brilliant diately before the curtain goes up. The "Peanuts" crowd is composed of four year olds and some senior citizens of five and six.

One questions the ability of an adult actor to portray that tender age before senility, or even taxes, have set in. Actually, the cast does a superb job. But Schulz's

Although the Seminary elec- they have not yet met concern- dent-faculty-administration "ading distribution of the three at- visory body" to the President large student seats for the Un-two from the college, two from the Seminary, two from the Graduate School, and three to It's a good play, Charlie Brown be elected at-large 'when a suit-personality traits. Few, if any, of us should be willing to admit that we are Charlie Brown, the perpetual schlmazle (for those of you who are unfamiliar with the American language as opposed to English, the schlmiel of his own, is totally incapable of doing anything properly. Yet surely there are those days when world is conspiring against us.

We all like to think that a good deal of our nature is philosophical, intellectual. That is the Linus in us, and the person who has the absurd temerity to deny cerned enough about the future of

(Cont. p. 3)

should appear that the entire College President Smartt, Graduate School President Duran Palmertree, and former Seminary President Mike McIntyre met several times during the fall in an attempt to decide how the seats should be elected.

able mechanism is found."

of the University, was established early last year with a proviso for nine student members--

Smartt insisted that the three drops the soup in the schlmazle's be open to any student from the lap), for the chap, through no fault University, thus leaving the possibility that one of the three schools could get all three seats. McIntyre and Palmertree held allowed more than two of the > Talks broke off when McIntyre left office and they have not

> Smartt and Diane Obenchain currently hold the two college seats on the senate, which lately has been discussing long-range

Mr. Eisele suggested this, and it was rejected. He has since taken other actions to attempt to implement the reforms, and "met no success."

premise, "You're A Good Man, character are not mere children, Charlie Brown" is a warm, denor are they individuals. They lightful, and infinitely human exare, instead, personifications of pectrum

Drew-zoo

tion. Remember the 'good ol' One of the extant ironies of existence here in the forest is the sign on the door of the Student Government office - "WORK ROOM". If one thing is evident current situation. from the events of the past few weeks, it's that student government at Drewdoesn't work. While the model for government inherstitution is theoretically sound, in practice the model is trampled by incipient Machiavellis who are sion of what it's like on the out- with a general interest in conserparasitizing student government. It is apparent that personalities. not policies determine the nature of Drew politics. And so when the existing structure of government quietly filled the vacancy with a ceases to provide effective and trained monkee, one that receivmeaningful leadership, then par- ed his education in Sunday School. apolitical organizations like S. There's hope yet though ... 1 P.D. assume the responsibility for student leadership. The vacuum created by an impotent stud- and shaking his head, walks away ent government is filled by a syn- with his hat in his hand mutterthesis of various groups and fac- ing, Drew - zoo Drew - zoo, Drew tions. As student government - zoo. hastens toward self-destruction On the brighter side ...

days" of Bob Sprague? Even so, the antics of Bremmer the Spoiler appear mildly amusing in retrospect when compared to the Most students, regardless of how apathetic or how well socialized they are, are aware that this place is a zoo, a microcosm of frustration and anxiety that reflects a Reader's Digest verside. Really, who would know the difference if, when student government does self-destruct, the well = meaning administration wouldn't start to worry until Asbury climbs down off the horse, at a fairly remarkable pace, politics at Drewnecessarily become Sloop Group, and certain membmore meaningless for all those ers of S.P.D., conservation is except poli. sci. majors who study receiving more than lip service the process with satanic fascina- at Drew, Many students are con-tive role in its preservation. Great!! For those interested in summer employment, the Massachusetts Audubon Society offers a unique camping experience for 9-16 year olds at Wildwood Nature Center. The basic natural science program guides developing ecologists, environmentalists, natural scientists, and those > discovery a conservation consci- night. ousness, So, if you have a genuine interest in natural science and enjoy working with interested Bell appointed John Waters sen- hard in it. children in a dynamic learning ator from that class, replacing President Robert Smartt askexperience, write to: Wildwood Peter Eyes, who is in London, ed the senate "not to grind ot-Nature Center, Barre, Mass. Waters was originally elected her axes against a defenseless tal understanding and action. The will fall in building the new cafeteria complex.

the environment to take an ac- Hoffman, Waters, Pfeiffer confirmed to senate seats

Three new senators, an par- torney General, liamentarian, a UC Board mem- Jeff Myers was appointed Pardent senate meeting Monday. week.

ident of Hurst Hall by a 14- for an interim seat on the Judvation into areas of environmen- 2-1 vote, Hoffman, in a short icial Board, effective until the Junior class President David the position and would work 01005 or see me personally. to the senate in class elections person." last spring, but resigned last Dorothy Perkel was appointed ber, a Judicial Board member, liamentarian, replacing Paul Peter was confirmed as Pres- Jackie Tickman was confirmed speech asking rapid confirma- end of the year, following some camping program emphasizing tion of his appointment, noted questioning, by a 12-2-5 vote. all phases of natural science, that he had been elected by Hurst In response to questions, Miss 23 votes to 22 over John Cad- Tickman replied that she was crates through exploration and well in voting last Thursday "not too familiar at this time with the operations of the Board," but she stated that she wanted

Thanks to Fred Starner, the By the way, sometime you semester for academic reasons, to the University Center Board might ask the administration just James Pfeiffer was appointed and confirmed by a 19-0-0 vote. how many oak and beech trees to the Tolley Hall senate seat Rick Boer was named Elecvacated last week by Richard tions Committee Chairman and Guhl when he was appointed At- confirmed by a 15-1-2 vote.

Concert at Drew

Buckley: what wasn't expected

by Dave Barnett

Imagine a jam session composed of Thelonius Monk, Ravi Shankar, Bo Diddley, and Ringo Starr... This is a new sound, it's different, innovative, etc. But what would be the standards for judging its excellence?

Tim Buckley got tired of his old sound; he wanted to make musical progress, be different, mark an acoustical milestone ... Mr. Buckley has moved into jazz.

by John Rumsey

Dealer: East

Vul: no one

Bidding

E S W

P IS P

P 4S P

Opening Lead: 10 of Hearts

tions and signs off at game.

S: K

H: 10,9,8,2

D: 9,8,7,6,5

C: 10,9.8

addition of jazz musicians has certainly changed the Buckley sound ... I just don't know what to say about the concert ... Oh well, let's forget the overall sound for a while and concentrate on particulars...

The drummer was a mediocre typical jazz drummer -- not bad, but certainly not a Morello (then again, who is?). The bass player was doing the usual jazz spaceout, free-form bass thing, af-

$: 5.3.2

H: AKO

D: QJ10

C: 7,4,3,2

Bridging the gap

North

S: J8,6,4

H: J4,3

D: 4,2

C: AKQJ

S: AQ10,9,7

H: 7,6,5

D: AK3

Bidding: South has a solid thirteen high card points and opens in his longest suit. North meets the requirements for a jump raise (13-16 points and 4 trumps) and bids 3 spades. South has no slam aspira-spades, he would have 15 high card points and would not have passed originally. If South had taken time to count his high card points and review the auction, he would have realized that East couldn't have held the spade king and consequently would have to play for the singleton king with West. This is another form of counting emphasized last week, it also pointed to the correct line of play. Percentages are fine only when there are no other indications when selecting a

C: 6,5

moved in with Mr. Buckley. The firming the musical dialectic of constant change, The guitarist wasn't bad at all. He only made a few mistakes- but I'm not quite sure what was a mistake and what was intentional ... Is it valid to assume that if something is intentional, it is not a mistake? Anyway, I heard a multitude of unusual (for folk music) chords and discords.. Buckley was fantastic; his voice was incredibly powerful and versatile. The raw strength in Buckley's vocal cords and lungs blew out the speakers in one of the PA cabinets. Wow ... For the most part his guitar was inaudible; actually this wasn't a fault, because it wouldn't have fit in with the back-up. For that matter, his voice didn't fit the back-up music either. Then again, the backup music didn't fit the back-up

It's all a matter of taste, I suppose. A great deal of the audience were greatly disappointed; it was all a goof engineered by Frank Zappa who was getting revenge for the treatment received at the hands of the audience at his Drew appearance. The rest of the audience was ambivalent about the whole thing; everyone liking and disliking different aspects of the concert; few agreements about any particulars.

The highlights of the concert were the moments when the backto get into the audience by tossup men played recognizable versions of the same song Buckley pretty much failed. The young comedian may have some talent, was a good concert, not a but he certainly didn't show any in this particular act. Last Friday night, more than Grand Funk Railroad, a rela-20,000 music freaks jammed the Fillmore East of the middle-aged tively, new group on the scene, was a pleasant following to the set, Madison Square' Garden to Pryor bomb. Led by a cavorting dig the sounds of Fleetwood Mac. lead guitarist Mark Farner, who Grand Funk Railroad, Sly and the also wails some good vocals, a Family Stone, and the comedy of heavy bass, and some loud drum-Richard Pryor (as it was billed), ming which, unfortunately, has who is supposedly a cross betoo much cymbal stuff to be that tween Bill Cosby and Flip Wilson, good, Grand Funk received a but without either of their talstrong ovation from the stillpanting-for Sly crowd. Biggest of the group's hits was "INSIDE Amazingly enough, the thing Looking Out," the last number of started on schedule, right at 8:30. both the performance and the As usual only about half the crowd group's second album. Grand had arrived at this time, so Mac Funk put on the second best show was playing before a half empty, of the evening. mostly stoned, moving about Sly and the Family Stone, as expected put on the best. After a long 35 - minute intermission, which was highlighted by several clapping and raving performances by the crowd. Sly and his group sauntered on stage and moved into a fabulous set. In addition to playing their best numbers, "Everyday People," 'Dance to the Music," "I Want To Take You Higher," among others, the group threw in a great version of "Thank You" for the encore. It was unfortunate.however, that the Garden people obviously wanted everyone out of the place before midnight. As Sly departed, he left 20,000 screaming, dancing and throbbing people great concert.

Charlie Brown...it's good

F'ebruary 20, 1970

Concert review

by Ken Schulman

First off was Fleetwood Mac.

Madison Square Garden audience.

There was no doubt, however, that everyone was waiting for Sly, because with Fleetwood's first few notes came cries of

"WE WANT SLY." An established British blues group, Fleetwood played a jam-filled set that anounted to 40 minutes of just four numbers. The group consists of three leads, a bass and a drummer, and at times the sounds are pretty loud. Good vibes, though

Next on tap was Richard Pryor who was simplyterrible. He tried ing around four-letter words and rauncy comments, but even that

(as Time mag would say).

(Cont. from p. 2) Play: West finds the best lead in the 10 of hearts, East overtakes hat he has some sort of securwith the Queen, cashes the Ace and King and then switches to the ity blanket is a fool or a liar. Queen of Diamonds. South wins the trick and crosses over to dum-Patty is the all-American type. my by leading a club. The Jack of spades is lead and when East Miss Apple Pie Cheerleader. plays low, South takes the finesse. West wins his singleton king to Nice, but an American image, not defeat the contract. As West gloatingly remarks that the play of the a person. Schroeder is our resi-Ace would have made the contract, South bitterly retorts that the dent artist. Though we may well shudder at the thought, Lucy in-Post Mortem: South was correct in that the finesse was the correct habits some portion of all our percentage play, but sometimes information is present that rules out souls. Crankiness is universal, percentages. In this case East has shown up with the Ace, King and Perhaps the most admired and Queen of Hearts and the Queen (and presumably the Jack) of diambeloved of the denizens of this onds. This gives East 12 high card points. If East had the King of little world is Snoopy, Snoopy is the romantic, the amiable past master of the art of living. Alan Kimmel has put together versatile set consisting only of seven pieces of furniture, most of which are of variable uses, and an upstage screen upon which different colored lighting is reflec-

THAT FLAGI

Clark Gesner's score is completely appropriate, It, like the entire show, is light, tender, and amusing. The singing is hardly of the quality one should expect from the Met, but it is easy to listen to and consistant with the performance. The musical ensemble, which is visible to the audience from its position at stage right, is outstanding.

Every one of the five member cast is excellent, Don Potter, as Snoopy, is completely forgivable as one of the most unabashed scene stealers one might ever have the great pleasure of seeny feeling the cartoon strip is maudlin, merely a pleasure.

the theatre-goer views the blowups of Schulze's drawings of the characters and he sees that there is no unnatural likeness, but when the play resumes that same feel-

I am not one to be particular impressed by saccharine sentimentality. The sort of maudlin production that usually is represented to celebrate all the wholesome joys and surmountable obstacles of life most frequently make me ill. "You're A Good man, Charlie Brown" is a different sort of production. It is a witty play that genuinely ing. The players look their parts makes the audience feel good to as well, and one gets the uncan- watch it. It is not saccharine or finesse was the correct percentage play.

CAPTAIN HARVEY

KAPITAN KAISER

K-K decision time

The drive for the King-Kennedy Scholarship begins today. The K-K scholarship was founded two years ago when a group of students decided they wished to commemorate the lives of Robert Kennedy and Martin Luther King Jr. by a student-supported scholarship for those who could not otherwise attend Drew.

Last year, after much inaction, a committee was formed to organize the fund. It raised enough money to induce ECAC to release $4200 it had been holding in escrow for the fund, and this year there are several K-K scholars on campus. However, student government killed a proposal for a permanent committee.

Once again this year, a student government has talked much and done nothing. Joe Mayher and a group of volunteers have now taken the projecet over. With no firm base for the fund yet established and no reserve money, this drive could be the last. A project begun under student initiative can die for lack of student support. It's a simple rational fact that if the fund isn't supported now, it will cease to exist. If it does expire, it will leave an uncomfortable void.

Senate quickies

1) The senate will decide next week whether to recommend giving the SG President power to appoint student representatives to the faculty Educational Policy and Planning Committee. These may well be the most important committee seats students hold, since EPPC is the body through which most academic policies pass. Given this the representatives should be chosen by a process as far removed from student politics as possible. The senate voted last week to recommend that they be chosen by students in academic division caucuses. President Robert Smartt then vetoed this. The senateshould override this veto and pass their own much sounder proposal.

2) Then, if all goes according to plan, the student body will be asked to vote soon on whether to remove all academic requirements from student government positions. Given the current double standards, plus the unenforceability of the rules, this should be done. Student Government people put in no more time than many persons in various other activities, sanctioned and non-sanctioned, so there is no reason that they should have grade requirements no one else has.

the young conservative— His right to speak of fair play and an opportunity to learn something. history of South Carolina. Considering the political climate of Drew, it is perhaps regrettable that we could not have engaged a particular section of the country, and less likely to show ourselves to be as willing to grant the right of free speech as we are to demand it.

As residents of the Northeast, smug in our alleged superiority to the other parts of the country, we ity system. can take no pride in the fact that the late Robert was walloped over the head with a placard reading Carolina, when he comes, will be the guest of the vitation, or by the invitation of the Young Republi- state to state. He is also a firm believer in federal cans or the Young Americans for Freedom but by revenue sharing. the invitation of the President of our Student Gov-offers us an opportunity to learn something. Even same platform where four years ago Senator Wayne if we do not agree with everything he represents he is one of the most colorful political figures of gentlemen. You have given a public servant the only our time and an articulate defender of the strict thing he is entitled to: a courteous and attentive constructionist view of the Constitution. He has also hearing." It would be ironic indeed if Senator Thurhad a distinguished career both in and out of public life. During World War II he resigned a judgeship in order to serve in the Army; he saw action in both the European and Pacific theatres and won seventeen decorations including the Purple Heart, the Bronze Star, and the Croix de Guerre. He served as Governor of South Carolina from 1947 to 1951 and in 1954 he was elected to the Senate in a write-in-campaign--the first person in the history of the United States to be elected to high public office by this me-

The appearance of Senator Strom Thurmond at thod. (How's that for Power to the People?) He Drew this Sunday is to us both a challenge and an served two terms as a Democrat and in 1966 he was opportunity: a challenge to our courtesy and sense re-elected as the first Republican Senator in the

The Senator's respect for our traditional system of checks and balances has convinced him of the conservative speaker who is less controversial, not need to reform and strengthen Congress. He supas prominently associated with the interests of one ported the ill-fated Legislative Reorganization Act of 1967 which, among other things, proposed reenerate more heat than light. However, this need vising the procedures of Congressional commitnot necessarily be the case if we as college students tees and improving Congressional oversight of the executive branch. Not content with that, he went so far as to advocate a mandatory retirement age for all committee chairmen and reform of the senior-

Similarly, Senator Thurmond's respect for our Kennedy could be courteously received when he vis- federal system has made him a champion of states' ited the University of Alabama while George responsibilities as well as of states' rights, de-Wallace, when he visited one of our campuses, claring that the states should be the "initiators of new policies and new concepts." He has urged state 'God is Love." The Senior Senator from South governments to take the lead in combatting such problems as air pollution inasmuch as the nature entire Drew Community; he is not here by my in- of this and other problems vary considerably from

In conclusion, I would like to point out to the memernment and therefore by the invitation of all of us. bers of the Drew Community that when the Senator As I pointed out earlier, the Senator's visit also speaks here on Sunday he will be speaking from the Morse made this statement: "Thank you, ladies and mond were to be denied that same right

Names needed ·

The Acorn we!comes all letters. However, we must know the author. Names will be withheld on re-

Malfeasance on all sides-

Hindrances should resign

by Ted Greenberg

After turning over the telephone keys and mimeo machine to Bob and George last April I was content to retire to the obscurity of the suites and pursue the "adventure in excellence" which is so uniquely Drew.

Since that day late in April I have watched with increasing revulsion the indignities the Senate and the Student Body have had to endure, What Bob Burns so antly called "the children's hour" has turned into a playground rumble which the adolescent minds of the participants can no longer control. The projected result appears to be the destruction of student government and the abrogation of responsible dialogue and mutual respect established five years ago by S.G. President Wayne Connor.

Let me take this opportunity to thank Bob Burns for his explication of our (Ken's and my) accomplishments last year. But, for all that we did, there was just as much left undone. As our administration closed last year we presented Bob Smartt with many pages of suggested legislation and projects that remained to be completed.

Among these were the abolition of drinking regulations, the planning with Mr., Pepin for a pub in the S.U.; curfew abolition: new library procedures: recommendations on several matters to the Board of Trustees; and most important was detailed information on academic concerns such as 4-1-5, 4-4, 4-1-4, comprehensives, pre-Christmas finals, and other calendar reforms,

Yet, this year has seen no tangible evidence of any movement, let alone accomplishment, on these matters by the Smartt administration. The actions taken by the faculty this year have been on. their initiative alone -- and they are to be commended for it--for they have remained too quiet for too long.

It seems to me that the President and Senate have been so negligent in not relating to their constituents what is being done at Drew that they are guilty of malfeasance in office. If the S.G. lacks the initiative to make recommendations to the faculty, they should at least poll student opinion on faculty action.

A case in point: for those of you who may not have access to the faculty or who find the reporting in the Acorn inadequate, the college faculty is about to make the most important academic change in the history of the college. The faculty is ready to change from a 5-5 system to a 4-4 system. They've eliminated the 4-1-5 system which was endorsed by S.G. last year and have not opted for 4-1-4. They have done this because, as the Acorn quoted one department chairman, "They couldn't find any new, exciting or even different academic programs to fit into that slot." That statement is absurd to me and I question whether that person should be a department chairman, What is interesting is that meaningful S.G. mvolvement in these matters has ceased to ex-

Therefore, let me sketch very briefly what the 4-4 system might mean for the Student Body--what your S.G. has said or done nothing about.

A) All three-credit courses become four credits-how can one expect a good 4-credit course when department chairman can't find anything "new, exciting or even different" in academic prog-

B) The big departments like Polisei. English, and Economics will drop their course offerings to four intro and upper-level courses per semester. What happens to Art, Music, Drama?

C) Most disturbingly, the faculty anticipates a significant increase in average class size.

Now to the charges of use and misuse of ECAC funds, the S.G. phone, physical threats, conspiracy and collusion that have been leveled against S.G. President Bob Smartt. I would not like to prejudice any judicial body that might consider the Smartt case in the future, so I will refrain from discussing my opinions on the incorrectness of Smartt's actions and discuss only the way in which the investigation has been handled.

To begin with, I cannot fathom the Senate's seeming unwillingness to master their own constitution, let alone Robert's Rules of Order. These two documents are essential to understand how any deliberative body operates. The senate's lack of expertise (which can be easily acquired), coupled with Smartt's clandestine manipulative operations, have lost the Student Body much.

It's regrettable that Senator Tom Quirk had to undertake the difficult and unpleasant task of hanging out the S.G.'s dirty laundry in public. His task is not an easy one to shoulder, and although a freshman having little experience with S.G. or Bob Smartt, his actions were not, as B.S. said, "young and foolish". They were motivated by idealistic considerations and a desire to be the Mc-Carthy liberal Smartt once pretended

It seems obvious that the "sense of community" we developed last year is just about dead and with it goes S.G. Examples: faculty academic reform without S.G. consultation-our failure to can extricate itself from the present proceed with the allotment of the remaining seats on the University Senate-etc.

Last year Middle States suggested that S.G. had too much responsibility at Drew. E.G.S. Baker, amateur politician, zoologist (?) and part-time Fuller Brush Man suggested that S.G. was "irrelevant". In light of these views it seems unfortunate that the Smartt investigation and the administration's reaction surfaced at the same time Middle States came to Drew again, But I don't believe that the Senate has conducted itself improperly under Article 75 of Robert's or that the investigations being pursued should be written off without full explanation to the Student Body.

Regardless of the action of any of the investigating committee I think it incumbent upon Mr. Smartt to offer his resignation as did Abe Fortas, This, I honestly believe, would be the best action for Mr. Smartt to take because there are too many people committed on both sides of the issue to allow anyone to win-and S.G. will lose either way.

Concurrent with Mr. Smartt's resignation, the Senate should set new election schedules posthaste, to allow the new officers a long period of time to re-establish S.G. They should then move into a committee of the whole and begin intensive constitutional revision and academic research, so that they might emerge well-versed on the issues before them as the new president takes office. The declared candidates should present as part of their platforms their own proposals on academic and constitutional reform.

I believe that this is the only viable manner in which student government

Letters To The Editor

Insensitivity

To the Editor:

The petty political squabbles that have afflicted Drew campus most often seem amusing and trivial, but now they have taken a sickening turn. Ego-tripping Bob Smartt vetoed the use of ECAC funds by Hyera for its cultural exposition because of his bitter and shallow feud with that organization. To worsen the situation, every Drew meal eaten by one of the contributors to the exposition has to be paid by Hyera. If anyone saw the African Dance Group come through the snack bar at Monday dinner, then one would realize how costly this exposition could become for Hyera. The Drew campus is being honored with one of the most varied and exciting cultural events of the year; when people like the Carol Waddy Singers and Lee Morgan are appearing at no cost to the public, it is heartbreaking to see personality disputes and administrative inflexibility make the organization of such an exposition so much more difficult.

"Where Is Black" has been designed to help people understand one another better, but how can this be done if the sponsors of the affair must put up with high schoolish antics and insensitivity to the human good?

Raymond Sarg

Asks interest

Over my four years as a student at Drew, I have noticed some of the changing trends and activities on campus. The one which I am spurred to write about is the declining interest faculty and administration are showing in student concerts, lectures, plays, and other similar activities:

In recent events, as the Judith Abstadter concert, College Chorale performance, and the beginning activities of Black Culture week, I could have counted on one hand the faculty members at each.

Part of the advantage of a small college, as Public Affairs presents is the opportunity for the student to meet and know his college faculty. Excluding the instructors in your major field, these activities are one of the few ways in which the student can get to converse with a faculty member outside of his office. Drew should not be that type of school known merely as a teacher, but rather as a total personality. tunity to meet on this level. It also seems a bit contradictory how we have come here to have our interests broadened and the faculty does not wholeheartedly support those activities intended

I wish interest would again be taken by faculty in these activi-Hillel officers promise action

There has been a change in the administration of the Drew chapter of Hillel. The new officers are as follows:

Bresident: Steve Denemberg Vice-President: Mitch Manson Treasurer:Dara Frankel Secretary: Liz Schultz

The Hillel promises to become much more active now.

year. Attendance by administra- Deepest regret tion might also serve to help close the gap between them and

Bruce Taylor

No real feud

To "Concerned Student":

Duels in the days when they were accepted, were to settle (unintelligently) serious personal disagreements and especially slights to one's "honor", what the Devil ever that was. I have no such disagreement with Mr. Hoffman and I am not aware that he has one with me. Hence neither duelling nor kissing seems in Very seriously, I trust neither you nor anyone else has misinterpreted the long, sometimes serious, sometimes otherwise. public exchange of opinions between Mr. Hoffman and me as involving anything personal. Our views are not always the same. though I suspect that basically there is at least as much on which we agree as on which we disagree, and it has been fun to debate. But there is no antagonism, In fact, I do not even know Peter personally, to my regret.

E.G. Stanley Baker

Thanks to all To the Editor:

Time once again to express my thanks to all those people who donated their time and talents Saturday night on helping to bring off the Tim Buckley con-men of Alpha Phi Omega Drew's however, is an alternative. thanks and appreciation.

Dave Marsden Mascot offered campus who is not a regularly enrolled member of the student body. He is approximately 12 inches high and 21/2 feet long. He might be called an exchange student since he is from Sheltand, England. He is known as a es. Once he went so far as to starve himself to the point where to happen to man's best friend, A for better or worse, Will people was kind enough to consent to is something Bob can stop.

Thanks, words of caution warm have a swing ... some feedback for my feelings, are the

Unfortunately, in this statement Miss Hattery has connected two distinct phrases and made them into one, giving a decidedly wrong impression, It is true that swing for music are the blacks,

but the phrase "some feedback for my feelings" refers to the native style of the music of my own land, which has much in common with the rhythm and 'swing'

of what black Americans call

I never intended it to refer, as it seems to do in your article, to especially amongst the members sure that all are sincere in their said that the people who have a

Black people."

It was a great shock to learn of the death of Mr. Cox early Tuesday morning. For those of you who didn't know Mr. Cox well, let me say his help was indispensible to Student Government last year as I'm sure it was this year.

Let me take this opportunity to extend condolences to his family and say that Mr. Cox will indeed be missed at Drew. Ted Greenberg

DeG greetings

London, February 9

Having a wonderful time; wish any particular race of people, and you all were here. Say hello to the it certainly was not meant to im-'Hawaiian Eye' for me and be- ply that I do not have warm feellieve me, those were my resig- ings for the American people in nations and my signatures. All general, and my Drew friends in my bests to the wonderful sen- particular. There is a sense in which one misses the 'spontane-

George DeGirolamo ity' of Brazil, but on the other

Misinterpretation hand, I have found amongst white Americans many who have become very dear and close to me,

In your issue of February 13. in an article headed "America of the Chorale, The teachers here different, not as warm," your too, have always extended to me reporter, Maxine Hattery, quotes the warmest friendships, I am

THE LEFT SIDE

Peter Hoffman Special appreciation must go concerned students who feel what Drew needs is "a duct myself rationally. This is a legitimate critito John Keiper for his many and good moderate president". Well, if that is what they cism although I don't believe it is at all correct. I

Service Fraternity and to their In the traditional areas I am not a "well-qualipresident Brad Miner and serv- fied" candidate: my direct experience in student ice chairman Ron Durante. These government is severly limited (which may however people not only did a fine job the at this time be an attribute) and my harsh writings night of the performance, but leave me open to cute political maulings. One Drew were instrumental in setting up politico informed me that he could use posters with and cleaning up the gymnasium. out-of-context quotes from my Acorn columns to So to these people as well as easily defeat me. A candidate who takes controvereveryone else involved, our sial position always faces this tactic. It is a lot easier to attack one's opponent than to present an active platform of your own. I don't believe that the students will go for this maneuver; the time has come for an issue-based campaign.

approach to student government and its politics, a quarreling childishness. keen interest in the social and academic questions facing Drew students, and an ambitious, energetic belief that through student effort this campus can progress markedly. I have no list of activities and positions to parade before you; I am not running on my charm. My personality is perhaps too contentious to play the classic political gambit of the where any professor should be Sheltie and, as might be guess- modulating half-truth designed to please everyed, he is a dog. The unusual body. My candidacy is an alternative for the disthing is that Buddy (that is his satisfied; it is a positive program of student action. name) will not eat without his I will not here review the issues on which I will. master. Twice when he was giv- base my candidacy. By election day you will be so en away he put on hunger strik- sick of hearing them that I needn't begin now. The point is that my candidacy is one of issues, programs, ideas, and other dull, grisly matters. I beit was thought he must be put to - lieve it is time to elevate the juvenile nature of the sleep. This is a terrible thing Drew political process, I don't know if I am the candidate to do this, but you certainly will have the

My vice-presidential candidate is Robert John-

Mike Jacques dealing with the deans in a productive manner. I am ready to accept their decision.

"It might be a coincidence, but the people I have found who are

Your reporter promised to let me see a copy of the article before it was published. This she failed to do. Had the promise been kept, this misunderstanding would have been avoided.

May I say in conclusion that I shall be grateful for the education given to me in this American university, and to the American people who made it possible. I shall always hold dear the many many friendships, amongst both white and black, that I have formed since coming to the United States of America. Friendship is here for the taking. The difference with my own country is in the initial contact, not in the gift. Glaucia T. Munhoz

Call to sinless

To Mr. Burns, Mr. Greenberg, and their successors:

"Let he who is without sin cast the first stone."

Toe use need

Observor

To the Editor:

Let me suggest that if E.G. Stanley Baker has trouble counting beyond ten, he can take off his shoes and use his toes. Former Zoology Student varied contributions and to the want I'm sure they will vote one in. My candidacy,

I seek office

My qualifications I believe are: a totally fresh dog will always stick with you opportunity to see for yourself if I am. do the same? A petition will be son, a relatively unknown, studious, stolidly pergoing around to make Buddy the ceptive, friend of mine. Bob is essentially non-po-Drew mascot. I would like to littcal. He dislikes political maneuvering, backbiturge everyone to sign it. A mas- ing, groin-stabbing, and procedural twisting. Barrie cot could be agood thing for Drew Berman in a recent Senate meeting struck to the and Drew could save a small heart of the Senate's problems in decrying the life. Buddy would like to live "double-standard" used in handling procedural in the Plant office and be cared questions. Procedure in the Senate is used to screw for by his master. Mr. Jordan up one's opponents, not to promote fairness. This this arrangement. Please make . Cecilio Barnett has voiced doubts about my candidacy because he feels that I am not capable of will be presented with an intelligent choice and I

I have decided to run for President of Student assume the basis for this criticism is that I am Government. This will undoubtedly dismay many "too emotional", too arrogant, and frenzied to conask only for the opportunity to show that it isn't. There is a time for ranting from the mountaintops and there is a time for quiet talk across the coffee table. Both are essential for successful bargaining.. I suspect that in these next few years Drew's whole conception of itself will be subjected to intensive review. The University is in an era of institutional turmoil; the forms of University education are under heavy attack. A generation of students who are experienced and sophisticated in a way their parents may never understand have initiated a revolution in values, the culmination of fifty years of living in a technological environment. The focal point of change, as always, is the university. Drew students can take an active role in this transformation, or they can remain mired in petty elitism and

My campaign is an attempt to redefine the relationship between students and administration; and the student government and the students. It is an attempt to throw upon the backs of the students the burden of molding the loose, quickening change we now see, because in the final analysis it will be the students who will have to live with the results. I would like to see more such attempts-different ideologically perhaps. However, I expect all Ishall see is more negative, personal attacks based on fear and resentment. I have noticed that despite the obvious controversial nature of my ideas NOT ONE STUDENT (with the possible exception of Dennis Ingoglia) has commented intelligently on my view of campus issues. There has been no dearth or responses, to be sure, but these range from the inane to the absurd. I am not so immodest that I believe my platform is THE answer to Drew's problems, but at least it is an attempt. Of course, when it comes to the crunch it will be the students themselves who will decide the extent of their future in volvement. This coming election will be one pact of . that overall reckoning. The voters will have a choice. It will not do to brush off that choice led its

This is my last column until after the dection. John Rumsey, Bruce Hirsh, and myself are available for discussion on any and all issues. We hope to reach every student with our ideas. This campaign will be a campaign of issues. The students

ALE TELEVISION SERVICE PARTS ACCESSORIES mported Auto Center Tape Recorders 539-5522 HOURS: Daily 9 to five

INDULGE in our FABULOUS WINTER STYLES KURTZ MEN'S SHOP

they're today. Bells from MEDIA-1-STOP 245. PARK PL MORRISTOWN

SATURN 57 Main St., Millburn

BLUE Jean Bells

4.99

RANDONNI

SATURN IS THE DISTINCT

HIS

NO LETS GC FOR ALL YOUR TRAVEL NEEDS CONTACT HERS (-201) 67 - 3807

Excellent Travel Bargains available

Bermuda, Caribbean, Western, U.S., Hawaii Call or write for information

Wrestlers complete season with 3 wins, end 4-5

Two strong finishes versus Rangers to edge Yeshiva, 25-22, 150 Joe Rienzo, dec. Hunter and Yeshiva enabled the in the final meet of the season, 158 Carl Altman, pinned Drew varsity wrestling squad 118 forfeit by each team to make a 100% improvement 126 Yeshiva forfeit over last year's 2-7 record by 134 Rex Merrill, pin finishing at 4-5, Including a for- 142 Yeshiva, forfeit feit by Brooklyn Poly, the grap-Haverford win boosts plers copped their last three meets. Coach Eveland was pleased with his wrestlers' performswordsmen to 4-5 ances throughout the season. Brooklyn Poly cancelled its and Doug Lampe enabled the last year's final 2-7 slate.

THE MILROSE SHOP

HEADQUARTERS FOR

Denum 'n' Corduroy

52 MAIN ST. MADISON

meet with the Rangers, allowing Behind strong epee and sa- sabre. the wrestlers to take an easy bre performances, the Drew varsecond win of the season. The sity fencing squad topped Hav- chalked up by Dick Stratton in grapplers then trampled Hunter, erford, 19-8, in an away meet, epee, and sabre men Bruce Rah-41-5, in a Valentine's Day vic- breaking a three-match losing tory. Every wrestler won his streak. The previous night visweight class in the meet; the iting Johns Hopkins ripped the only Hunter points were due to Green Giants, 20-7. Now boasta forfeit in the heavyweight div- ing a 4-5 overall record, the vastly improved fencers, under Pins by Rex Merrill, who end. vibrant new coach Paul Primaed the season with a 9-0 record, more, have improved 100% over > epee star Dick Stratton was idle fencers managed winning scores. as Mike Silberman took all three of his foil matches, and Lorne Mayer took two out of three in sabre. Ted Babbit had the lone

Against Haverford, Silberman

took three for three in foil. Also perfect were Tom Holland, with * three for three in epee, and Lorne

DISCOUNT RECORD AND

Madison Photo Shop

48 Main Street

Madison

STEREO TAPE DEPARTMENT

ALSO TAPE RECORDERS

377-0522

The remaining matches on the fencing schedule include Yeshiva in an away contest, and Stevens and Brooklyn Poly at home.

Referendum

167 Jerry Mallernee, pinned

ter and Chris Bretschneider.

Chris Ehmann, a foil man who is Drew trailed Haverford 5-4 after the first round, but took

Division scores were epee, 7-2; foil, 5-4; sabre, 7-2. Johns Hopkins whipped the swordsmen 8-1 in the epee division, 6-3 in the foil, and 6-3 in the sabre.

177 Doug Lampe, pin

190 Drew forfeit

(Cont. from p. 1) ulty requirements."

The proposal must now go into a referendum. If passed there, it goes to the faculty. If approved there, it becomes legally part of the constitution.

MADISON PHARMACY Bellining 66 Main St. WE DELIVER 377-0075 - 0076

TELEPHONE 377-8981

67 MAIN STREET MADISON

Campus Shell

Road service free anywhere in Madison

Magisty N. J. 07940

Playing better, hoopsters drop close contest to Stevens

by Henry Selvin

Hamilton

powerful, fast - breaking team

The first ten minutes of action tics. With about ten minutes re- sey and Hudak was not enough to maining in the half Hamilton had stop such a fast running ball club. a six point lead at 20-14. The Rangers began to hustle more and reduced the deficit to one point again for Drew with 19 and 17 at 28-27. The last five minutes points respectively. Merritt of play in the half were tense as Schwartz deserves most of the Hamilton was never able to retain credit for defense, being responmore than two point lead, A spec- sible for several great steals, tacular basket by Drew's def- He also showed a big improveensive ace Merritt Schwartz from ment on offense. Howie Schober 40 feet out as the buzzer sound. and Bob Kopech also played good ed made the score 34-38.

Banking Need

= = TRUST COMPANY 2 Waverly Place

Madison Plaza 377-3600 Member F.D.I.C.

VILLAGE SHOP

Wedgewood, Lenox Artware Waterford Glass Jewelry

WE MAIL

New location In the heart of Madison

Druback Florist

FINE FLOWERS DISTINCTIVE GIFTS 80 MAIN STREET FRONTIER 7-5454

 Rose City ! jewelers LONGINES BULOVA SPEIDEL TIMEX

watch & jewelry

cor. Waverly & Main PHONE 377-2145

BANK OF AMERICA

MASTER CHARGE UNICARD Applicates at each categories at each at each at each at a half action. The Rangers continued to stay in the game mainly The Rangers lost one of their on defense and by taking advantoughest games of the season to a tage of Hamilton's loose ball handling on turnovers. With abfrom Hamilton, 84-60, last Sat- out 8:50 to go Drew was only behind by four points at 52-48. Then Hamilton started to put on were close. Drew's tight defense a scoring blitz, completely outwas obviously putting the squeeze running and outscoring Drew. on Hamilton's ball running tac- A Great shooting efforts by Ker-

All starters scored in the game with Kersey and Hudak high men games. And, of course, Coach Both teams appeared tired in Giovannucci should be commenthe first few minutes of second ded for molding the players into

Stevens Tech the end of the first half, the Rangers gave their fans in Baldwin Gym something to cheer about last Friday until the tables turned and Drew lost its thirteenth straight contest of the season by a margin of only one point, 44-43 to arch rival Stevens Tech. Drew, showing a lot of poise and hustle, gained an early four Howie Schober to make the score 10-6. Stevens fought back to take the lead by one point with twelve minutes to go. Jrew's defense, though, held down Stevens' lead about seven minutes remaining the Rangers' offense ignited lead by the hot hands of Hudak, Kop-FG FT Total > ech and Kersey. The second half spelled trou-

Gerlach's Jewelers SERVING MADISON AREA FOR 32 YEARS

DIAMONDS SHEVERWARE LENOX CHINA OMEGA-HAMILTON WATCHES Watch and Jowelry Repairing

61 MAINST. 377-0767 MADISON

POSITIONS AVAILABLE FOR THE 1970 SEASON

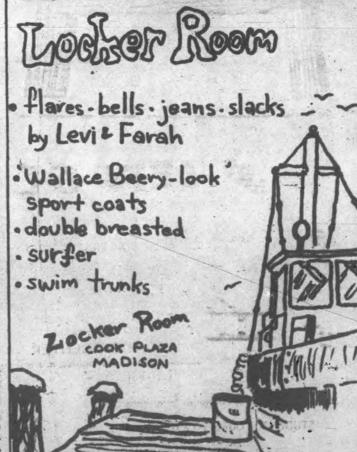

CAMP CHIQUETAN

a non-sectarian and interracial private boys' campus in Lancaster Co., Pa. Administrative-Medical-Food Service-Program specialists or General Counselors.

SEE PLACEMENT OFFICE FOR MORE INFORMATION OR

1018 E. Mt. Airy Ave. Phila., Pa. 19150 Phone: (215) CH 8-0514

8 ble for the Rangers, who start-7 ed to falter on defense as Stevens was making a big comeback, With about 111/2 minutes left the score was tied at 34-> points from the foul line, but a cold shooting spell gave Stevens a chance to stay in the game. With 4:59 remaining in the game the score read 41-41. Stevens

Counselor positions for the 1970 Summer Season are now available at ECHO HILL, CAMPS.

Box 5168

Clinton, N.J. 08809 or call: (201-782-7172) for

Ribbon - Buttons Trimmings

Madison Varn Shop

Needlepoint and Crewel

but a beautiful lay-up by Drew's

Bob Kopech put the Rangers behind by only one point at 44-43.

40 KINGS ROAD MACISON

Scented

soaps and

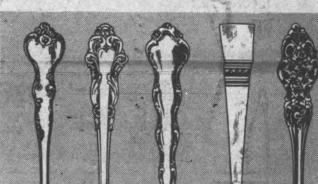

Peddlers - Post candles

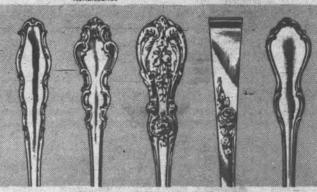

glass

pottery

Phone 377-7739

72 Main Street, Madison

We have your favorite sterling pattern ... as featured in Reed & Barton's

> SILVER OPINION COMPETITION

See the complete Reed & Barton collection as well as those of other famed silversmiths at

Gerlach's Jewelers SERVING MADISON AREA FOR 32 YEARS

DREW ACORN

Radio, Phono, TV.

24 MAIN ST FR7-2702

Get in the Picture EVERYTHING PHOTOGRAPHIC

VACATION CENTER 580 MAIN STREET . EAST ORANGE, N. J. 07018

STUDENT TOURS TO EUROPE

M.C.A. COMPLETE AUTOMOTIVE SERVICE TEL 377-9855 $2035 FREE PICK UP & DELIVERY ROAD SERVICE CLUB 2 purchases a month

SVRE ITT IDEALISTIC BYTISNT IT WORTHWHILE?

CAMPUS - WIDE DRIVE FEBRUARY 20 - 27

Contributions may be made to floor representatives

Asbury Hall -- Dave NewMeyer

Baldwin Hall -- 1st Harold Gordon 3rd Scott Ravitz

Brown Hall -- 1st Anne Woodbury 2nd Chy Hendee 3rd Cyndy Coll

Foster Hall -- Lou Cregler

Hasleton Hall -- 1st Chandler Welch 2nd Mike Silberman 3rd Keith Halperin

Holloway Hall -- 1st Charlene Smith 2nd Dagny Evansen 3rd Karen Moench Hoyt-Bowne -- 1st & 2nd Alice Burks 3rd & 4th Maria Derr

Hurst Hall -- John Cadwell

McClintock Hall -- Janet Dewar, Gwen Ivy

Tipple Hall -- Mike Jacques

Tolley Hall -- 1st Jeff Myers 2nd Al Haroian 3rd Al Runyon

Welch Hall -- 1st Kathy Skidmore 2nd Jan Moseley 3rd Debbie Fears

Wendel Hall -- Mike Jacques
Commuters -- Mike Jacques

