Issue No. 1 Vol. 1

January 20, 1986

Drew University, Madison, New Jersey 07940

ilroom closes after hours

inued vandalism cited

York

AUSE of continued vandalism e mailroom, Emerson Smith acted on his previous promise lown after hours were vandalized Thursday ording to Rob Smith, a mailloyee, when the glass plates on of the boxes were broken. He other boxes were broken last the glass was replaced with specially cut and mounted by s on either side of the door of er, when the vandals find that ot smash the plexiglass as they they tend to push it in, often screws with it and tearing apart he said.

xes are old and would cost a $40,000 in parts, not including on, Rob Smith said. Taking this figure into consideration, closing the mailroom "seemed like the only route to go," he said.

In October Emerson Smith consulted with Dean of Students Jane Newman and with the Public Safety Office about closing down the mailroom and said he had received their full support. But because the vandalism stopped after the consultation was publicized, the mailroom re-mained open whenever the University Center was open.

The Smiths had also been concerned because someone poured beer under the main window to the mailroom office in September, flooding the counter and destroying several notices placed there.

"If we find out who did it, we'll take appropriate action." Rob Smith added.

But for now, the mailroom will be locked from 11:30 a.m. Saturday to 8 a.m. Monday, and from 4 p.m. to 8 a.m. on weekdays so mailroom workers can monitor the area.

Damaged mailboxes like No. 1486 caused the mailroom to be closed after

bucket

NE bad apple spoils the whole bucket. We've all heard it before. And we've probably experienced it before as well. Imagine what ten or fifteen bad ones can do. began thinking of this issue last week with the idea of providing some up-to-date news, a little campus news, and an outlet for fidgety editors stuffed into the on of Jan Term.

by Friday morning we had a news item, one that will no doubt be repeated next when students return, one that we are not happy to announce. e mailroom is now closed nights and weekends because of excessive vandalism to ailboxes. Vandalism? In January? were warned last semester that the mailroom may close. It never did. Until now, less than a quarter of the community is here. at's right, less than a quarter. Approximately 23 percent. 348 out of about 1500.

figure it out. Not too glamourous. nd the fact that our university mailroom is being closed because the staff doesn't they can trust us is even less glamourous. It is an inconvenience that leaves us ing at the locked doors feeling cheated, deprived and humiliated; humiliated that are being treated like juveniles who can't be trusted. But what is even more iliating is that apparently we are. esides the fact that vandalism is foolish, useless, and costly, excessive amounts of it university is abhorent. Not to mention at 23 percent capacity.

ime and time again these pages have bristled at the idea of students being treated as ot, childish morons by the university. Weekly we fight the penchant for parenting dministrators. But we cannot argue with what has happened in the mailroom. In case, sadly, parenting is not only justified, but necessary e asked for it and we got it. We were warned, and we chose to ignore it.

The pity is that our 23 percent has ruined something for the rest of the campus. ursday night's activities can't be blamed on hordes of students crushing against each er into oblivion. It was us, each of us. Look around, somebody really messed up. et's try not to rot the rest of the bucket when it gets filled next week

Published this January by the staff of The Acorn with funds provided by Dean of Students Jane Newman and the Drew University Bookstore.

Sean Fulton Greg Crawford Peter litton John Loeser Leslee York Mary Ellen Porcelli Mike Pavlick

Editor Managing Editor Associate Editor Business Manager News Fun Sports

... STUDENT FEES AT PRINCETON University jumped this year from $14,940 to $15,980, a whopping 6.96 percent, according to the school's board of

The trustees announced their decision Saturday to area newspapers, while noting that an additional $690,000 will be provided in student aid. The university has a total of 4,400 undergraduates, all, no doubt, reveling in the pleasure of attending kalij with Brooke Shields.

... THE ALCOHOL POLICY that will greet returning students next week will be the old one, according to Dean of Students Jane Newman, with but one change.

Newman said the University will continue to adhere to last semester's policy, which allows multiple serving containers, but has added a restriction to the policy that prohibits area stores from delivering alcohol on campus.

Newman said a letter has been sent to local stores informing them of this

... ERNEST HEMINGWAY WILL HAVE A NEW BOOK OUT this spring though the journalist-turned-author-turned-folk-hero has been dead for 25 years.

The new book, entitled "The Garden of Eden," is being published in May by Charles Scribner's Sons, New York. Publicists say Hemingway worked sporadically on the novel for 15 years before his death in 1961, and in this work displays a "softness and sensitivity" the adventurer spent most of his life trying to hide.

A rough version of the novel was criticized by biographer Carlos Baker, a professor of literature at Princeton as being long and hedonistic.

... THE OTHER END will open Friday, Jan. 31, Opening night will feature a cabaret. For more information, read next week's Acorn.

... AIDS WILL BE DISCUSSED on Tuesday, Feb. 4, at a forum sponsored by Academic Forum, the Dean of Students, the Student Health Service, the Student Government Association, and a bunch of other people.
The forum, entitled "AIDS, Myths and Facts: What You Should Know," will feature Ralph Johnston, M.D., and Thomas Rush, Ph.D. Admission is free with Drew I.D.

HALLEY'S COMET IS GETTING CLOSER and will be more easily visible this spring.

Right now the comet is dimmed by the moon's light, and who wouldn't be, but by late February will be visible in the sky just before sunrise as it emerges from behind the sun. Scientists, however, predict the comet will pose no threat to

... MARTIN LUTHER KING DAY is today, Jan. 20. The day has been declared a legal holiday in New Jersey. Most state and federal offices will be closed; in fact, just about everything but Drew will close in honor of the man.

... HAMMERMAN is probably still at large, contrary to popular belief. Don't quote us because we haven't really checked. Read the Jan. 31 issue of The Acorn to get more information. Remember, he's short, but he packs hardware.

Fun

January activities

Events planned through Friday

Bugs Bunny	Put
8 p.m.
Gentlemen Prefer Blondes	Channel 11
8:30 p.m.	Charinei II
Little Rascals	Put
9 p.m.	FUL
Martin Luther King Jr. Salute	Channel 4
Bill Cosby, Bob Dylan, Peter, Paul and Mary highlight the event	Ondrinoi 4
The Prince of Bel Air	Channel 7
Mark Harmon stars as the sexy swimming pool cleaner.	Onamile 7
American Playhouse	Channel 13
"The Rise and Rise of Daniel Rocket," with Tom Huice of "Ama	Channel 13
And the of Barner Hocker, with form Huice of Ama	deus.

8 p.m.
The Seven Year Itch
This is the movie where Marilyn Monroe stands	Channel 11
skirt goes up. Must see!	over the subway thing and her
9 p.m.

A good film starring Sidney Poitier as a man who befrier	Channel 9 nds a blind girl.
The Inauguration of Gov. Thomas Kean A must for poli-sci majors and those in a deep depressi 1 a.m.
Delem- B-	The second secon

Pajama Party

Martian crashes party and finds Annette Funicello. They go on to sell tons of radioactive Skippy that makes people grow large breasts.

8	p.m.
	How to Marry a Millionaire Learning experience for Mrs. majors, but not much help if Monroe and eat your Skippy like mom told you to. The Haunting Passion	Channel 1 you look like Marily
1	A love triangle between Jane Seymour, her husband and a was it Memorex?	Channel : a ghost. Was it live of 9 p	o.m.

In 15 million years Los Angeles and San Fransisco will be next to each other.

You mean they aren't already?

8 p.m.
Niagara
Marilyn again, but she's sleeping around.	Channel 1

The thing about this is that Belker gets married and doesn't call his wife dog-breath. The truth hurts.

Mr. Sycamore

Jason Robards as a mailman who turns into a tree. Later, Dean of Student Life cuts him down and uses him to make her office.

Change of Habit

Elvis Presley plays a hip doctor who helps three nuns who help urban ghetto dwellers. Poverty-stricken trod on his blue suede shoes and he kills them all.

Also see: Rambo 3.

Friday

8 p.m.

	Let's Make Love
	Yes, let's. Marilyn does this one with Tony Twilight Zone		Channel 11
1	Twilight Zone	Handall, but he's n	ot Felix.
	Boy befriends vampire; world must be des men take over a suburban home. Call mo home.		Channala
10	) p.m.		amy s O.N. al
100	Miami Vice

Cheat!

Manic Bangles

T'S about time! After putzing around for a year and a half the Bangles have finally released the much anticipated follow-up to their punchy debut disc, "All Over the Place."

The new album, "Different Light" cer-ainly lives up to its title. Although I break away from endless comparisons to that other now defunct all-female group the Go Go's, "Different Light" only makes That's not to say the new album is bad; bassist Michael Steele, it rem tt's only half bad. The only songs that are the pop side of R.E.M. and Tom Per listenable sound like near misses — a wrong hook, a poor lyric, a cliched break. It's evident on "Let It Go" and "In A Different Light" that the Bangles are scared. By playing it too safe, (the AOR-slick for its own good. The Bange are scared by playing it too safe, (the scared by homore jinx is a recurrent nightmare can rock, but you'd never know it for ong most musicians), they have tried this release. Since I've followed the o please everyone, but have ended up from its meager beginnings and gle Suzanna Hoffs. He asked her her group to join his touring ban the offer. However, like a good

Even the bad boy genius of pop. Prince Rogers Nelson, can't save the Bangles.

this disappointing record.

The Other End

Needs help preparing for opening Jan. 31. Contact Josh Friedman CM Box 597

31	ACROSS
2 c- at	1 Serious wrongdoing 6 Brown pigment 11 Feign 13 Retaliate for 15 Optimistic
	16 Ornamental dish 17 Shakespearean

Arem University Bookstore

Open 7 days a week

Books-R-Us

Also:

Telephones - Computer supplies Visit Collector's Corner

All course books reduced 5 percent!

The Sub-La

Sports

Rangers split weekend doubleheader

Men score big MAC victory over Lycoming

By Mike Pavlick

FTER shooting only 30 percent from the field in Wednesday's loss to Moravian College, the Drew Men's Basketball Team came back and shot a sizzling 59 percent to record a 63-55 victory over Lycoming College in the second half of Saturday's basketball doubleheader at Baldwin Gymnasium.

Bill Dunn had the hot hand for the Rangers, shooting 10 for 14, including 6 of 6 in the second half, for a game-high 20 points. Dunn also tied Ken Farricker for high rebound honors with 6. Dan Moy-lan and Mackey Pendergrast scored in double figues, with 16 and 12 respectively. Moylan tacked on 5 assists and 5 steals to his totals for the game

Jay Cleveland lead Lycoming with 17 points. Ed Langer, who came into the game averaging 22.1 points per game, was held to just 14 markers, in part by the good defense of Pendergrast. Lycoming, with the loss, falls to 6-6 overall, 6-3 in the MAC.

Drew lead for most of the game, trailing Lycoming only during the first few minutes of the match. At several points in the second half, Lycoming crawled back into the game, but Drew blunted any comeback aspirations with some timely baskets.

The victory ups Drew's record to 5-7, including a 3-4 mark in the MAC. The Lycoming win was Drew's second in as many games against MAC-North competition. The two MAC wins, both over playoff contenders, keep Drew in the hunt for its first MAC playoff berth. "We had a very balanced offense and the execution was excellent," said Head Coach Charlie Brock after the game. "We didn't make many mistakes." Indeed, Drew turned the ball over only 9 times, while Lycoming was too generous with the basketball on 14 occasions. The Rangers executed their offense well, getting good shots. Drew hit on 29 of 49 field goal attempts.

"Our shot selection and our turnovers have improved, and our defense is bet-ter," Brock noted. "But the rebounding hasn't improved at all. We have to work on that in practice." Lycoming outre-bounded Drew 37-23 in the game, and scored several key baskets on follow-ups of missed shots.

of missed shots.

The key to the victory was defense, according to assistant Coach Vince Masco. "Going into the game, we felt we had to stop their transition offense, and we did." In 4 of the five Ranger wins, Drew has held their opponent to under 60 points. The defense in Saturday's win was aced by Moylan's five steals and Pen-paced by Moylan's five steals and Pendergrast's pressure on Langer. For the game, Drew had 11 steals, a large factor in holding Lycoming to under 60.

The Rangers, led by the three guard combination of Dunn, Moylan and Pendergrast, took a 33-25 halftime lead. Drew built that lead late in half on the strength of back to back baskets by strength of back to back baskets by erves Rich Rubin and Russ Stephan. Rubin also tacked on a free throw during Acknowledging the contribution of his bench, Brock said, "They didn't score much but they screened and moved without the ball, which set up scoring opportunities for the other players."

Bill Dunn takes a shot in winter basketball action.

The second half began as a see-saw battle, with Drew building their lead to 10 before Lycoming would cut it back down to five or six. Bill Dunn was doing most of the scoring, shooting a perfect 6 for 6 from the field during the half.

With less than 5 minutes remaining in the game, Lycoming mounted their final attack, managing to cut the lead down to four points. Drew called timeout to talk things over. During the huddle, Masco told the team that "We needed 2 or 3 told the team that "We needed 2 or 3 more scores to keep the pressure on. The way we were playing 'D' I felt we only needed 2 or 3 more baskets to win. And after the timeout, we executed properly and Dan Moylan on the transition got those points for us."

The last few minutes were the Dan Moylan show for Drew University. Driving to the basket after the timeout and a steal, Moylan stuck a short jumper to give Drew a six point cushion. Lycoming missed at the other end, and Moylan drove again for 2 points. Moylan scored again, and then added two free throws to give Drew a 10 point lead with time running out on Lycoming. Lycoming closed the gap to 8 before the final buzzer to make the final 63-55.

"I noticed they were playing a high-pressure defense," said Moylan about his late game scoring spurt, "and the lane was wide open. So I just drove to the basket to see what I could get." While Moylan was scoring Drew's last 8 points, Lycoming was warming up the bus for the long trip back to Williamsport, PA

Moylan, one of two seniors on the team, was pleased with the win. "It keeps us alive for a playoff spot, and it proves we have the potential to beat anybody in the conference." Moylan added that the team needs fan support. "It would be great to fill up the gym with students, especially for the FDU game next Wednesday."

The Rangers' first action of 1986 saw them travel to Franklin and Marshall for the Lancaster Boys' Club Tournament. In the first round game, Drew played a 6-1 Franklin and Marshall squad, beating them 63-59. Mackey Pendergrast scored 18 points to lead the way, while Ken Farricker pulled down 7 rebounds. The Rangers came out flat in the Championship game against Washington and Jefferson, losing 79-62. Moylan was high

Ladies fall against Upsala

By Mike Pavlick

Staff Writer

RAILING by as many as 16 points late in the second half, the Drew Women's Basketball Teamhalved Upsala College's lead in the last seconds but could not catch the outmanned guests, losing 78-70.

Upsala's Stephanie Carson led all scorwith 34 points, while teammate Lisa Stoekel chipped in with 16 points and some pretty assists. Upsala, which dressed only five players for the game, placed two other girls in double figures (Ekmetjian 13, Farro 11).

Drew, in the meantime, enjoyed its highest offensive output of the season, putting 70 points on the board. Three Lady Rangers placed in double figures led by Diane Clarke and her 20 points.

Clarke scored the first basket of the game at the 19:07 mark, while two Clarke free throws closed out the first half scoring, but in between, it was all Upsala. With the score 8-7, Upsala ran off 10 straight points, providing a cushion that Drew would find impossible to over-

Carson working inside, Stockel patrolling the perimeter, the guests consistently got the ball inside the lane, where the Rangers were pretty much powerless to stop the Upsala attack. Although looking to conserve their energy, Upsala ran when the opportunity presented itself in the half, with fast break baskets usually set up by a Stockel pass. Upsala lead by as many as 17, and settled for a 38-23 halftime advantage.

In the early stages of the second half, Drew showed some signs of mounting a comeback, but never put together a run of points that would have gotten them back in the ballgame. Drew did not score more than 4 points in a row until the last minute of play, while defensive lapses gave Upsala too many easy baskets.

Midway though the final half, Drew began to wear down Upsala, utilizing a 3/4 court press. A point here, a point there, the Lady Rangers began to chip away at the lead. Back to back baston Jodi Geiser at 4:05 and 3:29 cut Upa lead to 11. But Stephanie Carson the fire with a three point play the trip down court to make the sco Drew wasn't finished though, as h range jumpers by Chervl Sto Monahan sliced the lead to 10 poi two minutes remaining.

In the last minutes, Drew sta foul in order to get the ball back, but by Carson (10 of 11), Upsala hit en free throws to record the 78-70 M Northeast victory. With the loss Da record falls to 2-8 overall, 2-4 in

A bright point for the Rangers was balanced scoring effort. Leading so Julie Monahan, still feeling the affet a cold which knocked her out of Thursday's Muhlenberg game, did a start, while 3rd leading scorer and leaf rebounder Karen Hunter is out 7-10d with a shoulder injury. With a si chunk of the offense sitting on the other players were forced to cam load, and they did the job well, as denced by the 70 points scored.

Clarke had 20, while freshman Che Stone hit for a career high 18. Jodi Ge was the third Ranger in double firm with 15, including 13 big second has points. Liz Bungo just missed double its, tallying 9 points. Monahan came the bench to provide 8 second half poi Likewise, with Monahan sitting of the Muhlenberg game, the three lea scorers in the losing effort were Clark (15), Stone and Geiser (8 each). If Stone Clarke and Geiser can continue to at that pace and if Monahan and Hust return to form, opponents could themselves facing the most balance Drew team in years.

The Lady Rangers gave Coach Pan Beagan a nice Christmas present with 67-45 victory over Haverford College the last game before the semester be Monahan led the offensive parade 27 points, while Hunter pulled down rebounds

However, the New Year has thus a not been an easy one. In their first gan back after vacation, Drew hostst Catawba (NC). Hunter had the big to for the Rangers, scoring 9 points grabbing 11 rebounds, but Catava rolled to a 65-32 victory. Two days last Nazareth (NY) visited the Ranger and came away with an 83-44 trium Hunter snared 11 rebounds, and Mo han scored 15 to lead the Rangers

Back in the MAC, Drew fell to King) College, 69-33. Liz Bungo scored 8 point and grabbed 7 rebounds to spark Drew Drew's next home game is this To against cross-town rival FDU Madison. Game time is 7:30 p.m. A this week, Drew hosts defending Nation Champion Scranton on Thursday (7pm and Vassar College on Superbowl day (2 p.m.).

man with 18 markers. Pendergrast, who scored 26 points in the two games, earned All-Tourney honors

Returning to Madison, Drew faced MAC power King's College. A blowout victim in the two teams' first meeting of the season, Drew played inspired basketball, forcing an overtime period after tying the score at 56-56. But Ed Moyer's 23 points proved too much for the Rangers, as they lost in overtime, 68-62 Pendergrast lead Drew with 21 points while Farricker snared 8 rebounds

On the road again, Drew fell behind early on to Wilkes College, 26-13, only to pull out a 65-64 victory on a last second shot by Moylan. Moylan finished the game with 21 points on 8 for 9 shooting while making 5 steals and passing for 9

Against Moravian, Drew sharpshooters fell quiet, hitting on only 15 of 49 field goal attempts. Moravian, the 8th ranked goal attempts. Moravian, the our failked team in the country, scored 18 straight points at the start of the second half to turn a 18-18 deadlock into a 51-37 rout. Joe Novak lead the Ranger boardmen with 8 caroms, and Pendergrast scored 10 points, all in the first half.

Drew has a busy schedule this week with an away game at Scranton tonight and then home games versus Susque-hanna on Wednesday (7:30 p.m. tip-off), Juniata on Friday (7:30), and Vassar on Saturday (2:00 p.m.).

Sports Slate Men's Basketball

Today at Scranton Wednesday Susquehanna Friday Juniata Saturday Vassar

Women's B-ball

Tuesday Thursday Sunday

FDU-Madison Scranton