Founded in 1928

The Acorn

The independent student newspaper of Drew University

VOL. LXVIII NO. 20

MADISON, NEW JERSEY

APRIL 12, 1996

Newsman Wallace kicks off BET series

Fran Lucivero
Assistant News Editor

CBS News Correspondent Mike Wallace spoke last night as part of the BET Lecture series. Wallace has been co-editor of 60 Minutes for the 25 years that it has been on the air.

Last night's lecture focused on Wallace's no-holds-barred interviewing technique and "following the money," the influence of corporate power on broadcasting.

Wallace's career in broadcasting has spanned almost 50 years. Night Beat and The Mike Wallace Interview captured his hard core, blunt interviewing techniques. He has interviewed prominent figures such as Malcolm X, the Ayatollah Khomeini and Mike Quill, union leader of transport workers in NYC. In all of these interviews, Wallace probed deeply into the controversies surrounding these individuals.

In his interview with Khomeini, Wallace took a bold step and asked the Ayatollah a question that was not on the pre-determined list of interviewing questions. He said, "Forgive me Imam, but Anwar Sadat said, 'You are a lunatic.' It was the only time I got his attention ... the interpreter looked at me as if I was the lunatic, if I thought he was going to translate that for me." It was bold steps like this that provided Wallace with a distinguished reputation for finding the truth.

Wallace also spoke of his interview with Malcolm X. "I had no idea how prophetic he was in 1964, months before he was killed, when he explained why he broke with the Muslims and Elijah Mohammed."

Reportedly, Malcolm X found Mohammed had been impregnating the "Sisters of the Nation of Islam," and Malcolm X did not agree with this practice. Wallace was amazed that Malcolm X could predict his own death five months after the interview.

Leaping into recent decades, Wallace has continued his no-holds-barred interviewing on Sunday nights with CBS's 60 Minutes.

Recently, Wallace focused his concern on corporate power in the ability to control the broadcasting of certain issues. He calls this controversy "following the money."

Wallace compared the influence of powerful corporations over broadcasting with recent cases involving the Ford Motor Company and the tobacco industry.

From the 1970s through the present, the Ford Motor Company has been a large advertising contributor to CBS. When the Ford. Pinto was introduced, problems concerning the gas tank were found. "Ford Pinto gas tanks could

See WALLACE, page 8

Rock legend visits campus Bob Dylan concert expected to draw 5,000

Alison Takach
Editor in Chief

Tomorrow night the campus will be flooded with rain. Well, rainy day women and men, that is. Bob Dylan, the legendary folk rock artist, will perform in the Simon Athletic Forum, beginning at 8 p.m.

Dylan, best known for his simple, yet metaphorical songs, is beginning his current United States tour with tomorrow's concert. Approximately 5,000 people are expected to attend, which will allow the concert to be more intimate than any of his other arena appearances.

Bob Dylan was born Robert Allen Zimmerman in Duluth, Minnesota on May 24, 1941. He and his family moved with his family to Hibbing, MN six years later, where he later attended high school.

Dylan's showmanship began early, and he gave his first public performance at age four, when he sang "Accentuate the Positive" to his grandmother. The lyricism developed next, and he presented his mother with his first poem at age 10. Finally, there was the development of the musician, which began in 1955 when he received his first guitar.

Dylan began performing as a teen in several high school rock bands such as The Golden Chords, Elston Gunn and The Satin Tones. After graduating high school, he attended the University of Minnesota at Minneapolis for one year. While there, he discovered the revoloutionary Beat poets and his main creative influence, musician Woody Guthrie.

He began playing folk music and, after a few gigs at the 10 O'Clock Scholar coffeehouse, Dylan left school for Greenwich

COURTESY COLUMBIA RECORDS

Legendary performer Bob Dylan kicks off his next tour tomorrow in the Simon Forum and Athletic Center. The show will begin at 8 p.m.

Village in New York City, determined to make his mark as a folk singer.

And so he did. Dylan is considered one of the most influential singer-songwriters in rock 'n' roll. Ignoring many of the influences of his teenage years, including artists such as Hank Williams and Chuck Berry, Dylan's music was rooted in folk mainstream.

He was quickly recognized for his metaphorical and allegorical lyrics, and his songs caught on as anthems for those involved in the civil rights movement during the 1960s.

Though his music was often traditional folk and his technical ability relatively primative, it was the impact of his music which people noticed.

He managed to create a mood See DYLAN, page 8

Pranks draw admiration, concern

Charles E. Toms
Staff Writer

This year, several incidents on campus gave Drew a taste of April Fool's Day. Two unrelated pranks attracted the attention of Public Safety, as well as students and faculty.

The first prank left the Commons devoid of chairs. As daka employees and students entered the Commons on the morning of Monday, April 1, they found all of the chairs missing. According to general manager for daka Rick Joseph, "I was not there at the time, but the chairs were found up on the roof."

In all, there were approximately 625 chairs on the roof, nearly the total seating for the Commons. Next to the chairs the pranksters had written "April Fool's — Class of '96"

"It was an incredibly well-organized prank," Director of Public Safety Tom Evans said. "I estimate that it took 20 to 30 people several hours to pull it off. We believe that whoever did it entered the Commons after midnight, went up the exit ramp and to the roof via a hatch. From now on, we are going to make sure that the latch is locked."

It took Facilities Operations several hours using a front-end loader to remove all of the chairs from the

See PRANKS, page 8

CBS News Correspondent Mike Wallace narrates a film during his lecture last night. Wallace was the first speaker in the 1996 BET series.

INSIDE...

Health Services seeks national certification

Page 2

DUDS has a Baby

Page 9

Men's lacrosse routs CCNY Page 16

SGA election petitions

Petitions for the 1996-97 Stu dent Government Association positions of University senators class officers, class senators, CUE senator and Off-Campus Programs senator are due by Monday, April 15 at noon. Committee chair applications are due that day at 5 p.m. All materials should be submitted to the SGA office. Any questions may be addressed to Elections Chair

Holocaust remembrance

Ryan Fraytic at x4846.

Yom Hashoah, the Holocaus Remembrance Day, will be com memorated Tuesday, April 16 Three events will be held: Readings and Remembrances from 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. in the Commons Lounge, a Twilight Vigil at 7 p.m. in B.C. Chapel and a film, The Nasty Girl, at 7:30 p.m. in Baldwin Lounge. All events are sponsored by Hillel, the Jewish studies department and the Center for Holocaust Study.

Nozick symposium

Matthias Heyl from the Un ersity of Hamburg will speak about "Holocaust Education in Germany Today" Tuesday, April 16. The talk, which takes place at 7:30 p.m. in L.C. 28, will be followed by a panel of faculty, undergraduate and graduate re spondents. Dessert will be served at the conclusion of the program To attend, return a reply card to the Center for Holocaust Study or call x3600.

APO awards

The recipients of the first annition Awards have been announced. Senior Marcus Zumwalt and sophomore Tina Bugan, organizations SAGE (Students Against Genocide) and Drew Pro-Choice and administrator Scott Wood will be honored in a ceremony at B.C. Chapel Sunday, April 14 at 1 p.m. A luncheon will be served at 12:30

Philosophy lecture

Monday, April 15 at 9:30 p.m., Professor of Political Philosophy Hans Morsink will addres the question "Are Human Rights Universal?" The lecture, sponsored by the Drew University Philosophy Society, will take place in the Haselton fourth floor Drew's going to do it."

Holocaust expert speaks in Pincus lecture

Alice Chu

Dr. Yehuda Bauer, Chair of the lolocaust studies department at lebrew University, was the guest speaker in the annual Marcus Pincus Lecture series Monday, April 1 at 8 p.m. On a windy, rainy night, more than 80 people gathered in University Center 107 to hear Bauer's talk entitled "The Impact of the Holocaust on Jews and Non-Jews."

Bauer began the lecture with thought-provoking comments about the enduring role of the Holocaust in modern-day society. "To this day, the Holocaust is an important topic of discussion," Bauer said. "The flood is growing, it's not diminishing. And in an increasing measure it's non-Jews who are involved-in literature, prose, poetry, television, everything."

"It's not as if the dark side of humanity exists only in the Holocaust," Bauer continued. "What about Bosnia? What about Rwanda and the Kurdish tragedy? Why the Holocaust and not something else? How was the Holocaust unique?" One of the things which set the

Dr. Yehuda Bauer emphasizes a key idea during his talk on April 1.

More than a local policing affair, he said, the Holocaust was an attempt by the Nazis to completely wipe a group of people from the the enthusiasm of the Nazis in the pursuit of such a goal," Bauer said. "When we look at the Holocaust, we have an instinctive, unconscious realization that something happened of tremendous importance for the world in which we live."

the motivation behind the killing. the Holocaust is the historic significance of Jewish civilization, Bauer said. Contributions from the Jewish people have figured prominently in the creation of Western face of the earth. "It was the verve, civilization. When the Nazis rebelled against Western civilization, they essentially rebelled against the Jews as co-creators.

As he spoke, Bauer gestured to emphasize the weight of each word. asked. "The Nazis wanted a pure lucinatory international Jewish conspiracy. To them, the 'Jew' became an abstract symbol that had to be destroyed concretely by killing Jewish people all over the

The Acorn April 12, 1996

During the Holocaust, Bauer said, codes of morality were completely inverted. He related the story of Heinrich Himler, who spoke to a large group of SS officers in October 1943. "Himler told the assembled Nazis, 'Anyone here knows what it's like to face a ditch full of corpses, but throughout we have remained decent.' And what was his reason?" Bauer asked. "Himler said, 'We never took a shoelace from a Jew."

Bauer believed that Holocaust awareness is evolving slowly but surely. "By teaching and through mass media, people are learning the truth about the Holocaust," he said. "And now, academics are impacting politics. It's about time that politicians concerned with crucial issues listen to the voices of

"Why did World War II begin?" he lege in Trenton, New Jersey. He Another reason people turn to racist society, but they faced a hal-films on the topic of the Holocaust.

Health Services gains increased recognition

Erik Robert Slagle Executive Editor

Many people on campus are unaware that Drew's Health Service is making strides toward gaining national recognition and accreditation. Director of Health Services Kathleen Nottage recently shed some light on the department's

"We strive for a very high standard of care," Nottage said. "National accreditation is recognition of excellence on a national level."

The history of Nottage's inter-The American College Health Convention in Chicago which she attended in June of last year. She brought information on accreditation back from Chicago and presented it to Dean of Student Life Denise Alleyne and Vice President for Finance and Business Affairs Mike McKitish. "I earned their support," Nottage said.

Nottage explained that achieving accreditation is a 2-3 year process which involves "self-study and accreditation is a quality assurance refrigerators.

As an example of the type of rigorous work involved in achieving accreditation, Nottage cited the strict guidelines for logging chemicals used in the Health Services Offices, which receive as many as 7000 visits per year.

chemical right back to the manufacturer and ask them for the [Federal Drug and Administration] printout on that chemical," she said. "It's a very tedious process, and we've spent hours on it already."

Another example of an area Health Services is working to improve is documentation of allergy shots. Documentation from students' physicians was "very inconsistent," Nottage said. "Some adding that this type of student were very good, and some were poor. We decided that we would set the standards and send them to operations of Health Services. all their doctors to say this is how standard," Nottage continued. "This is one example of taking a topic and making it better. We're applying the same effort that has always gone on but now we're doing it in a formal way."

"Accreditation brings recognition from national insurance compaines," Nottage said. "It's recognizing that you have met a standard of excellence. It would put us in a very strong position for bargaining with insurance companies."

Recently Drew's Health Services became the first University service in the state to pass the fedest in accreditation can be traced to eral and state regulations that govern laboratories. "We were the first to be inspected," Nottage said, "and we passed with flying colors. We are now certified with the government that this laboratory meets the

"The state inspector went through every single thing we did," Laboratory Technical Consultant Carol Bock said.

Nottage pointed out numerous aspects of their on-site lab that were given special attention by a lot of work. We will look at every the inspector. These included single thing we do-every policy, seemingly minute details such as every procedure—and try to make the room temperature of the lab it better. Ninety percent of national and temperatures of the > ated, according to Nottage. "That's not an issue for us," Nottage said. "Everyone here is appropriately qualified for the job."

Nottage said Health Services plans on requesting an active student advisory board from the Stu-"We have to identify every single dent Government Association to work closely with Health Services. These students would not only offer student input, but relay information about the department back to the student body.

"If students are going to say something critical or write something critical on an evaluation, most of the time they just don't understand why things have to be done that way," Nottage said, board could clear up any misconceptions about the

One other project Health Services is undertaking is the new "Superbill," "It was weeks and weeks of work which will assist students in receivbecause we had to get the national ing insurance reimbursements.

"What we're trying to do is cre- "I would recommend all stuate a bill so that our patients can get dents carry student health insurreimbursed by their insurance com- ance," Nottage said. "It's cheap, panies for our certified laboratory just $125 a year. We have found services," Nottage said. They are nationally ... there are more turncurrently working on obtaining a downs than ever before and the few remaining national codes to definition of 'emergency' is beput on the bill. "We hope to have coming more strict. I would like to this done within two weeks," she propose that everybody take [the

SGA approves new cabinet appointees

David Cennimo

The first meeting of the Student newly elected administration took place Monday in Brothers' College 101. The unusual time and place were due to the urgent nature of the meeting. The cabinet needed approval in order to begin necessary business, such as the upcom-

The meeting was called to order by vice president junior Cathy Cerbo. Cerbo proceeded to nominate candidates for each position on the cabinet. The senators took pointed to the position of attorney general. Sophomore Lisa Cornacchia replaced senior John Moore as secretary, while sopho-duties of the administrator include more Rob Benacchio retained his seat as treasurer.

Sophomore Ryan Fraytic was Fraytic said he wanted to avoid the pitfalls experienced in some past

Freshman Lurana Brown was debat appointed to the recently created the only appointee confirmed fication of students.

Brown's position will actually be part of a constitutional referendum during the upcoming elec-

Three new senators were nominated to fill vacancies. Sophomore Class Senator and was confirmed each student by the registrar. by the Senate. Sophomore Renee Gestone will replace Cornacchia as McClintock in September. Voters will cast their Fraytic issued an elections up- graduation.

and class senators were placed at the University Center Desk Tuesday. He explained the timeline of Government Association under the events culminating with the election Tuesday, April 23.

Fraytic asked that the campaign reform proposal be amended to include a provision for publishing platforms in The Acorn. Specifically, if The Acorn is unable to publish candidates' platforms, the documents would then be distributed via e-mail. The addition was passed by the Senate.

Many constitutional changes are on a referendum for this election. The changes include a provision to the opportunity to question the appass all motions by a simple plupointees before approving all of rality. The only exceptions are them individually through a voice motions to close discussion and presidential appointment which Junior Marc Fungard was ap- would require a two-thirds major-

The new cabinet position of administrator is also spelled out. The monitoring all correspondence and complaints.

Restructuring of the minimum confirmed as elections chair. GPA requirement and elections will also take place.

> The restructuring of the elections statutes resulted in strenuous

The University is currently in a position of administrator. She was transition period regarding classi-

> This classification is important when considering all of the class officer and senator positions now being contested.

According to an e-mail distributed by Fraytic, the situation has been rectified. The election will be Casey O'Donnell was chosen to be run based on the class assigned to Candidates must run for whichever class they will be classified as Senator, while freshman Ruffian ballots based on what the Housing Tittman will replace Brown as a Office determines their year to be. This translates to expected year of

NYU's top-ranked

Faculty of Arts and Science offers over

300 undergraduate and graduate courses.

Pick any two and live in Greenwich Village

for as little as $100.

Session I: May 20-June 28

Session II: July r-August 9

Free NYU

Summer Bulletin

http://www.nyu.edu/summer

New York University is an affirmative

summer96-ad@nyu.edu

NYU ext. 998

New York University

Summer in the City

composite sketch of the Una- a space satellite to monitor the bomber circulated around the house. The FBI's ultimate goal was world. During this time, John Dou- to catch Kaczynski actually mailglas, a key agent aiding the inves- ing a bomb, but it was forced to tigation, developed the amazingly proceed immediately after CBS accurate Unabomber profile-a Newsthreatened to break the stakeman with an academic background out story. Kaczynski was captured a Harvard gradu-Analysis professor of math-family's Chicago home.

cated in the deaths of three people the Un (iversity)-A (airline) cially he was probably eight to 10 set up a massive stakeout utilizing confident they have their man, as years younger than the rest of us," night vision goggles, highly sensitively need to connect Kaczynski to a childhood acquaintance recalled tive eavesdropping equipment and only one bombing in Newsweek. "My feeling is that while the system attended very well to his intellectual needs, his emotional needs were neglected."

Kaczynski attended Harvard, graduating in 1962. He went on to receive a PhD in mathematics and was hired as an assistant professor at the University of California, Berkeley in 1967. His colleagues predicted he would have a long and productive career ahead of him in mathematics. However, much to their surprise, Kaczynski resigned in 1969, stating he was unsure of the direction of his life. He disappeared from the world to a remote cabin in Montana and began living as a hermit. He formed one social relationship with a neighbor and described himself to her as "a genius in a kid's body and sticking out like a sore thumb in his surroundings as a child."

After the attacks began, the FBI actively pursued thousands of leads that led nowhere. The famous 1994

Women in Black stage protest

Three women in black silently occupied the U.C. and the Commons Tuesday in protest of violence against women, homophobia and racial discrimination. The dresses were made by artist Dustin Spear.

Unabomber captivates nation

Steven A. DeLuca

Last Wednesday, federal agents in Montana detained a suspect in the 18-year-old Unabomber case. After avoiding capture for nearly two decades, Theodore Kaczynski, California. The FBI has monitored the beginning of this year. ematics, was arrested. His brother tipped off the FBI upon discovering writings re- printed the Unabomber's 35,000 other items used in explosives. sembling the Unabomber's in his

The Unabomber has been impliand the injuries of 23 others. His suspicions. While cleaning his fam- day, the most damaging evidence attacks began in 1978, when a bomb ily home, he found the necessary was found—two live bombs. exploded at Northwestern Univer- evidence. He reluctantly gave it to Justice Department officials sity. Over time, officials noticed a the FBI, asking them for a guaran- were eager to try Kaczynski in pattern of targets, specifically uni- tee not to seek the death penalty if either New Jersey or California, versities and airlines. This pattern Kaczynski is convicted. The FBI prompted the FBI to nickname him refused to make any assurances. states have the death penalty for Kaczynski had a relatively iso- Washington lawyer Anthony P. ated childhood in Illinois. His pri- Bisceglie. After contacting the FBI mary focus in school was academ- and starting its investigation of to determine the strategy for trying ics, particularly mathematics. As a Kaczynski, Bisceglie said, "This is Kaczynski and for avoiding a "turf child, he skipped two grades and either an historic moment or the battle" between states. won a scholarship to Harvard Unibeginning of a wild goose chase." emotional development was almost agents assembled in Montana, prenonexistent. "Emotionally and so- paring to make the capture. Agents Justice Department and FBI are with ties to Chicago and Northern after a brief struggle in his cabin.

Investigators then began the long ate and former Kaczynski since the suspect's and tedious task of gathering evibrother David contacted them at dence from the scene. Agents located jars full of chemicals, bomb When the New York Times diagrams, batteries, wiring and word manifesto, David Kaczynski Also, two typewriters were found thought it resembled his brother's and will be analyzed to find a link writings. He began searching for to the manifesto the Unabomber any hint of evidence to confirm his sent the New York Times. On Fri-

> where the fatalities occurred. Both The intermediary between terrorist-related killings. Represen-Kaczynski's family and the FBI is tatives from these states as well as Connecticut, Illinois, Massachusetts and Utah have been meeting

> > As of yesterday, Kaczynski was

The attack on the academy

Professor Ellen Messer-Davidow spoke Monday night as part of Women's History Month. Messer-Davidow, a professor of English and women's studies at the University of Minnesota, addressed "The Conservative Attack on the Academy" and how recent efforts have threatened aspects of higher education such as multiculturalism.

LEAD EDITORIAL

Communications at Drew

For many years, Drew has prided itself on its emphasis on communications. The University has appeared in numerous newspaper and magazine articles for its revolutionary computer initiative program, which allows students to access the Internet, talk with professors and find out about campus events from the comfort of their rooms.

Even now, AT&T is digging holes all over campus, installing a state-of-the-art fiber-optic network, and the Telecommunications Office just completed the major phases of an overhaul of the Campus Wide Information System.

In view of all the fuss being made over communications, one would think that administrative offices and academic departments would be communicating at maximum efficiency. Information should pass freely between offices, reducing, if not eliminating, bureaucratic red-tape.

Of course, anyone who has ever had to deal with the Business Office or the Office of Financial Aid knows that there are reels and reels of red tape to cut through. The offices in Tilghman House have built up quite a reputation for failing to transfer information between one another. Many students wonder why the offices, located just feet apart, have such difficulty communicating. For instance, until recently, students had to check with the Business Office before registration.

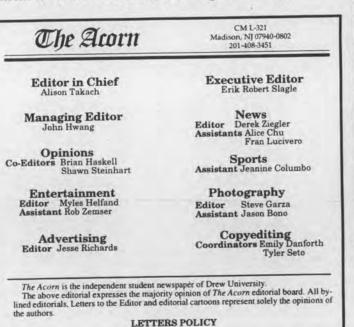

The problem is that Drew's offices operate on separate computer systems and must rely on hard-copy inter-office memoranda for information. This, of course, leads to major hassles, as evidenced by the problems experienced during Orientation Week To the Editor: last fall. The Co-chairs of the Orientation Committee were handed several conflicting lists of incoming students by different administrative offices, making it extremely difficult for the OC to keep track of the status of new students.

This kind of confusion is not limited to the administrative offices. Some academic departments have made registration and scheduling extremely difficult for students. For example, the Russian studies department scheduled two courses required for the major to meet on the same day at the same time. While this does not present problems for underclassmen, what about seniors who need those last two classes to graduate? This just adds to the many hassles of registration day. With the change to 4-4, certain classes needed to graduate are only offered once a year or every other year. It's annoying to find that scheduling then conflicts.

Then there is the issue of class times which are yet to be scheduled. This occurred in the computer science department with the CSCI7 class. The department has yet to hire an adjunct to teach the class, so no time has been set for the class. How are students supposed to schedule not only this class, but others as well? It's enough to give anyone a massive migraine.

As long as Drew is investing in an overhaul of its communications system, it should take the initiative to facilitate more efficient inter-office communication. The entire campus is connected by the CWIS. Why can't administrative offices be similarly connected?

The Office of the Registrar has done a great job of improving communications by having the financial records of students on their computers, eliminating the need to stop at the Business Office before registration. Other administrative offices should communicate just as well. Think of it. The Housing Office will know what the Financial Aid Office is doing, Admissions will have the same lists of incoming students as the Registrar and current students will have one less thing to stress over.

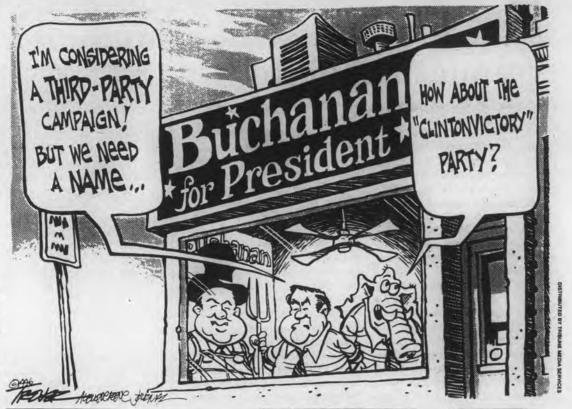

Letters to the Editor must be received by 5 p.m. the Tuesday preceding publication. Please include both a signed hard copy and a disk copy saved in WordPerfect 5.1 format. Under extreme circumstances, The Acorn will print letters anonymously, but, for legal reasons, the Co-Editors in Chief must know the identity of the author.

Letters should either be hand-delivered to The Acorn mailbox in the University Center or mailbox in the University Center or mailbox.

mailed to the above address.

The Acorn reserves the right to edit letters for length, clarity and/or libelous content. Letters withheld because of space constrictions will be printed in a following issue.

READER'S FORUM

SGA president praises lead editorial on passing of torch

I would like to take this opportunity to respond to the lead editorial in The Acorn of two issues ago, concerning the passing of the torch of SGA leadership. I must admit surprise to read what I took as positive reinforcement from last year's editors, and for that I thank them.

ment Association this college has, the useful purpose it sented, and greatly heartened by the fact that someone with a voice had thought enough about this institution to even greater heights. discover its failures as well as successes, and to comment responsibly on them. I commend the authors for their effort and insight, and would assert that many of the improvements they see as needed are priorities of my

In addition, I would like to take this opportunity to attempt to express what is truly my inexpressible gratitude to the outgoing Cabinet, most especially President Pacello. It is my firm belief that SGA has been greatly legitimized as an institution, and that a very large part of that accomplishment it was a pleasant surprise to read the headline and realize is a direct result of the tireless work of the past president and what the editorial was dedicated to. It was an even greater his Cabinet. I was tremendously honored to have served with them, and will never forget our combined efforts to serve our fellow students and this University. I will miss the service As I continued to read, my smile only became wider as they gave as well as the friendship of those who are graduat-I read a thoughtful analysis of the only Student Governing. What is more, I am fully confident that the College of Liberal Arts at Drew University is better prepared to move can serve and most importantly, the ways in which it can forward due to the work of these people. With Vice President be improved. I was impressed with the thoughts pre- Cerbo and our new Cabinet, I can only hope to continue this trend, and am honored to attempt to move the college forward

> Patrick S. Aylward SGA President

Greetings from Aylward, Cerbo

SGA Cabinet

desk of the new administraion under juniors Pat Aylward and Cathy Cerbo. We are very much looking for-Desk ward to servfor these positions.

the new curricular system of items prior to the date of ap-4-4 ends, it is the appropriate proval, they will be posted As all things must come to time to begin what will be an on the SGA office door until an end, this is the first SGA ongoing evaluation of the tran- that time. This, as well as all sition. In the coming week, other elections, will occur there will be a "town meeting" Tuesday, April 23 from 9 a.m. which all students are encour- to 6 p.m. in the University aged to attend to ask questions Center. Please take this reof faculty members and deans. sponsibility seriously and

It is also the time of year make your voice heard in this ing the entire when the student body is given election. student body over the course the great responsibility of se- We are truly looking forof the next year. To that end, lecting its representation for ward to a productive year of we already have several the coming year. Besides the meeting the needs of Drew projects under way for the normal elections of University students. As always, we can near future. The Senate has and class senators, there are only do that with your assisjust approved our Cabinet, two very special additions to tance and participation. which is already hard at work the election process this spring. Please feel free to call or in order to make this transi- We are pleased to report that speak personally with either tion as smooth as possible. there will be two class officers Aylward, Cerbo or any mem-Applications will be out elected from each class, filling ber of the Cabinet with your within days for the very im- a void in campus life that has input as we begin our terms portant positions of chairs for existed for years. In addition, in office. Also, your reprethe seven SGA Senate com- the Senate has voted to put sev- sentatives in the Senate are mittees. We encourage any- eral items of constitutional always there if there is any one to apply and interview change to the student body for matter you need addressed. approval through a referendum. Here's looking forward to a As in our first year under If you would like to read these bright future!

Madison, NJ 07940-0802 Fax: (201) 408-3878

Dates of Publication 1995-96: September 1, 15, 22, 29 October 6, 20, 27

November 3, 10, 17 December 1, 8 February 2, 9, 16, 23 March 1, 22, 29 April 12, 19, 26 May 3

The Acorn Drew University—Box 1321 Acorn adverstisement rates 1995-96:

Size	Off-campus businesses	On-campus offices, departments and organizations	Student organiza
2 col. x 3.75*	$33.00	$24.75	$16.50
3 col. x 3.75"	$49.50	$37.13	$24.75
2 col. x 7.5"	$66.00	$49.50	$33.00
3 col. x 5"	$66.00	$49.50	$33.00
5 col. x 3.75°	$82.50	$61.88	$41.25
	$99.00	$74.25	$49.50
3 col. x 7.5"	$132.00	$99.00	$66.00
3 col. x 10"	$165.00	$123.75	$82.50
1/2 Page Horizontal		$132.00	$88.00
4 col. x 10" Full Page	$176.00 $302.50	$247.50	$165.00

Prices are based on a $4.40 per column-inch rate. Allow 2 inches per column when making camera-ready copy. The deadline for ad requests is 5 p.m. on the Tuesday before the date of publication. Please call The Acom office at the above number if you have any questions.

Life after Buchanan

Buchanan's policies in retrospect

sit back and relax. Some people publicans have by and large it's the movie with Robin Wilactually took this guy seriously, and that was a little silly.

Going Postal

Some were actually scared he'd become President, and that is just a little humorous. But what was even stranger was that many of Pat Buchanan's policies were very liberal.

Now, I'm talking not about his views on several social issues (they were scary), but his economic views. Buchanan actually courted the labor unions and working class, traditionally Democratic constituencies, with stances they approved of.

While Buchanan may not be the smartest politician in the world, he was astute enough to see something. He reached out to groups that weren't being represented, and he gave them a voice. One of those groups was the fringe right, but the other is labor.

The labor force in America one worse than Buchanan.

scare is over, I think we can all one to represent them. The Re- who don't recognize the title, supported businesses, since unions tend to gravitate towards Democrats.

As the Democratic leader, Bill Clinton led his party towards freer trade and open borders. He was the man who made North American Free Trade liams portraying a gay man Agreement, a Republican pro- who owns a drag-queen night posal, his own and got it passed. club. It was hysterical. There I am usually not a fan of unions was more to this movie than and labor, but this is not a humor, though. One of the healthy political situation for many theme's underlying this our country. If labor does not movie was the relationship befind someone to espouse their tween parents and their chilviews, a demagogue like dren as they grow up. Buchanan very easily capture their attention.

labor will lose out. The pres- right-wing Senator who obvisures of trade and prospects of ously would not approve of prosperity from the rest of the his daughter getting married world is too great. The lower to the son of a gay couple. costs of non-union companies Well, the girl's parents were will eventually cause unions to going to come over to Willlose out also, at least in their iams' house for dinner. Obvipresent form. This will cause ously she made up a story about them to become even more who Val's parents were. The original problem. If their voice boyant motif, and he was livdoesn't get represented soon, ing with a very flamboyant we might one day face some- man. Val told him about the open office hour will be held

President Kean's next

Tuesday, April 16 at 4:30 p.m.

This weekend, I saw one of the funniest movies I've ever Now that the Pat Buchanan has no voice; it has almost no seen-The Birdcage. For those couple of days.

Robin Williams' 20-year-old

OPINIONS

son, Val, was about to get mar-Ultimately, trade unions and ried to a girl. Her father was a problem was, Williams' house And we come back to the was decorated in a very flamdinner and asked if the house husband be sent away for a lifestyles, or whatever. If

Val didn't have a problem with his father's lifestyle, nor did his fiancé, and Williams knew that. But that didn't mean it hurt him any less when his son John Hwang asked him to pretend to be someone else for a while. His pain was a complicated one, and it presented a phenomenon that seems to happen to just about every family in the nation. The child's idea of what the parents should be like is different from what the par-

> When we were children it was easy. Your parents were in terms of our outlooks on life. perfect, end of story. Somewhere along the line, we start to realize that this just isn't true. Frankly, I think this is even more traumatic than people make it out to be. In any case, this rude awakening causes a great deal of pain to everyone involved: the child and the parents. Usually, the parents get hurt last.

ents actually are.

The movie didn't deal with a child hating his parents. Val loved his father, that was apparent. For that matter, the movie didn't necessarily deal with a child being totally ashamed of his parents. A lot of times a kid won't want to go out with his or her parents because it would be embarrassing. This wasn't the case either in the movie. Val and Williams' character did a lot of things together.

The theme in the movie was a bit more subtle; it is also more frequent in families. Val coming to a head in this story.

Lessons learned from Birdcage you're fortunate, the differ-This clearly hurt Williams. ences are only minor; if you're not, the differences can cause a lot of problems. We don't have the luxury of choosing our parents. Considering how much time we spend with them in life, that's pretty unfortunate. But you have to make the best of it, at least for a while. I can tell you that I don't speak too much with my parents. There's no animosity between us. I love them both very much, and I'm very grateful for what they've done for me. But the fact remains that we have very little in common

We're not as close as a lot of other families, and like I said, we don't talk very much. Frankly, the silence gets pretty awkward at times when I go home. They're not perfect, and I'm certainly not either.

But we've managed to stay a family for nearly 20 years now, and there's something to be said for that. In fact, I'd have to say that spending this time away at college has brought us closer together than we have been in years. We still go on vacations together every once in a while, and we even eat dinner together now-something we have never done on a regular basis.

Birdcage wasn't the first movie I've seen to deal with this issue, but it was the first I've seen to portray it with such subtlety. That's what impressed me so much. It's easy to deal with extreme scenarios.

The real-life nuances aren't and his father were different, as easy. After all, if a child and these differences were hates his parents, that's just something that happens. If a Very few people are carbon child simply has nothing to talk copies of their parents. There about with his parents, that's a

Clinton fails to understand true nature of industry

ration for November, he continues to bash industry for ruining people's lives while congratulating himself for improving them. Typical of these sentiments was a speech early in his campaign at an electronics factory in California. Earlier that week, it was at a factory in Michigan.

At the California stop, the President first took credit for the economic numbers released new jobs were created in Janu- people off. ary alone.

off. "Some of them are doing it credit for creating 705,000 new better whether an employee is Finally, he never mentions and soon.

As Clinton starts campaigneeven when their profits are jobs in just one month. He really needed-Bill Clinton the effects of his regulations are insecure ... No one should lose a job for short-term con-> business which can allow him tire company. to make such a statement.

come for a reason. Sometimes, when an indus-

Clinton apparently feels that industry should not lay off anyone, and that jobs should be a lifetime guarantee. Well, the purpose of a business is not to be a lifetime job provider, it is to provide a good or service. When that good or service is no longer needed, or no longer needed in the numbers it once was, ing around America in prepa- going up so that a lot of people should realize that layoffs and Secretary of Labor Robert on people's employment. As used taxpayer money or were in which private industry has a If that happens, there will be buried in academia. They never hand. Clinton apparently feels that many more layoffs than just had to put their life savings at Perhaps the best tactic that

Reich in Washington, or the more land is turned over to enbusinessmen who run the firm? vironmentalists to save an owl siderations that are not neces- try takes on ventures that are It's rather interesting that or some trees, loggers inevitano longer profitable, it must neither Clinton nor Reich have bly lose their jobs. I have yet to It can only be the President's get rid of that section before it ever had to meet a payroll with hear the President bemoan flawed view of the purpose of a starts losing money for the en- their own money. They either those events, only the layoffs industry should not lay off any- those in the small division -it risk to start a business with no Dole can pick up is to start one, and that jobs should be a will be the whole company guarantee of success. Looking campaigning in front of "protected" forests and tell the nation that Clinton is right - far too many Americans have been laid off for unsubstantial reasons. Then he can move to an Environmental Protection Agency wetland which is wet only three days per year, and tell the nation that a factory at Clinton's Whitewater could have been built here, had

> So, in summary, in Clinton's view, the economy is booming

> Finally, though he supgoing to have to invent a policy.

earlier that day. He eagerly lifetime guarantee. Well, the which goes under. took credit for the new figures purpose of a business is not to When AT&T recently got out records, it becomes clear that Clinton's EPA not gotten inshowing that the economy has be a lifetime job provider, it is of the computer business and even in that venture, there was volved.

the business has to lay people off.

he took office. He also glee- When that good or service is outcry from Clinton types. Later in the speech, Clinton fully announced a drop in the no longer needed, or no longer AT&T was not very competi- decided to pick up some of because of his expert policy, unemployment rate from 5.8 to needed in the numbers it once tive in an already saturated Buchanan's theme of foreign but people are still suffering 5.5 percent and that 705,000 was, the business has to lay computer industry; and decided trade bashing. He bemoaned because of big business. These people are not perma- company suffered with it. panies are laying off workers, no one should be fired. Next, he began his standard nently unemployed. New busi- Many of those workers were some of them because they bashing of industry. After he nesses start every day and cre- hired by former competitors, have to compete in the global ported NAFTA, forcing indus-blames any bad news on some- dent can not at once both decry companies. for continuing to lay people of employment, and then take fire an employee? Who knows Agreement.

created 8.4 million jobs since to provide a good or service. laid people off, there was an never a risk for him.

to get out before the rest of the that, "many of our largest com- Though new jobs are created, revels in the good news, he ate new jobs daily. The Presi- others were brought into new economy." Maybe he should try to compete in a global have thought of that when he economy is a major cause of one else-namely, industry. In industry for laying people off In addition, who should de- campaigned for and signed layoffs. It sounds as if in order his speech, he bashed industry and leaving them without hope cide whether it is necessary to North American Free Trade to win in November, Clinton is

Instead of complaining, Americans with gripes must act

John Siminoff Staff Writer

As of April 6, 1996, the federal government of the United States has an outstanding debt of $5,141,037,802,397.48. This makes each citizen's share $19,431.74. With each passing day, the outstanding federal debt increases by $764,000,000.

People constantly talk about how terrible these numbers are (in the time it took me to write this article the debt increased roughly $30 million) and how awful it is that those scoundrels on Capitol Hill can spend all of our hard-earned money and get our nation into such terrible levels of debt. Yet, for all of the complaining and whining that everybody States signed an unpopular bill, legislators, the members of the is doing, this deficit-spending he received millions of com- NRA always send letters and munications from angry citiseems to still be going on unabated, even in the new Republican Congress. I think that I have figured reading this article have ever written a letter (either electronic or paper), called by tion from verbose complaints phone or sent a telegram to your to real action.

who wonder why the govern- believe.

you have. I know several National Rifle Association can lating that information to the the name of their representa- The three million members of represent you in government? this organization are very ac- Tell them you want it to stop.

With each passing day, the outstanding federal debt increases by $764,000,000

... People constantly talk about how terrible these numbers are (in the time it took me to write this article the debt increased roughly $30 million) and how

Vice President or the Presi- not study political science are a good thing? If you do, put the give even the smallest amounts constantly amazed by the paper down and walk away.

These are the same people tive in supporting what they If enough of your fellow citizens echo your call, perhaps of money to organizations that My guess is that not many of power that a group such as the Why not send a message re- support their viewpoints who people who don't even know have in the halls of Congress. various people you elected to ernment. Everybody else has a disproportionately small influence over the fate of their na-

The Acorn April 12, 1996

If you don't mind being a vague statistic on a Time Magazine/CNN poll, that's your business. After all, it's a free country, and I can't make you do anything.

Of course, politically active people can influence their representatives. Consequently, the laws that their representatives pass can certainly influence

So maybe, in a way, people who do give money to the various organizations similar to the NRA, those who take the five or 10 minutes a week to write letters to their representatives, events can make you do what they want.

If that doesn't convince you federal debt that increases at a vote, who repeatedly call or to take an interest, don't say I awful it is that those scoundrels on Capitol Hill can spend all of our hardearned money and get our nation into such terrible levels of debt. ment can continue to be so aloof from the people. Can you imag- Americans, who never really ine what would happen if, when express their distaste or apprethe President of the United ciation for legislation to the

Newt Gingrich has a popution, and yet few Americans show that the government can every few years. bother to transfer this frustra- be stopped.

Unlike the vast majority of money to help fight for what tives. they believe in.

While I am not arguing the

IN A LONELY ROOM, THE UNABOMBER WRITES HIS MANIFESTO...

All aspects of modern

AND NUANCE IN CYBERSPACE ...

something can be done.

I no longer wish to hear people whining in bars, at dinner tables or before classes unless they have already sent their feelings to their representa-I don't care whether MTV

"rocks the vote" or whether mo- and those who watch the 20 larity rating of less then 20 per- positive or negative points of tor voter bills make it easier minutes of TV news a day out why. How many people cent in many parts of the na- the NRA, the organization does for lazy people to vote once needed to keep up with current

It is those Americans who Does anybody think that a are involved past the initial representative, senator, the Many of my friends who do rate of $764,000,000 per day is mail those they voted for, who

ACCEDING TO HIS DEMANDS, THE MIGHTY PRESSES OF A NATIONAL NEWSPAPER FIRE UP TO PUBLISH ...

NETWORK NEWS AND CNN.

HACKERS PERUSE EVERY LINE

I think I've been here too tray and got themselves a tasty must be destroyed! long. This campus is starting breakfast beverage from the to warp my subconscious. I don't know if it's something in ers that were lying around ev-

In an editor's mind

It's scary, so hold my hand

Brian Haskell

fact that it snows in April, but something is strange here.

that my dreams have become e-mail instead. really, really strange. Just plain At that point I learned that I bizarre, in fact.

the entire theatre department some part of my brain had been was putting on a DUDS show involved in the massive AT&T in my house. They rehearsed in wiring of the campus to the shifts-at night, half of them new fiber-optic network, would be upstairs in the which I thought was pretty neat, kitchen, drilling holes in the except that for some reason, I counters and running around couldn't get Netscape to work on. like a giant collective headless in my head, and someone atchicken and generally keeping tempted to guess my brain's it leaves me looking reasonme awake all night.

(even though the number of End. So I ran to the driveway, fact, nothing like what I fear sive. people in my kitchen already hopped on the orange golf cart the real world will be. After seemed like half of the school). that was parked there, and took graduation, I'll be forced into In my dream I walked upstairs off for New Jersey, leaving the a world in which there is no to get a glass of orange juice, theatre people wailing after my little blinking red light on my and all the people in my kitchen quickly diminishing image—I desk, saying "somebody loves were packing up the Commons couldn't quite make out what you!" whenever I come home. trays that they had been eating they were saying, but it There will be no more uttertheir complimentary breakfast sounded like Nietzsche. early, so I took it all in stride. highway for miles, blowing actually have to pay for e-mail. it was too pricey. They walked back downstairs leaves into the road and piling There will be no cushy, with me, completely ignoring dirt on top of everything. The work-study jobs. No men go into Madison for tequila lemis the reality. The few bars me the whole time, stacking dirt came from these huge holes cleaning my yard. No more from Shoppers Discount Li- in Madison aren't enough. Evtrays two high on every step they were digging on the sides meals prepared for me (how- quor, ramen noodles from eryone in them is bitchy and from the kitchen to the base- of the road, with no apparent ever ambivalent we all are Edwards and tampons from balding.

giant daka beverage dispensthe water, or the food, or the erywhere. After I chased two lingering majors, embroiled in a heated discussion about Harold Pinter, out of my bedroom so I could take a nap, everyone decided that it would be more efficient to just throw their coats on top of me. Unable to sleep smothered under everyone's winter The reason I know this is coats, I decided to check my had gained the ability to check Last night I had a dream that e-mail in my head. Apparently, password twice.

But that was fine, be purpose.

other half were filing in and began seriously question- eat). Basically, no more being charged and can't even find a that there is no one to hear the through my cellar door, hang- ing my own sanity, as I'm sure pampered in almost every place to grab a beer to wallow cry. ing up their coats everywhere all you card-carrying Freud- concievable way. and punching this giant ians out there are doing as well. God, that's depressing. I This survey's findings are merchants of Madison to time-clock that was now hang- But I have reached some sort think I liked it better when the part reality, part ignorance. change the lack of opportuniing on the wall. Walking up the of conclusion about what this dream just meant I was nuts. When I asked senior Prerak ties or to tell the poverty stairs, each of the incoming dream could possibly mean. Let's just go with that inter- Zaveriif he liked Poor Herbies, stricken, unstimulated, thirsty theatre people took off a single One possibility is that I have pretation, okay?

some serious issues to work

about the meals, we don't have CYS.

benefits.

Staff Writer dents.

It seems that students only
The other piece of the prob-

While this was going on, the About this time I woke up to do anything but show up and Students are bored, over- for entertainment, and it seems in it all.

he said, "Where's Poor students to stick it.

ances of that often-heard Ninety-four percent of stu- have been done long ago. He off. I was rather shocked by all I couldn't help but notice that phrase, "What's XXX's phone dents surveyed said Madison said, "What, have they been these goings-ons, but it was there were people lining the number?" "4-1-1-1 XXX." I'll was lame, and 96 percent said sleepin' since this school was

The students are calling out

It is up to the residents and creased an estimated 100 to 120 battlefields of Europe.

Jack the Ripper threatens campus Alice Chu Assistant News Editor

European official

discusses the future

European Commission Civil Servant E. Jaedtke discusses the future of European politics with a roomful of Drew faculty and students. During the talk, his emphasis was on Germany and the European Union.

dressed by European Commission times wait-40 hours to cross the Civil Servant E. Jaedtke Wednes- borders from the EU into Eastern

Jaedtke spent the last 20 years of said governments have trouble his life swamped in Commission building roads fast enough to fa-policy and rhetoric at the Commis- cilitate travel. "The people are will-sion office in Berlin, Germany. He ing to work hard for the economy,"

Semester, discussing current po- of the changing face in Europe.

political realm the European Union that many Europeans have reached

"In history there is only a small window of time to take advantage of attracting new members. [With the European Union] ... it is possible to include

Jaedtke discussed the changing people? Jaedtke made the point

Beth Neuharth

Staff Writer

The future of Europe was ad-conjunction with the economics

liaison to students on the Brussels day night in Founder's Hall, in Europe.

currently serves as a government Jaedtke said.

faces. The EU is a political and a point of unrest.

Central and Eastern Europe.

economical agreement based on pean Coal and Steel Community, which centers on German and French borders, laid groundwork to create freer trade between coun-and countries to adopt this form of

The idea of a protected internal

There are currently 15 member

After World War II, the Euro-

the Masstricht Treaty.

nomic expertise arose.

tries which wish to join.

the EU.

"enlargening."

the EC," Jaedtke said.

tries in Europe.

percent between the EU and eastern Europe. According to Jaedtke,

40 kilometers of road and some-trucks carrying goods pack the last

"There are large chances to ex-

Indeed, people are at the center

But is there a common European losing their data," senior Allen of the hard drive or diskette. Walker, who works at the Aide Station, said. "One girl lost the copy of her honors thesis from her only from an attempt to boot the hard drive. Luckily for her, she had computer from an infected diskette. it on a backup disk."

- E. Jaedtke

originated in Bulgaria. It belongs hard drive." to a class of viruses known to cause severe damage to computer hard drives and diskettes.

"There are a lot of harmless vi- sequently used in the machine will basis."

ruses," senior Shane Mueller, an also be infected. operator at the Aide Station, said.

Computers which have been in-"But every few years something fected with the Ripper virus can be comes up that could be really harmdisinfected with a copy of F-PROT ful. The Ripper virus is one virus 2.22, which removes the virus from the master boot record. Disks are available at the Computer Aide According to an informational sheet issued by Data Fellows Ltd., Station.

While the incidence of the Ripwrote it specifically to cause seri- ration, the virus contains a destruc- per virus on the Drew campus is not yet alarming, operators at the sults ultimately in slow and some-Aide Station remain wary of the "The fact is, people have been times difficult-to-notice corruption potential threat it poses.

The sheet further stated that transmission of the virus results

"Booting up from an infected The Ripper virus, also known as disk is the key thing," Coen said. Jack the Ripper, is believed to have "That's when the virus affects the

Additionally, once the virus has

"The virus is something that could be a problem," Mueller said. "It's something that we can and Walker agreed. "We're definitely purging the campus of viruses, but it's been an uphill battle." he said. "People don't generally scan their disks, so viruses like the Ripper virus can spread rapidly. infected the hard drive of a com- The important thing to remember puter, all non-protected floppies sub- is to check all disks on a regular

Sex 101 speaker concludes series

Fran Lucivero Assistant News Editor

The Sex 101 series sponsored pand markets," Jaedtke said. He taught to men, as well as how and among men and women, he said. why the messages received through and women.

ing the Armor, discusses the issue succeed," Kaufman said. While local and regional cultural identities are the foundation of every European country, the EU is promoting ideas of a single national can separate is by sex organs. The women will find that they have be free and happy."

This, coupled with a single curidea of opposites stems from sorency and Intergovernmental Concially-created gender." ferences, leaves Europeans feel-The lecture focused on the idea market attracted other industries ing a loss of national identity. that, from the moment they are born, boys and girls are systemati-Jaedtke does not fear this uncally treated differently because of their sex organs.

which studied the correlation be-of babies, half boys and half girls

trade within Europe. As the ESC dercurrent of uneasiness in the grew, a need for political and eco- European populace as a threat. "I am happy when there is movement," he said. "With mocountries and several outside countries and several outside countr If there is no unrest, then there is behavior. The behavior of a group identity for all Europeans.

Many politicians have opinions danger.' regarding the EU which would
The danger Jaedtke spoke of was observed. However, in the excause it to improve. Some politi- was not in promotion of cruelties cians believe internal reform, such as those witnessed in Bosnia. dressed according to their correct called "deepening," is needed in Instead, he advocates that without sex. The observers found that the achange in people's thinking, there Others believe the EU should will be no progress toward a uniexpand its borders to include eager fied Europe.

While Jaedtke conceded that members through a process called Europeans feared a loss of iden-"The EU must concentrate its tity in unified Europe, he felt culsex and social behavior was found. efforts on deepening and enlarging tural differences could still be cel- From that study, Kaufman conebrated. He also believed that "In history there is only a small those differences could be recon- inherently the same. window of time to take advantage ciled by the nations within the of attracting new members. Now EU.

it is possible to include Central Jaedtke emphasized this point and Eastern Europe," he by focusing on the lasting peace tics of humans and divided them process which exists in Europe up into male and female. It creates Jaedtke proposed that expand- today.

ing the Union to include new pos- The EU has facilitated and sible members such as Poland and stabilized relationships us." Kaufman said. the Czech Republic would pro- between European countries. duce new markets which could Since the creation of the EU, foster economic growth within the member countries used the EU bargaining table to settle their to be powerful. "We have divided In the last four years trade in- differences, instead of the up the world into a hierarchy of Kaufman spoke of an invisible privilege belonging to men. That privilege is not fearing solitude. by the Office of Student Activities According to Kaufman, women concluded this week with a discus- feel unsafe and threatened when sion of masculinity. Michael they are alone, even in their own Kaufman spoke Tuesday night on homes. This fear develops from very high price for it," he said. the images of proper behavior the unequal distribution of power They wind up giving their children

According to Kaufman, there is these images need to be changed. enormous pressure on males to be Kaufman is a founding member of "real men". "We should support the White Ribbon Campaign which feminism and bring out equality works to eliminate violence against among the sexes to take this preswomen and holds training pro- sure off men. Instead, however, grams and workshops for both men men continue to go back to the trenches and try to do things to be Kaufman's latest book, Crack- more masculine, to perform, to about the misconceptions that men two choices: They can either fight and women hold about one an- the move toward equality every other. "The dividing line that dis- step of the way, or they can emtinguishes males from females is brace the movement and recognize much narrower than we think," he that men and women are different. said. "We cannot separate on the He feels there should be no inbasis of superficial aspects such as equality in the amount of power body hair, muscle mass, nurturing distributed between the sexes. capability, etc. The only way we "Through this choice, men and

Due to the power men possess, many things in common," he said. Kaufman concluded his speech by touching on the paradox of men's power. "The actual experiences of power for men are fleeting moments. The way power has been defined causes men to pay a and families up in order to perform the way society tells them to. Kaufman explained.

Kaufman offered some suggestions how men can change and help foster equality among the learn to listen to women and ask them about their experiences. Second, they should struggle to develop equal and sharing relationof men and masculinity. He spoke Kaufman believes that men have ships. Third, men should challenge other men to stop sexism and degradation toward women. Finally, Kaufman stated that men and women need to work together to find ways to cooperate and support power based on our biological sex." Michael Kaufman demonstrates the "manly" way to smoke a cigarette.

> Kaufman ended by saying, "Only by challenging the domination of men over women will men

But the one I like more, since Is Madison too dull?

ably sane, is that the dream Madison sucks, according to Herbies?" represents the realization of the a student survey conducted by Not everyone is as clueless would switch shifts with the realized I only had five min- bizarre little microcosm of a the University Relations Com- as Zaveri, but most students other half of the department utes to get to work at The Other world we live in. Which is, in mittee. It's boring and expendon't know about Madison's

To combat this, the Commit-Brain Farts tee will be publishing a list of establishments, with discounts and hours, in mid-April, just in Ali Graham time for the freshly taxed stu-

Zaveri thinks this should

How safe are we?

Dylan concert draws all types

From the protest song "Blowin" in the Wind" to the love song albums and several films and was Eric Kidd saw Dylan in concert "Corrina." Dylan impacted an en- inducted into the Songwriter's Hall last summer, while Dylan was tour-

during the radical period in the five years ago, he was honored by songwriter. '60s, he gained widespread pop the music industry when he acattention through the artists who cepted the Lifetime Achievement performed his work. He gained Award at the 1991 Grammy Dylan up close and personal. recognition, but he was typecast as Awards ceremony. a radical and soon switched musical direction in order to reestablish his sound. With the release of his from the '60s, there is no doubt 1965 album Bringing it All Back about the way he impacted music. Home, Dylan moved into the world His music spans genres from folk of rock 'n' roll and became as to blues to rock 'n' roll. He was a much a rock idol as he was a folk major figure during a decade of stage in his career are often consid- analysis of his music and his lyriered his best. He combined the cal themes is currently considered musical styles he developed so far, necessary to foster any understandand his music became more flowing. His lyres morphed from straight storybook into collections cited about Dylan's appearance.

Just as Dylan's career was speed- Board concert committee, coing ahead at 90 miles per hour, so chaired for this show by senior was his life. He released three al- Peter Pappalardo and junior Kristen bums in a year, and touring be- Lasker, was responsible for securcame a constant stress. That was ing and signing Dylan to perform. all halted, however, after a motorcycle accident in 1966.

eye for almost two years and did he played at the Woody Guthrie

Juliette Gaffney

his first political debate. It was in third grade when Mario Cuomo was running for his first gubernafending Cuomo to a girl in his first debate, and he has the scars

Staff Writer

From there his career continued to grow. Throughout his entire ca- pressed a strong feeling of anticireer, Dylan has released over 20 pation for tomorrow night. Junior of Fame as well as the Rock 'n' ing with the Grateful Dead. "He Though Dylan was widely noted Roll Hall of Fame. As recently as can rock," Kidd said, "He's a great

Though Dylan is currently conturmoil and became the virtual The albums produced during this voice of a generation. A close ing of the '60s.

The University Programming

The concert is nearly sold out with almost 5,000 tickets sold. He disappeared from the public Tickets were sold to students, alumni, faculty and administration tions. not perform again until 1968, when through the U.P.B. Off-campus guests were able to purchase them through TicketMaster.

In fact, Kidd's entire family is capitalizing on this chance to see Kidd's father noticed the publicity signs while on a visit and decided sidered something of a throwback to take up the offer. "My parents are coming," Kidd said.

Even students who are not fans of Dylan's music recognize his talent and are looking forward to the concert. "I never really listen to his music, "junior Renée Marino said. "I'm going to see what he's all about.

Longtime fans are anticipating seeing all they have loved about Dylan come to fruition tomorrow The University is extremely ex-night. "The thing that attracts most people are his lyrics," junior Brian Haskell said. "I'm very excited [to see him]. I've heard he's been very good in concert the past few years.

Whether you're a parent, a hippie, a student, a stoner or all four, the concert promises to deliver. Dylan has years of material which the gas tanks. will satisfy fans from three genera-

Doors open at 7 p.m. and the concert begins at 8 p.m. with open-

60 Minutes fixture speaks WALLACE, from page 1 dentiality agreement, all of his benbe punctured from behind and the efits were discontinued. Wallace recalled when he was gasoline would burn and roast the poor people who happened to be first introduced to the story. "He came to New York with his family, inside," Wallace explained. Wallace discovered that Ford had because he wanted to tell his story no intention of fixing the defect in of what went on behind the scenes. We got the interview. We put the "It would cost less to pay the piece together, not yet completing lawsuits than it would to fix the all the research to make sure what dangerous gas tanks," he said. This he was telling us was true and fact. statement was revealed by an in- CBS said, 'you can't broadcast it."

announce what they had found.

"To our amazement, they came back to sponsor us two weeks later very day," Wallace said. In this truth that would affect them and

off. It was performed so well,"

Evans said.

Professor of Anthropology Peggy Reeves Sanday of the University of Pennsylvania signs her latest book, A Woman Scorned, after her lecture on "Rape Free and Rape Prone Campuses" last Thursday

sider of Ford, Wallace said. Even Wallace explained that corpothough Ford paid approximately rate pressure was put on CBS by $5 million in advertising to CBS, the tobacco industry not to air the Wallace and his team could not piece. Wallace was told that CBS deny the opportunity to probe and could be sued for "tortious inter-The piece was produced and The threat was that CBS could be shown to all the top executives sued for as much as $15 billion. and the president of CBS. The CBS did not want to take that risk. show aired and Ford provided However, Wallace feels that the Wallace with an opportunity to tobacco industry would not have interview them to give their side.

The October broadcasting date was cancelled. However, the story and have been our sponsor to this was leaked and appeared in a news instance in 1978, CBS was not this happened, CBS allowed the hindered in telling the public a Weigand story to air.

"I would like to see lawyers produce case-law about tortious interference," Wallace said. "I cent case in which the tobacco would like to see such a lawsuit industry, specifically the Brown & that tests the sanctity ... of confi-Williams Tobacco Corporation in- dentiality agreements. To protect terfered with CBS's ability to trade secrets-fine. But to keep broadcast an interview. Microbi- information that bears directly on ologist Jeffrey Weigand was hired the health of Americans" is wrong, in his opinion.

Wallace also commented, "I have a hunch that sooner or later tobacco is going to be regulated as rette," Wallace said. After six an addictive drug."

was given compensation and full ings of his career and the broadpayment of all medical bills for his casting industry with a fitting comment. "Can you imagine a better Weigand was forced to sign an job than the job I have, to travel all agreement of confidentiality, and over the world and ask anything I when Weigand broke his confi- want?"

Senior seeks NY Assembly tical. Over this past summer, Clark neophyte by some in the local including his 19-year-old sister, surer, while his father concentrates on his arm to prove it. old and running for the 112th seat n the New York State Assembly. His political ambitions were always there, but now they are a reality. The 112th district of New York is in the northern region of the state, an area made up largely of union workers, farmers and families hit hard during the recesion. Clark said he wants to offer hope to these people, the people

e grew up around. "I have a lot of new ideas, a lot life into northern New York," Clark said. These proposals address three major issues: education, jobs and labor, all of which have suffered in the state in the past several years.

"Stimulating job growth is vital," he said. Once those jobs have been created, Clark wants to find a way to protect those workers and keep the jobs in New York. Many economic is-

and with no government experi- to new heights. ence. But this decision was not an ng about [running] for two years,"

When he first mentioned the going door to door. dea to his parents, they were skepdecision in December.

Now his family is behind him, class, a young Republican with a on working with the unions in the very sharp pencil. Clark lost that brought it up again, this time more press, but he counters that arguseriously, and made the definite ment with his experience as and his grandmother. His mother Chapter of the College Demotorial term. Clark remembers de- has agreed to be the campaign trea- crats of America his sophomore

Parents of high school friends and old teachers have voiced their Today, Jason Clark is 21 years support and pledged to help the campaign. That campaign is not

Senior Jason Clark is attempting to become the youngest member of the New York State Assembly. Clark, a Democrat, is seeking victory in the 112th district this fall.

sues are the center of Clark's one major hurdle for Clark to pass campaign, since the district he is before it is: graduating from Drew running for includes parts of two next month. For the last several of the five poorest counties in months Clark has been campaigning long distance. Since the offi-Even Clark will admit that, at cial declaration of his candidacy, first, people were ambivalent which he made at home over Spring about him running for the State Break, he has made several trips Assembly at such a young age home and has run his phone bill up

After May 18, however, Clark vernight one. "Thave been think- plans to put himself into his campaign full-time, attending summer parades and meeting people by

Clark has been called a political

Drew's Student Government Association President last year and as President of the New Jersey year. He has also been backed by the Norfolk Democratic Committee as he looks to gain momentum from more supporters.

On top of his age and experience, Clark has another foe, his likely opponent, incumbent Republican Assemblywoman Chloe Ann O'Neil. O'Neil's husband was killed in an automobile accident, and she won his seat in a special election and then in the regular election the following with the corporation to find a "safer Clark said that, despite her positions on education, the higher "When they hired him, they had education and the labor commitno real interest in a safer cigatees, he has seen no improvements for the constituency of the area. Clark also pointed out that months, Weigand was fired. He Wallace summed up his feelunlike many who work their way up in politics, he has no political debts. "I'm truly an outsider," he

While many seniors continue to look for jobs or get jobs far away from their major, Clark is looking to put his political science major to work. Several debates will be scheduled for the fall, closer to the election. This will give Clark a chance to meet with residents throughout the 112th district, a place Clark admits is confusing at

By October he will know every back road and will have met with hundreds of people, hoping to become one of the youngest elected officials in the country. State Assembly is a high step to start from but usually not an end-

For Clark, however, it is all about accomplishments. "I won't go anywhere until New York State is stabilized," he said.

Prank baffles Public Safety didit, Ireally wouldn't care," Evans PRANK, from page 1 "The total estimated expenses said for the removal were $3,000," according to Evans. "I really want to scare that occurred at Brothers' congratulate whoever pulled this College later on April Fool's Day. "At 3:36 p.m., while I was in a meeting, I got a voice message saying that there was a bomb in "Much to my chagrin, they (the Brothers' College. The Madison perpetrators) were able to avoid being detected by the Public Safety Police were called in, the building officer on duty that night. More was fully checked, and there was surprisingly, there have been no not a bomb present," Evans said.

"Unlike the Commons incident, leaks. Normally, rumors spread very quickly on this campus. But which was a good prank, this is a in this case, we have not heard serious matter, and I will get to the bottom of it. This is a high school "The prank was a very good activity, not meant at a college. We one. We never had anything be- are actively pursuing this case, and fore like this at Drew since I've when we find the offender, we will been here. Even if I find out who prosecute," he said.

DO NOT TIP OR ROCK THIS VENDING MACHINE

ENTERTAINMENT

TIPPING OR ROCKING MAY CAUSE SERIOUS INJURY OR DEATH

After two hours in labor, DUDS brings beautiful Baby to life

Myles Helfand

Baby, presented by Drew University Dramatic Society and the Theatre Arts Department

Theatre, having treated its au- pregnancy.

of life and companionship. production.

Eisenhower and Meredith Hutch- children.

Nick and Pam, played by juniors success.

Kate Zanzucchi

Within the current trend of "Body

Staff Writer

the daunting dilemmas sur- ture the young, idealistic couple problems with, the addition of to express their love for each other.

The first couple, Danny and now finally have time together af-

Lizzie, played by freshman Peter ter 20 years raising three other unexpected news that they are, in through the rigorous act of trying fact, expecting. The second couple, to conceive under slim chances of dience to nothing but pure en-

Each couple is presented with a new little boy or girl into their family picture.

tertainment.

Mihalchick and Daily expertly portray a troubled middle-aged couple in DUDS' Baby.

Babies are usually cute, and Kristin Daily, a middle aged gling to make the best deci-

the musical presented by between whether or not to wel- hower expresses his character's

DUDS, closes tonight in Bowne come the news of Arlene's fourth wild side in lively and often

Both the energy and the emo-

The musical focuses on three nancy are enthusiastically and conroles of two young lovers about couples in three different stages vincingly presented throughout the to face what is perhaps the big-

Danny and Lizzie perfectly cap-rounding their desires for, and who see the baby as one more way lost along the way. They at first whether to have their child, as they eson respectively, are unmarried Pam and Nick must struggle to Daily and Mihalchik are highly college students who receive the make their marriage survive convincing as middle-agers.

Komarin's Korn exhibit has Rhythm

tional strife that can surround preg- drawing the audience into their

Arlene and Alan are unsure about enjoy each other's company, but,

Justin Steeve and Katie Damiano, Each of the couples work to- loves his wife, but doesn't know equate, and definitely comic in are a happily married couple who gether extremely well. Eisenhower how to express it. Daily emotion- the small roles they served, would like nothing more than and Hutcheson have incredible ally and powerfully portrays her- there were times when it the opportunity to raise a child. energy and a crackling chemis- self as a woman who looks to her seemed the harmony was off Finally, there are Alan and try. Hutcheson's wide-eyed in- coming child as a way of forging a between not only the chorus Arlene, portrayed by sopho- nocence is touching and en- bond between her and her hus- and the rest of the cast, but mores Joe Mihalchick and dearing as a young girl strug- band, and as what may be the only within the chorus itself. means by which her marriage can > unfortunately, did not do justice to ful performance. Perhaps most orchestra, but the slower pieces the actors and scenes without seetended to drag and rehash subjects ing them. already broached. One of the The set, designed by Joy standouts of the show, however, is Tomasko, was simple and "Fatherhood Blues," performed in sufficient. A bed which moved the first act, where five men dis- around the stage served as the cuss the wacky ways in which im- character's bedrooms, and several pending fatherhood cause men to other scenes, such as a garden porch

> All the lead women turned in created in seconds thanks to the strong performances, from background chorus which doubled Johnson's soulful alto to as the running crew. Damiano's vibrant soprano to the intense emotion Daily infused in job, and senior director Kamela performed adequately, although Baby one of the most enjoyable occasionally noticeably strained to productions of the DUDS season.

The only problem was with Theater. Tickets cost $5 and the her passionate vocals. On the male side, Eisenhower tremely well. She did an excellent stole the show with his wide vocal job casting a group of talented acrange and all-around finesse. tors and singers to bring Sybille Steeve and Mihalchik both Pearson's book to life, making the chorus. While certainly ad- show begins at 8 p.m.

Considering the strikingly small orchestra Suzie Matthews was The music for this production, dealt, it delivered a rather powerthe musical's truly talented lead impressive was the fact that the pit voices. The more upbeat numbers orchestra was hidden from the stage worked best with the small and was able to keep in time with and fertility clinic, were easily

Musicals are quite a large-scale Hutzley pulled this one off ex-

Baby is closing tonight in Bowne

COURTESY DUDS

Eiesenhower and Hutcheson's glowing energy will leave you smiling.

shape and material. They are probably the most successful of the works included in the exhibit, having a lievable that the works are able to

University's Korn Gallery is exhib- Komarin refers to as "cakes," but "Blue Cakes (Towering)." show entitled The Rhythm of Desire lic imagery. This is further sup-

The Other End Friday - Grover Kemble and his jazz band make their triumphant return! Saturday - After the Dylan concert, come on down and listen to the energetic jazzy rock sound of You Were Spiraling! Sunday - Study Nite—the night you've spent all week salivating over! The Other End, your favorite little out-of the way café, is celebrating its 10th check out T.O.E.'s new WWW site! anniversary, and you can get involved in http://daniel.drew.edu/

the colebration | Call x3747 for more info. ~other end/from March 22 to April 20, with an ported by the title of the show, The opening reception tonight from 6 to Rhythm of Desire, which hardly seems related to cakes. The "cake" It would be difficult to miss the imagery is featured in most of the Art" in the art world, one might say over-riding visual theme of this paintings that are included in Gary Komarin takes the cake. Drew show, which features images that Komarin's show, especially his hilarious ways. Their perfor-

Steeve and Damiano also have chemistry, but it somehow gets appear to be a fun couple who

and more strained, the chemistry between the actors also seems to

Mihalchik presents his character in a slow, shy manner and convinces the audience that Alan truly mances flow beautifully, truly gest event in their lives.

Komarin works in a manner that is quite child-like, roughly drawing his images over a layering of paint and paper. The paintings become a record of his thought process, with scrawled writing and a repetition of imagery that progresses and mutates throughout the works.

The title piece of the exhibition box, which one must suppose is the presence to stand on their own. oven in this metaphor. Through the repetition of imagery and the writing on the canvas, the artist's thought pattern can be traced and the visual symbols deciphered.

The diversity of Komarin's artis-unity opposed to the seemingly fragtic abilities is well represented with mented two- dimensional works. a number of wall sculptures also The use of wax paper creates a transincluded in this exhibit. Suspended lucency within the sculptures that from the wall by thin wire, the sculp-accentuates their interior space, and tures fit well within the overall theme creates a sense of lightness in the Day Camp in Morris County of the show, evoking thoughts of a pieces. It thus becomes more becertain latex contraceptive.

This series of sculptures is en- hang on the wall with such thin titled "The Resurrection of John support.

Dreamer," a designation which Gary Komarin's exhibit The evocatively resonates with the vi- Rhythms of Desire will be on dissual impact of the sculptures. The play in the Korn Gallery until April exemplifies this, consisting of vi- sculptural pieces are dependant on 20. The gallery hours are Tuesday sual thoughts on the topic of desire. each other and the intriguing visual through Friday, 12:30 to 4 p.m. It is His "cake" imagery progresses down rhythms they create as a whole, for a show certainly worth checking toward an opening in a rectangular they do not have enough strength of out, due to the intriguing and suggestive forms of its featured works. The forms are visually engaging, Komarin will be at the opening rehowever, and are inventive in both ception from 6 to 8 p.m. tonight.

Camp Summer Jobs Hiring Now!

201-994-3897

Potpourri of films highlight Seuss' slate

Dr. Seuss' Rob Zemser

out there, and yet this column only addresses two or three per week. At the rate I'm going, I seriously life of John Merrick (a tragically doubt the possibility of reviewing afflicted man born into a largely every worthwhile, lesser-known ignorant society) have been pre-to start off with, I resorted to (and succeeds) to teach its audiand Gallipoli won. A curious title, you say, while allowing the word to roll off your tongue.

This Australian film, made in introduces viewers to a pair of grounds yet united by an ambition instead of entering races and atyouth-who is a little older and native to his seemingly meaningyet the two gradually bond during Monkey. a journey across a desert in search of the closest drafting site.

themes (beautifully illustrated by the futility of Australia's attempt World War. As the street savvy older friend, a fresh, pre-Mad Max Mel Gibson exudes malleable potential. Mark Lee-playing Gibson's young, spirited companion—is pivotal in his symbolism of innocence at risk.

Gallipoli bolstered Weir's career as an Australian director, but another American film released just ized director David Lynch. He, a shocking and beautiful film ringing. entitled The Elephant Man. While

Antonio's Line

The Birdcage

(call 377-2388 for show time information)

today, I suggest putting on hold all up chair each day to play a human current assignments, engagements, "monster," Lynch was busy setphone-calls and other distractions. ting the tone, atmosphere and So many thousands of movies exist feel of Victorian-era England. Together they created a hideously deformed, mentally and physically tortured man who staggers through life in a grainy black-and-white

The absence of color shouldn't dissuade you from considering this film; there is not a dull moment in it. Several interpretations of the film ever made before the end of sented in literature, theatre and film, this semester. So instead of three but none has accomplished as much this week, I'm serving up four as this film. Painfully eloquent (and compelling, thanks to the combined This week's specialties come in talents of Anthony Hopkins, Anne four different flavors, directors and Bancroft, Hurt and Sir John stories. Unsure about which film Gielgud), The Elephant Man strives eenie-meenie-miny-mo-ing them, ence about the unproductivity of tenuous hatred.

Jump ahead a decade and meet director David Russell, whose film debut featured a script likely to 1981 and directed by Peter Weir, shock even the most liberal of viewers. Admittedly offensive in youths clashing in social back- content, Russell's movie tells the story of a disturbed teenager with to fight in World War I. Gifted a sexual eye for his mother. Yes, I with Atalanta's swift feet, the can almost hear your gasps of disyounger, more innocent teenager belief and surprise at my support dreams of serving his country of a film that dares to portray such filth, but it was a good movie. tending college. Also graced with Aside from conveying Oedipal impressive foot speed, the other overtones, this flick also includes a sickeningly curious dog, a wiser-perceives war as an alter- psychotic father and some rebellious teenaged friends for less meandering with local friends. good measure. Russell deserves friendship given their distinctly guts it took to write the script, amusingly entitled Spanking the Finally, I recommend an early Martin Scorsese film starring Rob-Director Weir, recognized for ert DeNiro and Joe Pesci. Boxing his flawless manipulation of heavy fans ought to enjoy this violent biopic of the powerful, envious such films as Witness, Dead Poets Jake LaMotta. Shot in black and Society and Fearless), places the white, Raging Bull stampedes relationship between the boys in across the screen as it chronicles the foreground of a film depicting the life of this boxer whose jealous rages empower him in the ring against Turkey during the first and destroy him outside it. DeNiro put on some 40 pounds to portray LaMotta in his later years, while Pesci (playing LaMotta's brother) fleshes out his film persona, seemingly preparing for his perate hunt for the quick buck, explosive role a decade later in Goodfellas.

remind you of this article and the movies discussed in it. I implore a year earlier practically immortal- you to rent at least one of them. For those interested in Raging Bull, dial along with Oscar-nominated actor x4946 and rental will be absolutely John Hurt, collaborated to produce free! I expect off-the-hook

(Friday at 8 p.m. and Sunday at 3 p.m. in L.C. 28)

ENTERTAINMENT Kids in the Hall serve Brain Candy

Myles Helfand Entertainment Editor

Brain Candy, Rated R Starring the Kids in the Hall (David Foley, Bruce McCulloch, Kevin McDonald, Mark Mc-Kinney, Scott Thompson)

Directed by Kelly Makin Release Date Friday, April 12

just fell short.

blatancy—they tackle such the course of the film. issues as homosexuality, depression and even terminal illness with a straightforward-work and fluid scene transi- secretaries), you won't find tions), or at least pretty inter- them in this picture. In fact, esting, but some of their humor most of the characters in Brain Candy are newly created, with The Kids in the Hall seem to each of the Kids playing as try and shock you with their many as five characters during

The most popular recurring characters from the show are the two incompetent police ness that would no doubt turn officers, and they only have Newt Gingrich's hair from sil- cameos in this movie. What is

McKinney, Thompson and McCulloch bend genders and personalities with finesse in Brain Candy.

ing is too taboo to laugh at (no,

you can't take the liberality of the Kids in the Hall's humor, you shouldn't be going to see the

that's who they are, how they work and what they do.

A year following the addition of their widely-watched television series to the growing dustpile of deceased sketch comedy shows, the Kids in the Hall are back in action after are, whatever the cause, and nothspending months locked away in this is not a quote)." Basically, if They are unlikely candidates for a praise, if not admiration, for the a cabin up in Canada putting together Brain Candy, their first full-length motion picture.

Set in modern-day Toronto, Brain Candy revolves around Gleemonex, a revolutionary new oral medication which, when swallowed, locks onto a person's happiest memory and wrenches it back to life in a person's mind, effectively sweeping away all traces of melancholy and depression. The movie tells the tale of Gleemonex from production through distribution, as it affects the lives of all those involved: the scientists who discover it; the cold-hearted CEO who, in his dessends it into the market before it is properly tested; and the various Friday night boredom ought to people of different origins and backgrounds who take the pill and are forever changed by its

Obviously, there's a lot more to the plot than that. I mean, that's what summaries are all about, right? At this point, you're thinking this could be a downright serious movie about chronic depression and its possible cures,

And then you realize who made this film-the Kids in the Halland you know that Brain Candy will definitely be an entertaining

Brain Candy is truly vintage Kids in the Hall material. In essence, you could say they took a whole bunch of ideas for sketches, threw them into a hat, pulled out one and stretched it into a full-length movie.

I found the movie decidedly captivating (for its $7 million budget, an extremely low figure by today's movie-making standards, it's visually very alluring, with a very-white to black and back Scott Thompson's excuse for this? "Well, we've always been self-destructive creatively," he What the Kids in the Hall have always done, though, is deliver said, "so it kind of figures we'd use our least popular characters." the message, "We all are what we Can't really beat that logic, I guess. What it comes down to is that, if you were a fan of the show, you'll definitely enjoy Brain Candy. I wouldn't suggest paying too much to see movie. Their style of comedy is it-if the Madison Quad or entertaining, often funny and does Morristown Theater is offering sometimes border on tasteless. But it, it'd be worth the $4 or $5 to see-but if you have an hour and a half to kill and no more If you're looking for the than five bucks to spend, this more popular Kids in the Hall movie wouldn't be a bad choice characters, though (i.e., the for spending both your time "I'm crushing your head" man, and money on. It opens today the gay bartender or the office in theatres across the nation.

lot of beautifully done camera The Kids in the Hall's first feature film will definitely keep you entertained.

Going surfin' on the 'Net ... without any underwear

As a prospective behavioral science major, I thought it might be there!! nice for me to test my budding societal analysis capabilities by diving headfirst into the seamy underbelly of our vast society in an attempt to uncover the lowdown dirt on how certain groups and communities in our sprawling country act over the course of their daily lives. Before I do that, though, let me catch my breath, because I think that's the most goddamned convoluted sentence I've written in my entire life.

Myles Helfand

In this week's scintillating in-depth study, I will prove to you, the avid reader, that every single teenager in existence using an online service is basically a complete and total idiot (except me, of course, since it's the nature of all scientists to conveniently leave themselves out of their own stud-

No, I mean it. I got one of those America Online demo disks with 10 hours of free service on it. Since I was home for the extended Easter weekend, I decided to pop it in and see what America's fastest growing online service has to offer.

Incidentally, for those 10 free hours it offered quite a bit, but at the $2.95 per additional hour clip. it somehow lost its appeal as my free time began to expire. Funny how that works.

Anyway, I spent a lot of my time rummaging through the "People Connection" section, where there LAND are a couple hundred online tect the stupid.

Innocent Bystander: Hey ask me.]

[A standard call of greeting, I believe. It is normally ignored by

Training Bra: 13/fhere. IM me

[The standard response to an the others in the room, bringing me online mating call. Here, the feto the obvious conclusion that it is male responds with her age and ultimately a masochistic actresult- gender. While it may appear (as it ing in an inevitable torrent of did to me at first) that her age/sex self-deprecation, demotivation, declaration is followed by an affir-in this FREE software and enjoy 15 FREE hours of online Adventure! NEW: EASY INTERNET Access

 CAR-RT-SORT 8099

MYLES HELFAND CM BX 560 DREW BOX 802 MADISON, NJ 07940-0802

recapitulation and the loss of any mation of her strong belief in her clue what I'm talking about.]

A_HOLE

the above greeting.]

[This appears to be the mating "rooms," each with a couple dozen call of the America Online teenpeople chatting in them. Actually, ager. Also illustrating the wild Idon't think "chatting" is the right mood swing of the pubescent America Online teen, we see here actual proof to back that up.] It's a bit difficult to describe how Jockstrap flits from violent the behavior of these creatures in verbal abuse to gentle poetic rotheir natural habitat. The best I mance, as he croons his age, sex can do is offer a brief sampling of and the location of the dank, murky their typical conversation, with cave in which he dwells, spending my interpretation of what their up to 28 hours in a single day communication may actually hacking away diligently at a key-

If you get one of these in the mail ... run like hell, before they pull you in. own identity ("I'm me," a simpler ing male such as Bachelor One son with all my heart). version of Popeye's world-famous must have his wits about him, for Jockstrap: F_K YOU DAMN proverb, "I am what I am"), it is the one with the biggest ... ahem ... crazed teenager searches for his generally accepted that "IM" stands [The typical cordial response to for "Instant Message" (a private somewhere across this huge counth the place he or she is least likely to message sent from one person to try who he'll probably never meet, actually get it-I mean, phone the next), and "IM me" is actually Jockstrap: 13/M/CLEVE- a request for anyone who is interested in her to send a message hell anyway.] saying so. However, my own theory suggests that "IM me" really means "Impale me with your Masculinity," although I'll admit I have no salt hoe board. You may be wondering how ing to a statement made by Jock- tion is that, since he is already on keep your pants zipped. If you benames have been changed to pro- in a single day typing at his key- My best translation is: "Hey, Jock- other 115 requests, i.e. "If you're ing to have to kill you, and nobody board. Well, I don't know, so don't strap, it was a mistake that we 13 and a woman, press one, now. If really wants that.

buy a garden hoe with salt on it."]

Sunset: 17/F

articulate.]

[A lone female wandering through the wild America Online outback, warbling longingly for you at? some big cyberhunk of a man to come along and gallantly sweep elor One's truly manly put-down, her off her fingertips.]

Floozie: anyone wanna talk to

Bachelor One: talk to me sunset. potential mate!]

do you live? [Oh, my. Two potential mates? This could pose a serious problem, as competition is known to be extremely fierce among ragingly hormonal males on America Online. This male also appears to be a just happens to be driven solely, stalker-in-training, which may make him a perfect Drew University prospective a few years down with people he or she has never

Bachelor One: up your ass. [Ah, a sharp, quick-witted response by Bachelor One throws they claim to be, or both, or are Bachelor Two right back in his place! In this unknown and often dangerous cyberworld, a competinsult ... gets the prize: a girl living or her physical appeasement in but who doesn't care because lines are just too narrow—and so they're probably both ugly as all this cycle of lust and lack of ful-here? press 116.

[My guess is that this teen would be the equivalent of the automated dating answering service. Too lazy ChefBoyarduh: hey Jockstrap to actually go out on his own to we lost you on accident don't get find a cybermate, Blueballs is requesting all females ages 13 to 15 [I'll admit I had a bit of a prob- to type "116" if they desire to be lem interpreting this. To my best overwhelmed by his clearly overassumption, Boyarduh is respond- powering masculinity. My assump-

now ... If you're 57 in dog years and a mammal, press 96, now," and so on.l

Bachelor Two: Sunset where

[Seemingly undaunted by Bachmany would argue that Bachelor Two is repeating his request for Sunset to tell him where she lives. However, I believe this is an at-[The same, but slightly more tempt by one of these strange creatures to recite poetry with the intent of winning back the favor of his fair cybermaiden. Much like [Success! Sunset has found a Snow White's legendary couplet, "Mirror, mirror, on the wall," this is Bachelor Two's version, which, Bachelor Two: sunset where in long form, would probably read "Sunset, sunset, where you at / On the horizon so big and fat."]

> As you can see, the America Online teenager is a very complex and multifaceted individual who entirely and utterly by an intense, overwhelming desire to have sex met, probably never will meet and who probably are either the opposite gender of what they say they are or about 90 years older than three-year-old hermaphrodite transsexual cross-dressers or something (and I love my illegitimate

Ironically enough, the sexfillment goes on and on, 24 hours a day, seven days a week, on doz-Blueballs: any 13-15 fem's in ens upon dozens of chat rooms and chat boards across the coun-> information superhighway is truly a fascinating place, in which one can meet some wonderful people and carry on many intriguing con-

My suggestion is just that, while you're jogging by on the sidewalk, strap before I arrived in the room. 116, nobody has responded to his come one of them, I'm simply go-

ii, cranixerry This week's featured artist: Silly Ray Papyri "You Bring Rhythm to My Artificial Heart" DR. BLANK'S REVIEW THE BEST MCAT AND DAT PREPARATION AVAILABLE! Taught by Dr. Bette Blank 19 Sessions le sure to cutchthe rest of Silly Ray Papyrus' work 20 YEARS OF in his apcominganthology: The Englishman Who EXCELLENT RESULTS! Yent Up a Mountur and Come Down French 201-966-9054 DAT / OAT

Sports Scoreboard

SPORTS

Baseball

American League

	6.0	East		an
	W	L	Pct.	GB.
Baltimore	5	1	.833	-
Toronto	4	2	.667	1
Detroit	4	4	.500	2
Yankees	3	3	.500	2
Boston	2	5	.286	3.5
		Cart	1
		Centr
Milwaukee	3	3	.500	-
Minnesota	3	4	.429	.5
Cleveland	2	3	.400	.5
Chicago	2	5	.286	1.5
Kansas City	2	5	.286	1.5
		Wes	t
Texas	7	0	1.000	-
Seattle	4	3	.571	3
California	3	3	.500	3.5
Oakland	2	5	.286	5
Oakland	2	5	.200	,

National League

		East
	W	L	Pct	GB.
Montreal	5	2	.714	-
Philadelphia	3	3	.500	1.5
Atlanta	3	4	.429	2
Mets	3	4	.429	2
Florida	2	5	.286	3
		Centr	al
Chiacago	5	2	.714	-
Pittsburgh	4	2	.667	.5
Cincinnati	4	3	.571	1
St. Louis	3	4	.429	2
Houston	3	5	.375	2.5
		West
San Diego	5	1	.833	-
San Francisco	4	4	.500	2
Los Angeles	3	5	.375	3

Hockey

Eastern Conference

		Atlantic
-	235	W	L	T	Pts.
	x-Philadelphia	42	24	13	97
	x-Rangers	41	24	14	96
	Florida	40	30	9	89
	Washington	38	30	11	87
	New Jersey	36	31	12	84
	Tampa Bay	36	31	12	84
	Islanders	21	50	8	50
			Northea	st
	y-Pittsburgh	48	27	4	100
	Montreal	40	31	9	89
	Boston	38	30	11	87
	Hartford	33	37	9	75
	Buffalo	30	42	7	67
	Ottawa	17	57	5	39
			-	C

Western Conference

		Centra	al
y-Detroit	59	11	7	125
x-Chicago	39	16	13	91
St. Louis	32	24	15	79
Toronto	33	24	12	78
Winnipeg	35	29	6	76
Dallas	25	31	14	64
		Pacifi	c
y-Colorado	45	24	10	100
Calgary	33	36	11	77
Vancouver	31	35	15	77
Anaheim	33	38	8	74
Edmonton	30	42	8	68
Los Angeles	22	39	18	62
San Jose	20	53	7	47
y-clinched div	vision t	itle, x-cli	nched pla	yoffspo

Stats accurate as of April 10,1996

Basketball

Eastern Conference

	Atlantic
4.7	W	L	Pct.	GI
y-Orlando	55	20	.733	-
x-New York	45	31	.592	10.
Miami	37	38	.493	18.
Washington	36	39	.480	19.0
Boston	30	46	.395	25.
New Jersey	29	47	.382	26.
Philadelphia	16	60	.211	39.
		Centr	al
z-Chicago	66	9	.880	-
x-Indiana	47	29	.618	19.
Cleveland	43	32	.573	23.
Detroit	42	33	.560	24.
Atlanta	42	34	.553	24.
Charlotte	39	37	.513	27.
Milwaukee	23	52	.307	43.
Toronto	20	56	263	46.

Western Conference

		Midw	est
x-San Antonio	55	21	.724	-
x-Utah	51	25	.671	4.0
x-Houston	44	32	.579	11.0
Denver	33	43	.434	22.0
Minnesota	26	29	.342	19.0
Dallas	24	52	.316	31.0
Vancouver	12	63	.160	42.5
		Pacif	ic
y-Seattle	60	16	.789	2
x-L.A. Lakers	47	28	.627	12.5
Portland	40	36	.526	20.0
Phoenix	39	37	.513	21.0
Sacramento	35	40	.467	24.5
Golden State	33	43	.434	27.0
L.A. Clippers	28	48	.368	32.0
x-clinched pl	ayof	f spot, y-	clinched	divisi
Z-	won	conference	e title

Equestrian team competes in final show of the season Four members make it to the Regional competition at Centenary College

Erik Robert Slagle Executive Editor

The Drew equestrian team finished another successful season this week, concluding the year with a tie for third place finish in the region.

Four of the riders perto the Regional competition Senior co-captain Liz

Arbittier, junior Maren Henry, sophomore Sharon Recker and freshman Jen Pottle will all be competing Centenary College this weekend.

The top four finishers in regional competitions will advance to zonal competitions later on this spring. For Arbittier, who will be competing in intermediate flats at Centenary, this marks her second straight trip to regionals and third in four years. It also marks the beginning of the end of her college riding career.

"I would love to stay with the team," she said, noting that she might consider staying if she is living in the

Arbittier said she plans on going to veterinary school after a one-year hiatus from academia. "I'm taking a year off to ride full-time," she said. She added that she wants to try riding full-time to see how far she can advance beyond the college level. "I'm so sad that she's graduating," head coach Joan Greenberg said. "I wish I could formed well enough during bribe her professors into the regular season to advance making her stay an extra year. sentiments toward Greenberg. "Joan is incredible," she said.

"I couldn't say enough about Arbittier also took a moment in regional action at to thank Brian Young, the team trainer, for his efforts.

"Liz has pretty much held the team together," sophomore rider Sarah Bray said. "She's been the backbone of this team since I've been here." "It's going to be so sad to regionals] because she really deserves it." "[Recker]'s performance missed qualifying for the Jen Reed, as well as freshmen assistant coach, saying, "I this season was great," Henry added. "And [Pottle] has been

want to see her do well [at a winner straight through." This is Henry's second year in regional action. Last year career. Henry rode all the way to the national championships in Colorado.

Greenberg also noted that freshman Laura Cihocki

A Ranger rider competes in the team's last show of the regular season before the Regional competition regional competitions by a Julie Goldberg, Laura Shurman couldn't do it without her. single point. Senior Halona and Jennifer Wollenberg.

sarolli, sophomores Bray, and has garnered 11 blue ribbons also at the end of her riding serve as one of next year's captains. Alum Sandra Sayer, The team was rounded out who currently rides with the

"We have a lot of good recruits

Wolfe, the team treasurer, is Greenberg said Wollenberg will for next year," Greenberg said. "I may have a drop-dead terrific team [next season]."

Arbittier agreed. "They have a with junior Steve Scan- team as an alumni representative real solid base of a lot of good beginners," she said of next Shelly Norman, Danielle throughout her career. She cited year's team. "We're also looking Paganuzzi and co-captain Karen Sykes, the team's at a bunch of good prospectives.

John Therkelsen Staff Writer

women's lacrosse team leveled Manhattanville College 17 to 4.

Despite strong wind gusts, cold temperatures and occasional flurries, the Rangers were hot on their feet and improved their record to 2-4.

The onslaught started quickly with three Drew goals in the first Senior co-captain Carson Colmore slammed one into the net at just 1:05 into the game. Senior co-captain Meredith Doll scored again for the Rangers less than a minute later.

Freshman Sharon Sorg got in on the action with a goal, followed by senior Emma Faravelli and another score from Doll.

Faravelli and Doll scored again in order before a time out was

On a Drew offensive play, junior Nancy Tran fell to the ground after hurting her knee. The referee let play go on until Tran started banging her fist on the turf. Her gasps for breath were audible from the stands. On Thursday she was on crutches. "Nothing's broken, but the doctor said it might be cartilage or MCL [medial collateral ligament] damage," she said. Tran is scheduled for an MRI Tuesday, but she will not know whether she can finish the season until the test results are in.

Despite the setback, the Rang-

Junior Shayna Cohen scored a blis- team. She likes give-and-go's, tering overhand shot during a working together and assists. She Wednesday, the Ranger six-on-six with an assist from senior thinks scoring off plays is the best > Afterwards Sorg scored, and then she assisted freshman Kate Connolly in a score at 16:59.

At 13:18. Manhattanville had their confusion in front of the Drew net, making the score 10-1.

The Rangers were not worried, and Doll showed composure in her assist to Cohen for the next goal.

The co-captain bided her time twenty yards out while a Manhattanville defender kept her distance kept the visitors away from the and tentatively waved a stick in Drew goal most of the time. At Doll's face. The opening came, and the pass to Cohen was quick.

Manhattanville made another run at the Drew net, and sophomore goalie Tara Dunne saved a fast, waist-high shot that came from just outside the crease.

Doll scored herself with 3:21 left in the half. Freshman Alicia Lowe slammed one more into the net for around in front of the Ranger net, Drew to make the score an ominous but the Drew team definitely left 13-1 at the half.

Freshman Andrea Hanley replaced Dunne in goal and let a shot from Manhattanville slip through.

She held her own despite the fact that the Rangers had relaxed in light of the more than ten-point gap in the

"She told us to run plays, and she team."

ers did not lose their momentum. didn't wast us to destroy the other things you can do."

Garrett scored at 23:02 after a field-long footrace to the Manhattanville goal.

The visitors scored at 19:10, and first goal of the game during some Ranger freshman Kate Chapman slammed one into the net at 8:40.

The pace of the game had slowed, but Manhattanville suffered from the same problems throughout the

Despite a few hot players, a lack of passing and competitive spirit 6:47 Manhattanville managed their last goal of the game.

From there on it was all freshman Eliza Thorne, who ran from defense to score at 4:45. About a minute later she scored the last goal of the

The buzzer sounded with Manhattanville players muddling the visitors shell-shocked with a final score of 17-4.

Tran summed up her thoughts on the game after seeing the second half from the bench. "I think we're doing great for a team with mostly first-year players," she said. "It's a bright future. We have the poten-Faravelli said Coach Karen tial, and we have the skills."

Brower urged the Rangers not to Faravelli agreed: "I definitely abuse Manhatanville team by rack- think it's a growing year for us. I ing up huge scores. "Karen was a feel very hopeful; the younger playvery selfless coach," Faravelli said. ers are really committed to the record remains .500

Won Choi Staff Writer

The men's tennis team was unfortunately disappointed this week in their games against Rutgers University-Newark and Vassar College after going on an impressive three game winning streak. This brings their record back to .500 with 4 wins and 4 losses. In both games, the team had factors that were detrimental to their overall performance.

In the Rutgers game, senior co-captain Alan Dekeukelaere was unable to attend. The Vassar game took place on an indoor court, on a particularly slick surface which the Vassar coach admitted did make the ball move

First singles player junior Andy Yenawin battled valiantly in his matches against both Rutgers and Against Rutgers he lost his first set 4-6, came back with a 6-3 victory in the second set and lost his last set 6-3. He just barely lost against Vassar both sets 7-5 and "I was playing really well. I made a few unforced errors that cost me the match. However, I think that team played very well overall as well," Yenawin said. Senior co-captain Kevin Regan also fought furiously at Rutgers-

Dekeukelaere gave an impressive display of skill against Vassar. He pounded a 7-5 victory in one other sets 6-7 and 6-3. Senior Joe Tran and freshman Anthony Stout were able to bring home a victory in their doubles match against Rutgers.

The Acorn April 12, 1996

set but fell just short in the two

They were able to win 8-6 against their formerly undefeated Rutgers opponents. "It was pretty cool breaking their undefeated streak," Stout said. "Both teams were very high caliber teams. It was very close. Andy [Yenawin] is having a great season and Alan[Dekeukelaere]is displaying great leadership qualities for the team,"assistant coach Tracy Zawicki said.

The Rangers will be facing Wilkes College April 13, which will be a Middle Atlantic Conference-Freedom League

They have proven dominant over Wilkes with a 5-0 victory last year and a crushing 9-0 win the year

With the increasing talent the team is displaying this year, the MAC-Freedom League champion-

Second singles player sophomore Sebastian Engel said, "I feel very confident of the team and feel that I am playing better as well. I think that if we play hard, we have Newark. He was marginally a chance to win the MAC defeated in the first set 7-5, and Championship." then he crushed his opponent 6-4,

Men's lax crushes Stevens; record improves to 6-4

SPORTS

Sarah Wolpert Staff Writer

The Rangers put away Stevens Technical College 22-11 on Wednesday night.

After a slow start, giving up the first goal at 14:19, Drew went on to score five goals in the first Senior co-captain Chris Blewett started the scoring with an open shot in front of the net off a pass from junior Andy Juhlin.

The next two goals were tallied by sophomore Michael Banks. Freshman Jason Allocco assisted Banks off a set play started by a goal off a pass from junior Dan

The last goal of the quarter was skillfully put away by junior A.J. Zenkert while pulling a spin move on his defender. He got the goal led by senior co-captains Charles scoring in the second quarter off a first half. pass from behind the net by

Off an assist by Zenkert, Leidl beat his defender and put the ball in the back of the net.

Allocco scored a low shot from behind the net pass by Blewett. Juhlin chalked up three excellent goals at the end of the half. The goal that came at 3:38 started with stellar defense by freshman Dan Arnstein on the Stevens goalie. Arnstein forced the turnover pass that Leidl snagged. Leidl passed the ball up to Juhlin who drove in the shot.

Another Juhlin goal came with Sophomore Tom Mulry added 31 seconds left in the half when the goalie dropped the ball, and Juhlin was there to pick it up and knock it into the side of the net.

Junior goalie Greg Colonna, along with an excellent defense Clinton and Matt Curtis, kept

Senior Don Cabana started the Stevens to only four goals in the Drew went into the second half up 12-4. It went much like the first, with the Rangers scoring early and

The scoring kicked off with a wrap-around shot by sophomore Chris Avetta at 12:45 into the half.

Avetta, just in after a penalty, passed off to Juhlin for his fourth goal of the game. Juhlin got his fifth and final goal of the game at 10:38 in the third on a nice scoop shot. Banks chucked in two more goals, bringing his count to six for the game. Blewett assisted on one on a faceoff win by Zenkert.

Zenkert got the hat trick with two more goals off assists by Leidl. The first was a low bounce shot past the goalie and the other was a great combo off the face-off.

goals for the Rangers, giving him in the second half and came up four in the game. He was assisted with several saves. by sophomore Phil Kim, Allocco

Rangers' offense combined for 22 impresive goals to gain a the win.

This brought the count to 22 goals for the Rangers. Freshman Cabana scored the last three goalie Mark Grilo was challenged Stevens 11.

The Rangers slowed down a bit King's Point.

in the fourth quarter but Stevens was too far behind to make a comeback. The final score was Drew 22,

The next home game for the Rangers is Wednesday versus

Yanks' home opener: A personal account of the day

Erik Robert Slagle Executive Editor

There's something very wrong about a day at Yankee Stadium when you're buried under 15 inches of clothing and still shivering, Santa Claus is running through the stands, the organist is playing "Let it Snow" and you're waiting for Jeffrey Lange to pop up somewhere and peg the home plate ump with his infamous knuckle curve.

Add in a dancing grounds crew, a few upper deck fistfights and the rowdiest Stadium crowd I've ever had the pleasure of being a part of, and you've got Opening Day '96 at the Stadium. This was one to tell the grandkids about.

Through the generosity of a friend and his father (thanks Tony!), junior Matt Verbarg and I scored free tickets to see the Yanks play the Kansas City Royals Tuesday afternoon for their home opener.

It was actually part of a very nice package that included two tickets to the Homecoming Dinner with George Steinbrenner and the '96 Yankees team the following night (which I'll get to in another story).

All weekend long they'd been been predicting pretty sloppy conditions for Tuesday: freezing cold, rainy, mixing with wet snow. But as far as Matt and I were concerned, this was Opening Day: they could predict a monsoon coming off the Hudson River and we'd still be

Thanks to the usual Stadium backup on the Major Deegan and having to park an ungodly distance from the Stadium (I hereby vow to beat the next person I hear complain about not enough parking on this campus), we showed up just in time for the top of the fourth inning.

The Yanks were on top 1-0 (yes, amidst everything else there was even a game being played). We were fortunate enough to have box seats right behind home plate, so we had the luxury of being covered (for the most part). The snow was already coming down pretty steadily by this point, and Matt and I began to wonder if snow delay and eventual refrained.

on. The umps showed no signs of rakes and began smoothing out wanting to call the game off, not the infield dirt. Suddenly the even the schmuck behind the plate chorus of the song arrived, and who umped the entire game in the crew dropped their rakes and short sleeves. KC tied the game that inning, thing. It will probably be the only bringing Santa Claus to his feet in time you'll ever see a grounds an attempt to spark the crowd and crew get a standing ovation for rally the Yanks' offense. Santa's anything. antics paid off in the bottom of the next inning, when Paul O'Neill came through with a two-run, nouncement was made that the bases-loaded single and Jimmy Leyritz followed with an RBI of the sixth inning rolled around, I'd been befriended by the drunkard the Mariners. sitting next to me who, as it turns out, once worked in my home- M's were the only way to go.

Eddie Layton (the Yanks' organist) played the Cavalry Call. You know, the "Charge!" thing

something he could talk at me seven-game playoff loss to Ken about. "Man," he said at one point, Griffey, Jr. and Co. So two free "I was up in the upper deck before, tickets had just garnered us two and if you think the weather down more free tickets. Pretty cool. here is bad, up there it's 10 times

You mean way up on the top of the stadium where the slightest breeze kicks around enough to blow off your eyebrows and there no protection from the elements? You're pulling my leg.

Eddie Layton played "Jingle

The sixth inning passed without incident. Just more snow. The PA system filled the arena with "We Will Rock You." Bob Wickman nearly blew it for the Bombers in the seventh, when he came on to relieve Andy Pettite with the bases full and one out and promptly let in two runs. Steve Howe then got the call and shut KC down as the Stadium headed to the seventh inning stretch with the Yanks on

And the snow kept coming. As we all got up to stretch, "YMCA" began blaring across the PA system. Some of the fans were dancing (not the The Acorn dance, mind you) and I could tell Matt was just dying to get up and shake his bootie right along with them. we'd arrived just in time for the Luckily for all around us, he they just say?" with a blast of The grounds crew came onto Remarkably, the teams played the field, armed with chain-link did the YMCA-over-the-head

> blizzard conditions throughout Just before play resumed in the bottom of the seventh, an an-Yankees would like to thank all their loyal fans for showing up in such awful conditions to support

To show their gratitude, all fans in attendance were being invited to trade in their ticket stub for a The holiday spirit quickly spread complimentary ticket to an through the crowd, and by the time upcoming home game against either the Twins, the White Sox or

Seemed to Matt and me like the since the Yankees have a huge Boy, was I happy he'd found score to settle following last year's

> The guy in front of Matt and me and nab two right behind the turned to us and asked, "What'd Yanks' dugout. Sure, it was explained to him about exchanging the stub, to which he compared to the lure of snaring a said. "What the #*$@ they do that for?" Shut up and give us your ticket stub, buddy. By that point the winds had brought the snow to seemingly

Even under the upper deck, Matt and I were getting soaked. Eddie Layton played "Let it

The Yanks blew the game wide open in their frame of the seventh, thanks largely to a bases-loaded hit by Mariano Duncan right after he called time to wipe the snow away from his eyes. The guy next to me was so excited he starting offering his extra beers to everyone around

Now we headed to the top of the eighth. Most of the people in the very front rows had gotten tired of the snow and had abandoned their seats.

It didn't take Matt and me long to move down about thirty rows freezing, and we were getting stale beer on his breath. We soaked, but a little pneumonia among friends is nothing when

We sat down on the nice little cushioned chairs you get with club box seats and caught a whiff of something funny. Someone down here was blazing a hootie. We moved a few aisles over.

Howe pitched the stadium through the eighth inning, and by the time John Wetteland came on to pitch the top of the ninth, Matt and I were drenched. And loving every minute of it.

Wetteland fired his way through the trio of KC batters that he faced without a problem. The final score for 1996 Opening Day at the Stadium: Yankees 7, Royals 3.

As I mentioned earlier, this package also included two tickets to the Yankees' Homecoming Dinner held Wednesday night in the New York Hilton with George Steinbrenner and his crew.

But I'm afraid my space is rapidly coming to a halt, so the story of our evening with the Yankees and about 600 of their closest friends will have to wait 'till next week. See you next week,

Upcoming Ranger home games: Monday, April 15

Baseball vs. Dominican at 3:30 p.m. Softball double-header vs. Moravian at 3 p.m. Men's Tennis vs. SUNY-Old Westbury at 4 p.m.

Tuesday, April 16

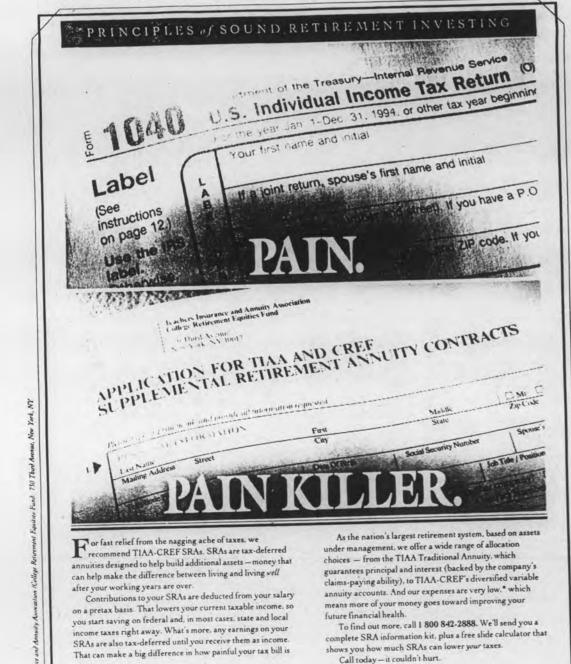

Baseball vs. Caldwell at 3:30p.m.

Wednesday, April 17

Baseball vs. NJIT at 3:30p.m. Men's Lacrosse vs. King's Point at 7:30 p.m.

Thursday, April 18

Softball double-header vs. Wilkes at 3 p.m.

Standard of Prov. Insurance Rating Analysis. 1995; Lipper Analysical Services. Inc. Laptor Director: Analytical Data. 1995 (Quarterly). cordificates are distributed by TIAA-CREF Individual and Institutional Services. Inc. For more complete information, including charges persons, call 1 800-842-2753, ext. 5509, for a current CREF prospectus. Read the prospectus carefully before you since or send money.

Ensuring the future for those who shape it."

Men's lax thrashes CCNY 21-1

Sarah Wolpert Staff Writer

The men's lacrosse team pummeled County College of New York 21-1 on Monday night. A host of Drew players had an opportunity to contrib-

The Rangers started out quickly by winning the first faceoff.

The first goal was scored by junior A.J. Zenkert at 14:08, assisted by junior Andy Juhlin.

Junior goalie Greg Colonna made his first save at 7:58. He went on to tally five saves in the first half.

Colonna allowed his only goal of the game with 2:02 left in the first half.

Juhlin scored three times in the first half and assisted twice. The last goal came with 30 seconds left in the half, off an assist from freshman Jason Allocco.

The shot went over the goalie's head after they beat all of the defenders.

Allocco marked up two goals along with his assist in the first half.

His goal that came at 5:21 in the second quarter was off of an excellent passing combination from Zenkert and Juhlin.

Senior Don Cabana roped a high shot into the back of the net at 10:22 in the second quarter off of the assist by Juhlin.

Sophomore Michael Banks scored at 7:48 in the second quarter after stealing the ball at midfield.

Senior co-captain Chris Blewett added his first goal with a little less than three minutes left in the first half from an assist by Banks.

The Rangers went into the half winning 9-1.

The Rangers started the second half much like the first, with junior Dan Leidl scoring at 14:03 off an assist from Leidl went on to score two more goals in the quarter.

His second goal came off an assist from sophomore Dan Morrison.

Leidl drove the third goal past the goalie off a pass behind the net from sophomore Chris Avetta.

Blewett scored his second goal at 11:15 in the third quarter after freshman goalie Mark Grilo cleared the ball to Banks, who earned the assist.

Juhlin tallied his fourth and final goal unassisted in the third quarter off a clear by Grilo made his first save of the game with a little under five minutes left in the third quarter.

Sophomore Tom Mulry started the scoring in the fourth quarter with a goal off the rebound of Juhlin's shot.

Morrison netted two goals to go along with his three assists in the second half. Banks and Allocco fed Morrison's goals.

Avetta slotted his first goal of the game at 8:40 in the fourth quarter, adding to two previous assists in the first half. He was assisted by Morrison.

Sophomore Phil Kim scored an unassisted goal by knocking in a loose ball in front of the net.

Allocco added two more goals to bring his count to four and garnared his second assist for the game.

Allocco was assisted by Morrison and Cabana on his last two goals

The Rangers worked well together, with many different players getting a chance to show their skills.

The defense held off the offensive attempts of CCNY allowing the Ranger offense to flourish.

The impressive win against CCNY brought the Rangers season record to 5-4.

CCNY was no match for the Rangers' strong offense and impresive defensive play Monday.

Baseball team gets solid win against Marywood

Jeanine Columbo Assistant Sports Editor

On Wednesday, the baseball team traveled to Marywood University.

The Rangers had an impressive top half of the first inning, scoring six runs.

The first run came off a double by freshman Rich Miller. He drove home sophomore Joe Leonard who reached base on an error to lead off the inning.

With Miller on second, sophomore Eric Aaronian doubled, sending home the second Ranger run.

Then, senior co-captain Dave Yorke and senior Dan Pierce each doubled, sending home two more Ranger runs.

Junior co-captain Jason Schrager hit a sacrifice fly with one out, sending home the final two Ranger runs of the inning.

Marywood scored two runs in the bottom of the first inning, bringing the score to 6-2 in favor of the Rangers.

The Rangers added another run to their lead in the top of the third inning off three consecutive singles by senior Josh

Rundle, Schrager and freshman Steve Mackinnon.

During the top of the fourth Pierce doubled home Aaronian who had singled earlier in the inning increasing the Ranger lead to 8-4 at the end of four innings.

Freshman John Cevallos doubled, sending home Yorke and Pierce for two more Ranger runs in the top of the sixth.

Heading into the ninth inning, the Rangers were leading by a score of 10-5. With two outs in the ninth the Rangers scored seven more runs off RBI singles by Aaronian, freshman student Nick Lombardi and Pierce.

The end of nine innings saw the Rangers victorious by a final score of 17-6, with the win going to starting pitcher sophomore Derek Newsom. Yorke got the save for pitching the final three innings.

Prior to their win over Marywood, the Rangers played host to the team from Trenton State College Monday afternoon.

Trenton State took an early 3-0 lead after two innings. Drew scored one run in the bottom of the forth when

The Rangers came within one of Trenton State during the seventh inning, before a Trenton State rally.

Aaronian was driven home by freshman James Fiorentino.

The Rangers came within one run of tying it up when they scored again during the bottom of the seventh when junior Joe Latini sent home Fiorentino bringing the score to 3-2.

Trenton State scored three runs in both the eighth and ninth innings securing a 9-2 victory.

The week ended with the Ranger record standing at 6-15. The Rangers hope to improve upon that mark next week when they take on Middle Atlantic Conference rival Wilkes University in an afternoon double-header Saturday. The next home game is Monday afternoon against Dominican University.